RAIL LAYOFFS DUE; TRUMAN ACTS

Some Carriers To Shut Down If Men Strike

Perishable Freight Embargoes Declared

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—Many railroads began serving their workers with layoff notices today, in preparation for Tuesday's scheduled strike. Many others declared embargoes on perishable freight. Some planned to continue operating.

The actions indicated that any strike would almost completely paralyze the nation's vast rail system. The strike call provides for operation only of troop, milk and hospital trains.

However, at least two lines announced in advance they will try to continue operating, despite the strike.

The Illinois Central, running between Chicago, Gulf ports and Florida, announced it will "try to maintain operations as normally as possible."

The Louisville and Nashville said it will attempt to operate skeleton passenger service throughout its system, manning trains with supervisory personnel.

A spokesman for the Missouri Pacific Railroad said his line had not decided yet whether to attempt to run some trains in event of a strike.

White Denounces Strike Call

Among railroads announcing plans for a complete layoff of workers in event of a strike were the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania—the nation's largest carrier of passengers and freight. Both were sharply critical of the strike call of 190,000 engineers, firemen and enginemen and switchmen.

President Roy B. White, of the B. and O., said the action of the firemen and engineers was in "absolute disregard of the mutual interests of their fellow employes and their company."

President M. W. Clement, of the Pennsylvania, said the strike call was "unreasonable and arbitrary."

If the strike takes place, he said, it will become "physically impossible to operate the railroad."

He urged unions involved in the strike call to consider their "obligations to their country, their families and their fellow employes."

Other large railroads announcing they would not attempt operations in event of a strike included the New York Central and the Erie.

The embargoes on shipments of livestock, live poultry, and perishable cargo are to prevent such shipments from being stranded out on the lines if a strike starts.

Lines Plan Embargoes

Among lines planning such embargoes today or tomorrow are the Louisville and Nashville, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, St. Louis and San Francisco, the Seaboard Air Line, Florida East Coast, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, Atlantic Coast Line, Central of Georgia, Charleston and Western Carolina and the Southern Railway.

Embargoes also are planned by Kansas City Southern, Denver and Rio Grande, and Gulf Mobile and Ohio.

Similar steps were announced by the Erie, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Western Pacific and Reading.

The dates when the embargoes are effective vary on the different lines.

Jane Wyman Files Suit For Divorce From Reagan

HOLLYWOOD, May 6—(INS)—The marriage of Film Stars Jane Wyman and Ronald Regan ended on the rocks today when the actress filed suit for divorce on cruelty charges.

Miss Wyman asserted that her eight years' marriage to Regan was filled with "grievous mental suffering" and that it was "impossible" to live together as husband and wife.

The divorce suit climaxed two separations which shocked the film colony as the two popular film players had long been regarded as "ideally suited to each other."

Their marriage had been described as "perfect."

Senate OKs 70-Group Air Force

DROPPED TO SAFETY-- Francis and Gloria Crosby, age seven and five, were dropped three stories to safety into the arms of Howard Hutchings by their mother, Mrs. Mervin Crosby, when flames swept an apartment house at Dexter, Me., yesterday. The children were unhurt. Mrs. Crosby, however, was seriously injured when she leaped to escape the flames.

Appropriation Bill Approved By 74-2 Vote

Air Force To Buy 2,727 New Planes

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — The Senate, sizzling with talk of a "Communist threatened world," today approved by a landslide 14 to 2 vote a $3,233,200,000 measure to build a 70-group Air Force.

Only Sens. Taylor (D-Idaho) and Cain (R-Wash) voted against it.

The legislation now goes back to the House, which passed an almost similar bill 343 to 3, for action on a few minor Senate amendments. Little trouble is expected in reaching a compromise between the two.

Then the final bill goes to the President for his signature or veto.

The Air Force was so confident of presidential approval that it announced late today it will immediately start plans to buy 2,727 new planes. These include 243 bombers, 1,575 jet fighters and 909 reconnaissance, transport, training, rescue and liaison aircraft.

About 627 will be for delivery by January, the balance by July, 1950.

Down Payment

The Air Force said the new appropriations, which bring the total allotted to the air arm to $1,937,000,000, are a down payment on a five-year program designed to modernize the 70-grup peacetime Air Force by 1953.

The new planes will consist of Boeing B-50s, the Republic B-84 Thunder Jets, the North American B45 four-jet bomber, the Curtiss-Wright P-87 four-jet all weather fighter, North America's P-86 jet fighter and the improved Lockheed P-80.

The Air Force said that 95 per cent of its present planes are leftovers from World War II, when the Air Force had a total of 243 war-strength groups.

President Truman made no comment on the Air Force plan today, but was sharply critical of a proposal by Rep. Allen (R-Ill) to substitute a system of bonuses for the draft.

"Asinine" Proposal, Truman Says

Allen proposed to boost manpower by offering volunteers a bonus of $1,000 or $1,500 to join the armed forces. Then, he said, a draft won't be needed.

President Truman said this was the most asinine proposal he has seen yet.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Appropriations Committee which worked out the Air Force bill, pulled no punches in a carefully-prepared speech urging speedy approval of the money to modernize and expand the Air Force.

He said the United States can never equal Russian manpower on

U. S. Palestine Peace Effort Fails; U. N. Backs Jerusalem Mayor Plan

Police Force Issue Sent To Committee

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP) — The United Nations approved today the appointment of a neutral mayor for Jerusalem.

The special Palestine Assembly of the 58 nations then turned over to its Political Committee the urgent task of finding an adequate police force to back him up.

The vote was 35 to 0. Seventeen countries abstained.

The Jerusalem mayor, or commissioner as he is technically called in the Assembly records, would be appointed by the British High Commissioner for Palestine before the British terminate their mandate May 15. He would have to be acceptable to both Jews and Arabs.

These actions came in a rare burst of speed in the Assembly while President Truman told his news conference in Washington that the United States is making every possible effort to settle the Palestine conflict. Mr. Truman said all efforts are being undertaken through the United Nations.

Time Running Short

A spokesman for the United States delegation here said delegation members are talking constantly with Jews and Arabs to try to find some method of agreement to stop the fighting in the Holy Land.

Only nine days are left before the British give up their mandate over Palestine. The Assembly met at Flushing Meadow Park today with every delegate talking about the need for immediate action.

France and Russia rejected a scheme, first backed by the United States, to put Jerusalem under a United Nations mayor without any assigned police. The United States during the afternoon agreed that force must be provided from some source and urged that the Political Committee study a French proposal for a special international police force or at least 1,000 hand-picked men.

The United States was said to feel that 1,000 would not be enough to handle the situation. But beyond that the United States comment on the French plan was somewhat reserved.

Jerusalem Guard Demanded

The critical vote of the afternoon came on the recommendation by the United Nations Trusteeship Council for the Assembly to agree to appointment of the neutral commissioner.

That paragraph was approved 35 to 2, with 14 absentions. Poland and Czechoslovakia opposed it.

Then the Assembly voted 28 to 0, with 21 absentions, to send the question of force to the 58-nation Political Committee at Lake Success.

At the morning session Alexandre Parodi, of France, renewed a demand for the elite force to guard Jerusalem and its relics. Russia showed interest but said she would have to study the question. Parodi also wants the United Nations to appoint a special delegate to succeed the commissioner who would take over from the British.

DOOMED TO DIE—Doctors at Children's Hospital, Denver, Colo., said yesterday death is a matter of only a few months at the most for three-year-old Jeannette Mary MacDonald (above), of Sidney, Nebr. Housing Shortage Is "Almost Fatal," Truman Declares

Republicans Split On Way To Ease It

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—President Truman called the housing shortage "almost fatal" today as Congress' Republican leaders split wide open on a way to relieve it.

The President appealed for a long-range housing program in an off-the-cuff address to the National Conference on Family Life—latest of the talks he has delivered without a prepared text since one such extemporaneous speech won acclaim.

Mr. Truman told the delegates about one family with a baby and a dog. They were living, he said, in a Washington parking lot. But they were forced to move even from there, the President said, and they had absolutely no place to go.

Children and dogs, Mr. Truman said with emphasis, are as necessary to this country as "Wall Street and the railroads."

Truman Praises T-E-W Bill

He said the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long-range housing bill, which includes a public housing provision, was passed by the Senate " in wonderful form."

"I sincerely hope," he said, "that the House of Representatives will study the legislation and give us the opportunity to act on this problem."

As the President spoke, House GOP leaders were in a public wrangle with Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and other backers of the T-E-W bill on the housing issue. A bill to renew most of the government's home loan insurance program was the immediate bone of contention.

The Senate passed this stopgap bill yesterday. But Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.), of the House Banking Committee, making it plain that the House leadership was backing him, announced that the bill will get nowhere on his side of the Capitol.

'Childish Tactics" Charged

Without mentioning Taft by name, Wolcott snapped:

"The House is not going to be pressured into premature action on such an important matter by any childish tactics which are considered beneath the dignity and responsibility of Congress."

Wolcott's point was that Taft and his associates engineered passage of the insurance bill, reviving the program only until June 30, in an effort to spike the guns of House Republicans who have voted a program extending through March, 1949.

Taft's faction is against the House move because the T-E-W bill contains the same long-term insurance provision. The senators' argument is that the House, if its insurance program prevails, won't pass the T-E-W bill at all.

Senate Confirms Bruce

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — The Senate today confirmed Howard Bruce, of Maryland, to be deputy administrator of the multi-billion dollar foreign recovery program.

Action was by voice vote. Sen. Langer (R-ND) forced a one-day delay by objecting to consideration of Bruce's nomination yesterday.

All-Out Effort Is Being Made To Avert Tieup

Steelman To Meet With Union Heads

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — President Truman said today the full strength of the administration and all available resources of the law are being thrown into an effort to head off the threatened railroad strike.

He is trying to keep the peace, he told a news conference—trying to keep the country running.

He said he has done and is doing everything possible under the special law which governs the disputes of railroad workers and management.

John R. Steelman, the President's assistant on labor matters, was present at the news conference. A short time earlier, Steelman had met with W. T. Faricy, president of the Association of American Railroads, in a surprise session at the White House.

Steelman has a date at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow with the heads of three key operating brotherhoods which have voted to strike next Tuesday morning.

Although such a walkout could tie up the whole country in a very short time, Mr. Truman had a definite no for a reporter who asked whether the Office of Defense Transportation had been alerted to seize the railroads.

Layoffs Are Ordered

The President declined to comment on reports of numerous embargoes on perishable freight and orders for layoffs of railroad non-operating personnel in anticipation of the threatened strike.

Another reporter recalled that Mr. Truman advocated the induction of railroad men into the military service at the time of the rail strike in 1946. When asked whether the same legislative proposals might be put forward this time, the President said, let's wait and see.

The union leaders will meet with Steelman at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow—less than 100 hours before the scheduled walkout which threatens to paralyze the nation's rail network.

Invited to the conference were:

David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

A. J. Glover, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

All sent word they would be at the meeting.

Proposal May Be Offered

Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary who announced the conference, declined to say whether any definite proposal would be presented to the unions, which demand a 30 per cent pay increase and changes in 25 working rules.

Johnston, who received notice of the meeting at his Cleveland headquarters, said Steelman indicated he wanted to talk to the union representatives first, and then the railroad operators. Ross said he couldn't verify that point.

With the strike set to start at 6 a. m. (local standard time) Tuesday, the railroads began sending out layoff notices to employes who wouldn't be needed if the trains

Jews, Arabs Reject Four-Point Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 6—(AP)—A dramatic new American attempt to stop the fighting in Palestine has been rebuffed by both Jews and Arabs, it was learned today.

But President Truman declared every possible effort is still being made through the United Nations to get the Holy Land crisis settled.

The President discussed the situation briefly at a news conference shortly after officials disclosed that American representatives at the United Nations in New York gave Jews and Arabs a four-point truce proposal on Monday.

Would Suspend Assembly

This proposal also would have required acceptance by the British to become effective. It specified that:

1. The United Nations Assembly's special session on settlement of the Palestine problem be suspended for 10 days.

2. Both Jews and Arabs agree to a general cease-fire order for the 10-day period.

3. The British agree to extend their rule over Palestine for 10 days beyond May 15, the date on which they now are scheduled to surrender their mandate.

4. President Truman should provide a special plane to transport to Palestine Jewish and Arab representatives and members of the Belgian-French-United States Truce Commission to negotiate a truce and report back to the General Assembly at the end of the 10-day period.

First Rejected By Jews

Responsible officials said the Jews turned down this proposition in New York Tuesday night and the Arabs rejected it early today.

The British government took the position, according to American informants, that if the Jews and Arabs would agree to call off the fighting Britain would try to deal with the proposal. But the British said they faced a considerable difficulty in that they were committed by decision of Parliament to give up the mandate May 15. Newsmen told Mr. Truman there was a report from both London and Washington that he had made an effort to stop the fighting in Palestine, and to keep the British there after May 15, but that this effort had failed.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO WIN RADIO JACKPOT

HOLLYWOOD, May 5. (INS)—This is a tip for some American radio listener to win $20,000 in prizes, including a three-bedroom home, a new automobile, a $20,000 lot and a job in Southern California.

The answer to the jackpot of prizes offered by the "People Are Funny" radio show is:

CAIRO, EGYPT.

Art Linkletter, genial master of ceremonies of the program, has been asking a riddle for eight weeks over the air. He said tonight the correct answer is expected to be given Friday when he again asks the same riddle he has been giving as a clue:

"Big chief windbag, gloomy and gay
"I'm one over other that lie in decay.
"Where may I be found? Upon low ground—
"That's all, that's all I will say."

International News Service learned that the actual tipoff to the answer is newspaper jargon—"30-30," traditional sign-off symbol on newspaper copy meaning "that's all."

Medal Of Honor Winner Cleared Of Rape Charge

MT. HOLLY, N. J., May 6 (AP) — Master Sgt. James R. Hendrix, 22, Lepanto, Ark., a Congressional Medal of Honor winner, was cleared today of a charge of statutory rape filed by the parents of a 15-year-old girl.

Burlington County Prosecutor Harold T. Parker reported the April term grand jury returned a "no bill" on the charge. Under New Jersey law, a "no bill" return clears the defendant of the charge and he is released.

Hendrix had pleaded innocent to the charge. He has been performing his "usual duties" at Fort Dix since his arrest, the Army said. He was released by civilian authorities to Army custody after his arrest.

Pickle Packers Pick Dill Pickle As "Man Of Year"

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP) — The individual selected today by the National Pickle Packers Association as the "man of the year" was a cinch to win the title.

He is Dill L. Pickle, 23, Rollin Fork, Miss., a World War II veteran, who works in his father's grocery store.

Edward T. Miller, association secretary, said Pickle was picked "because Dill Pickle is his real name, because he is fond of all kinds of pickles and pickle relish, and because he sells pickles."

Bing Crosby, whose first job was said to have been in a Spokane, Wash., pickle factory, was runnerup.

Gas Rationing's Return Is Hinted

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — The possible return of gasoline rationing in six months was hinted today by a House committee.

A serious oil shortage faces the country, and rationing is in sight unless a voluntary program of conservation works within the next six months, said a report released by the House Armed Services Committee.

The report was written by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Short (R-Mo) which has heard 49 witnesses in 30 public and private hearings.

"We cannot fly jet air fleets on undiscovered oil," the report said, adding that if a war started now the nation would be short 3,200,000 barrels per day at the beginning.

Stockpiling of petroleum was strongly urged, plus compulsory allocation of steel to the oil industry to boost production, if voluntary methods fail.

Not only gasoline but fuel oil also may be rationed, it said.

The shortage was blamed not on production but consumption. The United States is now consuming more oil than the whole world used in 1938, and is even using far more than was used during the peak year of World War II, it said.

CIO-UAW Breaks Off Negotiations With Chrysler

Strike Wednesday Called Inevitable

DETROIT, May 6 (AP)—The CIO-United Auto Workers broke off wage talks with Chrysler Corporation today and said a strike of 75,000 workers Wednesday "is inevitable."

The walkout, if called, will be the first major strike in the auto industry since the union's 113-day fight with General Motors Corporation in 1945-46.

Wage negotiations were in a "hopeless deadlock," a union statement asserted.

The UAW-CIO, accusing Chrysler of "an insult to human decency and to the dignity" of its workers by refusing a wage increase, laid the responsibility for the deadlock "entirely" upon the corporation.

The UAW's stand was enunciated in a formal statement by Norman Matthews, director of the union's Chrysler Department.

Originally, the union demanded a 30-cents an hour wage increase of Chrysler. A six-cents-an-hour counter offer came from the corporation.

When the UAW rejected this, Chrysler withdrew the offer last week and negotiations since have been reported stalemated.

Hard upon issuance of the union's statement, Chrysler defended its position asserting "Chrysler Corporation has been bargaining in good faith and is willing to continue to do so."

Earlier today there had been unconfirmed reports that the union might reconsider its position and forego a strike. This was predicted on the possibility of a railroad tieup on Tuesday, the day before the scheduled Chrysler walkout.

A rail strike would be expected to have a severe effect on the auto industry, whose inventories even now are reported low.

Agree To Shakeup Of Greek Cabinet

ATHENS, May 6 (AP)—The Populist and Liberal Parties agreed tonight to reshuffle the Greek Cabinet.

Parliament has been suspended for one month, guaranteeing the existence of Liberal Premier Themistokles Sophoulis' regime until early June at least.

There was no guarantee when Parliament would sit again. Before Sophoulis and Populist Vice-Premier Constantin Tsaldaris agreed to suspend Parliament, it was scheduled to convene next Monday.

While no United States representative of the American mission to aid Greece would say so, Greek political sources said they understood the Americans favored the suspension because it would help the aid program.

Opposition parties united in protesting the suspension of Parliament. But King Paul signed the decree. Sophoulis and Tsaldaris promised tonight in an official statement that when Parliament did convene, all protests would be heard.

It was expected the agreement to reshuffle the Cabinet would result in the dropping of nine ministers.

Churchill Will Open "Europe Congress" Today

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 6 (AP)—Delegates of 22 European countries gathered tonight to make plans for organizing a United States of Europe.

Headed by Britain's Winston Churchill, who arrived today, the delegates will open their "Congress of Europe" tomorrow in the Dutch Parliament building.

The countries from behind the iron curtain are not represented officially. Exiled leaders from Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Finland will participate, however.

Churchill's friends say he will make one of the most important speeches of his career when he opens the two-day meeting tomorrow.

Actress Withdraws Suit

LOS ANGELES, May 6 (AP) — A $200,000 damage suit which she had filed against Paramount Pictures was withdrawn today by Actress Barbara Britton.

Her attorneys said she had received "a satisfactory settlement." They did not disclose the terms.

Coal Operators Discuss Coming Talks With Lewis

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Soft coal operators met here today to discuss the coming wage negotiations with John L. Lewis.

The United Mine Workers president, at the same time, discussed the anthracite contract with union leaders from the three Eastern Pennsylvania hard coal districts.

Lewis gave no indication of any move to open contract talks with the anthracite operators, but the UMW said some announcement might be made next week.

The soft coal contract expires June 30. Lewis has invited the operators to begin negotiating a new contract here May 18.

The anthracite contract, effective last August 1st, has no special termination date. It can be cancelled by either miners or operators on 30 days notice.

Mundt Says 2,700 Soviet Spies Have Entered U.S.A.

WASHINGTON, May 6. — (AP) — Twenty - seven hundred Russian spies came into this country as diplomatic agents last year, Rep. Mundt (R-SD) said today.

Mundt made the statement in arguing successfully for early House action on his curb-Communism bill. The Rules Committee heard him and then scheduled House debate next week.

In saying that 2,700 spies got in "under the guise of diplomatic immunity," Mundt did not give any details. He told a reporter later that many Communists are coming in each year, legally, on visitors' visas (permits to enter).

"Obviously part of their business is to act as a spy," Mundt said. "They are legal spies."

He said there is nothing in the bill specifically limiting the number of visas to be granted Russians, but:

"If Congress makes its wishes known in this matter by passing this bill, I think the State Department will limit the number of visas it issues."

Mundt's bill would make it unlawful to take part in any activity aimed at installing a foreign-controlled totalitarian government in the United States. It declares that Moscow directs a conspiracy to dominate the world.

It also would require that the Communist Party turn over a full membership list. The party and Communist front organizations would have to register with the Attorney General each year.

Under the bill, Communists could not have federal jobs. They could not be issued passports.

Urges New Agency

Truth, Light Best Weapons Against Reds, Dulles Says

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP) — John Foster Dulles proposed tonight the organization of a United States "Department of Non-Military Defense" to fight the Communist Party with truth and light.

Dulles, a Republican, has been a frequent adviser to Secretary of State Marshall and to the United States delegation to the United Nations. He spoke before the Bond Club of New York.

The primary task would be to expose Communist Party tactics, Dulles said. He predicted the plan would be more effective than waging war with weapons or dollars.

"Truth and light are the best weapons of freedom," he said.

Communism depends primarily upon concealing its methods and its action, Dulles said, and "the suggested department, through radio and press, would tell adequately the story of what is happening."

"In such ways as I suggest the United States, working in concert with others of like mind, can check Communist encirclement and do so without either invoking the desperate expedient of war or engaging in economic transfusions so weakening to us that they will of themselves bring about the collapse of our free society."

Pointing to America's rearmament plans and the European recovery program, Dulles said: "We are establishing an equilibrium of military power We are helping Western Europe to establish a political and economic equiblibrium with the East.

"The glaring lack is an organization for stopping the subversive war that is being waged. x x x"

President M. W. Clement, of the Pennsylvania, said the strike call was "unreasonable and arbitrary."

If the strike takes place, he said, it will become "physically impossible to operate the railroad."

He urged unions involved in the strike call to consider their "obligations to their country, their families and their fellow employes."

Appropriation Bill Approved By 74-2 Vote

Air Force To Buy 2,727 New Planes

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—The Senate, sizzling with talk of a "Communist threatened world," today approved by a landslide 14 to 2 vote a $3,233,200,000 measure to build a 70-group Air Force.

Only Sens. Taylor (D-Idaho) and Cain (R-Wash) voted against it.

The legislation now goes back to the House, which passed an almost similar bill 343 to 3, for action on a few minor Senate amendments. Little trouble is expected in reaching a compromise between the two.

Then the final bill goes to the President for his signature or veto.

The Air Force was so confident of presidential approval that it announced late today it will immediately start plans to buy 2,727 new planes. These include 243 bombers, 1,575 jet fighters and 909 reconnaissance, transport, training, rescue and liaison aircraft.

About 627 will be for delivery by January, the balance by July, 1950.

Down Payment

The Air Force said the new appropriations, which bring the total allotted to the air arm to $1,937,000,000, are a down payment on a five-year program designed to modernize the 70-grup peacetime Air Force by 1953.

The new planes will consist of Boeing B-50s, the Republic B-84 Thunder Jets, the North American B45 four-jet bomber, the Curtiss-Wright P-87 four-jet all weather fighter, North America's P-86 jet fighter and the improved Lockheed P-80.

The Air Force said that 95 per cent of its present planes are leftovers from World War II, when the Air Force had a total of 243 war-strength groups.

President Truman made no comment on the Air Force plan today, but was sharply critical of a proposal by Rep. Allen (R-Ill) to substitute a system of bonuses for the draft.

"Asinine" Proposal, Truman Says

Allen proposed to boost manpower by offering volunteers a bonus of $1,000 or $1,500 to join the armed forces. Then, he said, a draft won't be needed.

President Truman said this was the most asinine proposal he has seen yet.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Appropriations Committee which worked out the Air Force bill, pulled no punches in a carefully-prepared speech urging speedy approval of the money to modernize and expand the Air Force.

He said the United States can never equal Russian manpower on

U. S. Palestine Peace Effort Fails; U. N. Backs Jerusalem Mayor Plan

Police Force Issue Sent To Committee

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—The United Nations approved today the appointment of a neutral mayor for Jerusalem.

The special Palestine Assembly of the 58 nations then turned over to its Political Committee the urgent task of finding an adequate police force to back him up.

The vote was 35 to 0. Seventeen countries abstained.

The Jerusalem mayor, or commissioner as he is technically called in the Assembly records, would be appointed by the British High Commissioner for Palestine before the British terminate their mandate May 15. He would have to be acceptable to both Jews and Arabs.

These actions came in a rare burst of speed in the Assembly while President Truman told his news conference in Washington that the United States is making every possible effort to settle the Palestine conflict. Mr. Truman said all efforts are being undertaken through the United Nations.

Time Running Short

A spokesman for the United States delegation here said delegation members are talking constantly with Jews and Arabs to try to find some method of agreement to stop the fighting in the Holy Land.

Only nine days are left before the British give up their mandate over Palestine. The Assembly met at Flushing Meadow Park today with every delegate talking about the need for immediate action.

France and Russia rejected a scheme, first backed by the United States, to put Jerusalem under a United Nations mayor without any assigned police. The United States during the afternoon agreed that force must be provided from some source and urged that the Political Committee study a French proposal for a special international police force or at least 1,000 hand-picked men.

The United States was said to feel that 1,000 would not be enough to handle the situation. But beyond that the United States comment on the French plan was somewhat reserved.

Jerusalem Guard Demanded

The critical vote of the afternoon came on the recommendation by the United Nations Trusteeship Council for the Assembly to agree to appointment of the neutral commissioner.

That paragraph was approved 35 to 2, with 14 absentions. Poland and Czechoslovakia opposed it.

Then the Assembly voted 28 to 0, with 21 absentions, to send the question of force to the 58-nation Political Committee at Lake Success.

At the morning session Alexandre Parodi, of France, renewed a demand for the elite force to guard Jerusalem and its relics. Russia showed interest but said she would have to study the question. Parodi also wants the United Nations to appoint a special delegate to succeed the commissioner who would take over from the British.

Housing Shortage Is "Almost Fatal," Truman Declares

Republicans Split On Way To Ease It

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—President Truman called the housing shortage "almost fatal" today as Congress' Republican leaders split wide open on a way to relieve it.

The President appealed for a long-range housing program in an off-the-cuff address to the National Conference on Family Life—latest of the talks he has delivered without a prepared text since one such extemporaneous speech won acclaim.

Mr. Truman told the delegates about one family with a baby and a dog. They were living, he said, in a Washington parking lot. But they were forced to move even from there, the President said, and they had absolutely no place to go.

Children and dogs, Mr. Truman said with emphasis, are as necessary to this country as "Wall Street and the railroads."

Truman Praises T-E-W Bill

He said the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long-range housing bill, which includes a public housing provision, was passed by the Senate " in wonderful form."

"I sincerely hope," he said, "that the House of Representatives will study the legislation and give us the opportunity to act on this problem."

As the President spoke, House GOP leaders were in a public wrangle with Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and other backers of the T-E-W bill on the housing issue. A bill to renew most of the government's home loan insurance program was the immediate bone of contention.

The Senate passed this stopgap bill yesterday. But Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.), of the House Banking Committee, making it plain that the House leadership was backing him, announced that the bill will get nowhere on his side of the Capitol.

'Childish Tactics" Charged

Without mentioning Taft by name, Wolcott snapped:

"The House is not going to be pressured into premature action on such an important matter by any childish tactics which are considered beneath the dignity and responsibility of Congress."

Wolcott's point was that Taft and his associates engineered passage of the insurance bill, reviving the program only until June 30, in an effort to spike the guns of House Republicans who have voted a program extending through March, 1949.

Taft's faction is against the House move because the T-E-W bill contains the same long-term insurance provision. The senators' argument is that the House, if its insurance program prevails, won't pass the T-E-W bill at all.

Jews, Arabs Reject Four-Point Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 6—(AP)—A dramatic new American attempt to stop the fighting in Palestine has been rebuffed by both Jews and Arabs, it was learned today.

But President Truman declared every possible effort is still being made through the United Nations to get the Holy Land crisis settled.

Would Suspend Assembly

This proposal also would have required acceptance by the British to become effective. It specified that:

1. The United Nations Assembly's special session on settlement of the Palestine problem be suspended for 10 days.

2. Both Jews and Arabs agree to a general cease-fire order for the 10-day period.

3. The British agree to extend their rule over Palestine for 10 days beyond May 15, the date on which they now are scheduled to surrender their mandate.

4. President Truman should provide a special plane to transport to Palestine Jewish and Arab representatives and members of the Belgian-French-United States Truce Commission to negotiate a truce and report back to the General Assembly at the end of the 10-day period.

First Rejected By Jews

Responsible officials said the Jews turned down this proposition in New York Tuesday night and the Arabs rejected it early today.

The British government took the position, according to American informants, that if the Jews and Arabs would agree to call off the fighting Britain would try to deal with the proposal. But the British said they faced a considerable difficulty in that they were committed by decision of Parliament to give up the mandate May 15. Newsmen told Mr. Truman there was a report from both London and Washington that he had made an effort to stop the fighting in Palestine, and to keep the British there after May 15, but that this effort had failed.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO WIN RADIO JACKPOT

HOLLYWOOD, May 5. (INS)—This is a tip for some American radio listener to win $20,000 in prizes, including a three-bedroom home, a new automobile, a $20,000 lot and a job in Southern California.

The answer to the jackpot of prizes offered by the "People Are Funny" radio show is:

CAIRO, EGYPT.

Art Linkletter, genial master of ceremonies of the program, has been asking a riddle for eight weeks over the air. He said tonight the correct answer is expected to be given Friday when he again asks the same riddle he has been giving as a clue:

"Big chief windbag, gloomy and gay
"I'm one over other that lie in decay.
"Where may I be found? Upon low ground—
"That's all, that's all I will say."

International News Service learned that the actual tipoff to the answer is newspaper jargon—"30-30," traditional sign-off symbol on newspaper copy meaning "that's all."

All-Out Effort Is Being Made To Avert Tieup

Steelman To Meet With Union Heads

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — President Truman said today the full strength of the administration and all available resources of the law are being thrown into an effort to head off the threatened railroad strike.

He is trying to keep the peace, he told a news conference—trying to keep the country running.

He said he has done and is doing everything possible under the special law which governs the disputes of railroad workers and management.

John R. Steelman, the President's assistant on labor matters, was present at the news conference. A short time earlier, Steelman had met with W. T. Faricy, president of the Association of American Railroads, in a surprise session at the White House.

Steelman has a date at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow with the heads of three key operating brotherhoods which have voted to strike next Tuesday morning.

Although such a walkout could tie up the whole country in a very short time, Mr. Truman had a definite no for a reporter who asked whether the Office of Defense Transportation had been alerted to seize the railroads.

Layoffs Are Ordered

The President declined to comment on reports of numerous embargoes on perishable freight and orders for layoffs of railroad non-operating personnel in anticipation of the threatened strike.

Another reporter recalled that Mr. Truman advocated the induction of railroad men into the military service at the time of the rail strike in 1946. When asked whether the same legislative proposals might be put forward this time, the President said, let's wait and see.

The union leaders will meet with Steelman at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow—less than 100 hours before the scheduled walkout which threatens to paralyze the nation's rail network.

Invited to the conference were:

David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

A. J. Glover, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

All sent word they would be at the meeting.

Proposal May Be Offered

Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary who announced the conference, declined to say whether any definite proposal would be presented to the unions, which demand a 30 per cent pay increase and changes in 25 working rules.

Johnston, who received notice of the meeting at his Cleveland headquarters, said Steelman indicated he wanted to talk to the union representatives first, and then the railroad operators. Ross said he couldn't verify that point.

With the strike set to start at 6 a. m. (local standard time) Tuesday, the railroads began sending out layoff notices to employes who wouldn't be needed if the trains

Medal Of Honor Winner Cleared Of Rape Charge

MT. HOLLY, N. J., May 6 (AP) — Master Sgt. James R. Hendrix, 22, Lepanto, Ark., a Congressional Medal of Honor winner, was cleared today of a charge of statutory rape filed by the parents of a 15-year-old girl.

Burlington County Prosecutor Harold T. Parker reported the April term grand jury returned a "no bill" on the charge. Under New Jersey law, a "no bill" return clears the defendant of the charge and he is released.

Hendrix had pleaded innocent to the charge. He has been performing his "usual duties" at Fort Dix since his arrest, the Army said. He was released by civilian authorities to Army custody after his arrest.

Pickle Packers Pick Dill Pickle As "Man Of Year"

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP) — The individual selected today by the National Pickle Packers Association as the "man of the year" was a cinch to win the title.

He is Dill L. Pickle, 23, Rollin Fork, Miss., a World War II veteran, who works in his father's grocery store.

Edward T. Miller, association secretary, said Pickle was picked "because Dill Pickle is his real name, because he is fond of all kinds of pickles and pickle relish, and because he sells pickles."

Bing Crosby, whose first job was said to have been in a Spokane, Wash., pickle factory, was runnerup.

Gas Rationing's Return Is Hinted

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — The possible return of gasoline rationing in six months was hinted today by a House committee.

A serious oil shortage faces the country, and rationing is in sight unless a voluntary program of conservation works within the next six months, said a report released by the House Armed Services Committee.

The report was written by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Short (R-Mo) which has heard 49 witnesses in 30 public and private hearings.

"We cannot fly jet air fleets on undiscovered oil," the report said, adding that if a war started now the nation would be short 3,200,000 barrels per day at the beginning.

Stockpiling of petroleum was strongly urged, plus compulsory allocation of steel to the oil industry to boost production, if voluntary methods fail.

Not only gasoline but fuel oil also may be rationed, it said.

The shortage was blamed not on production but consumption. The United States is now consuming more oil than the whole world used in 1938, and is even using far more than was used during the peak year of World War II, it said.

CIO-UAW Breaks Off Negotiations With Chrysler

Strike Wednesday Called Inevitable

DETROIT, May 6 (AP)—The CIO-United Auto Workers broke off wage talks with Chrysler Corporation today and said a strike of 75,000 workers Wednesday "is inevitable."

The walkout, if called, will be the first major strike in the auto industry since the union's 113-day fight with General Motors Corporation in 1945-46.

Wage negotiations were in a "hopeless deadlock," a union statement asserted.

The UAW-CIO, accusing Chrysler of "an insult to human decency and to the dignity" of its workers by refusing a wage increase, laid the responsibility for the deadlock "entirely" upon the corporation.

The UAW's stand was enunciated in a formal statement by Norman Matthews, director of the union's Chrysler Department.

Originally, the union demanded a 30-cents an hour wage increase of Chrysler. A six-cents-an-hour counter offer came from the corporation.

When the UAW rejected this, Chrysler withdrew the offer last week and negotiations since have been reported stalemated.

Hard upon issuance of the union's statement, Chrysler defended its position asserting "Chrysler Corporation has been bargaining in good faith and is willing to continue to do so."

Earlier today there had been unconfirmed reports that the union might reconsider its position and forego a strike. This was predicted on the possibility of a railroad tieup on Tuesday, the day before the scheduled Chrysler walkout.

A rail strike would be expected to have a severe effect on the auto industry, whose inventories even now are reported low.

Automotive News, authoritative trade periodical, was responsible for reports of a possible reconsideration.

Churchill Will Open "Europe Congress" Today

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 6 (AP)—Delegates of 22 European countries gathered tonight to make plans for organizing a United States of Europe.

Headed by Britain's Winston Churchill, who arrived today, the delegates will open their "Congress of Europe" tomorrow in the Dutch Parliament building.

The countries from behind the iron curtain are not represented officially. Exiled leaders from Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Finland will participate, however.

Churchill's friends say he will make one of the most important speeches of his career when he opens the two-day meeting tomorrow.

Actress Withdraws Suit

LOS ANGELES, May 6 (AP) — A $200,000 damage suit which she had filed against Paramount Pictures was withdrawn today by Actress Barbara Britton.

Her attorneys said she had received "a satisfactory settlement." They did not disclose the terms.

Agree To Shakeup Of Greek Cabinet

ATHENS, May 6 (AP)—The Populist and Liberal Parties agreed tonight to reshuffle the Greek Cabinet.

Parliament has been suspended for one month, guaranteeing the existence of Liberal Premier Themistokles Sophoulis' regime until early June at least.

There was no guarantee when Parliament would sit again. Before Sophoulis and Populist Vice-Premier Constantin Tsaldaris agreed to suspend Parliament, it was scheduled to convene next Monday.

While no United States representative of the American mission to aid Greece would say so, Greek political sources said they understood the Americans favored the suspension because it would help the aid program.

Opposition parties united in protesting the suspension of Parliament. But King Paul signed the decree. Sophoulis and Tsaldaris promised tonight in an official statement that when Parliament did convene, all protests would be heard.

It was expected the agreement to reshuffle the Cabinet would result in the dropping of nine ministers.

Coal Operators Discuss Coming Talks With Lewis

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Soft coal operators met here today to discuss the coming wage negotiations with John L. Lewis.

The United Mine Workers president, at the same time, discussed the anthracite contract with union leaders from the three Eastern Pennsylvania hard coal districts.

Lewis gave no indication of any move to open contract talks with the anthracite operators, but the UMW said some announcement might be made next week.

The soft coal contract expires June 30. Lewis has invited the operators to begin negotiating a new contract here May 18.

The anthracite contract, effective last August 1st, has no special termination date. It can be cancelled by either miners or operators on 30 days notice.

Senate Confirms Bruce

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — The Senate today confirmed Howard Bruce, of Maryland, to be deputy administrator of the multi-billion dollar foreign recovery program.

Action was by voice vote. Sen. Langer (R-ND) forced a one-day delay by objecting to consideration of Bruce's nomination yesterday.

Diplomatic Guise

Mundt Says 2,700 Soviet Spies Have Entered U.S.A.

WASHINGTON, May 6. — (AP) — Twenty-seven hundred Russian spies came into this country as diplomatic agents last year, Rep. Mundt (R-SD) said today.

Mundt made the statement in arguing successfully for early House action on his curb-Communism bill. The Rules Committee heard him and then scheduled House debate next week.

In saying that 2,700 spies got in "under the guise of diplomatic immunity," Mundt did not give any details. He told a reporter later that many Communists are coming in each year, legally, on visitors' visas (permits to enter).

"Obviously part of their business is to act as a spy," Mundt said. "They are legal spies."

He said there is nothing in the bill specifically limiting the number of visas to be granted Russians, but:

"If Congress makes its wishes known in this matter by passing this bill, I think the State Department will limit the number of visas it issues."

Mundt's bill would make it unlawful to take part in any activity aimed at installing a foreign-controlled totalitarian government in the United States. It declares that Moscow directs a conspiracy to dominate the world.

It also would require that the Communist Party turn over a full membership list. The party and Communist front organizations would have to register with the Attorney General each year.

Under the bill, Communists could not have federal jobs. They could not be issued passports.

Urges New Agency

Truth, Light Best Weapons Against Reds, Dulles Says

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP) — John Foster Dulles proposed tonight the organization of a United States "Department of Non-Military Defense" to fight the Communist Party with truth and light.

Dulles, a Republican, has been a frequent adviser to Secretary of State Marshall and to the United States delegation to the United Nations. He spoke before the Bond Club of New York.

The primary task would be to expose Communist Party tactics, Dulles said. He predicted the plan would be more effective than waging war with weapons or dollars.

"Truth and light are the best weapons of freedom," he said.

Communism depends primarily upon concealing its methods and its action, Dulles said, and "the suggested department, through radio and press, would tell adequately the story of what is happening."

"In such ways as I suggest the United States, working in concert with others of like mind, can check Communist encirclement and do so without either invoking the desperate expedient of war or engaging in economic transfusions so weakening to us that they will of themselves bring about the collapse of our free society."

Pointing to America's rearmament plans and the European recovery program, Dulles said: "We are establishing an equilibrium of military power We are helping Western Europe to establish a political and economic equiblibrium with the East.

"The glaring lack is an organization for stopping the subversive war that is being waged. x x x"

Lewis Asks Court To Dismiss Pension Petition

While John L. Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges are going ahead with the setting up of machinery to pay the $100-a-month pension payments to retired soft coal miners, the miners' chief has asked a federal court not to block their efforts. That would indicate that the two trustees are not too certain that they have the authority to proceed although Mr. Lewis contends the court has no jurisdiction over the dispute.

Mr. Lewis's request to the court was made necessary when Erza Van Horn, spokesman for coal operators and their member of the board of trustees in charge of the welfare fund, petitioned the court to set aside the compromise agreement voted by Lewis, for the miners, and Senator Bridges, the neutral trustee. It is difficult to foresee what the consequences would be should the court grant Mr. Van Horn's petition.

There are those who believe Mr. Van Horn's action has some legal justification. Under the agreement approved by Mr. Lewis and Senator Bridges, there are a number of miners made eligible for the pensions who are employed by operators not signatory to the contract setting up the fund and hence not subject to the payment of the ten cents-a-ton royalty which makes up the pension fund.

Mr. Van Horn contends this violates the Taft-Hartley Act. He has informed the court that the Act specifies as an unfair labor practice "to cause or attempt to cause an employer to pay or deliver or agree to pay or deliver any money or other thing of value, in the nature of an exaction, for services which are not performed or not to be performed."

It is argued that this point has substance, but of more doubtful validity, it would seem, is a second contention by the operators' leader that Senator Bridges, as neutral trustee, had no right to write the compromise plan because he was supposed to act merely as an umpire in the proceedings. To say the least, this appears on first thought to be an wholly new view of the role and out of step with general belief.

Mr. Van Horn states further that the pension system might bankrupt the welfare fund, which now exceeds $32,000,000. He further contends that to prevent such a turn of affairs it might force higher levies from the coal companies to maintain it. We question whether this is a point for the court to decide.

Mr. Lewis. in his written petition to the court, declares that "no plan seems to be satisfactory to him (Van Horn) unless it be of his own choosing." In the absence of any constructive plan by Mr. Van Horn to bring about a more amicable agreement for the paying of pensions, Mr. Lewis seems to have made out a case for himself. Unless Mr. Van Horn can bring forward a proposal that would be an improvement over what has been voted by the trustees it might be to the advantage of the operators to replace him with someone with a willingness to meet the problem on a more cooperative basis and not be content with attempting to undo that which others might consider the best solution to the whole problem.

If we had steel we could keep factories running. If we had fuel we could keep our houses warm. And if we had the old time, undiluted American spirit we would have both steel and fuel.

A Call To Faith In Our Independence Declaration

One paragraph stands out in the address delivered by Crawford H. Greenwalt, the duPont Company's new and youthful president, at the annual dinner of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington. Drawn as it was from his own tested knowledge, it gave his thesis force and conviction.

"I have spent the greater part of my working life in scientific endeavors," he said, "and I have learned by hard experience one guiding principle common to all scientific research—never to discard the results of a well-demonstrated experience in favor of an hypothesis that denies those results."

He went on to speak of the American political and economic experiment "launched some 160 years ago." Its results, he observed, have not been perfect, yet "by any test that could be applied, it has turned out successfully—so successfully that it has never been matched in the long sweep of history in giving such great benefits to such a multitude of people."

In contrast to this well-demonstrated experiment, he pointed out, there are theories maintaining that mankind's sole hope is more and more government domination. He added:

"Socialism, fascism, nazism, communism—they differ only in degree as to application, and the end results differ not at all. They are semantic rungs in a ladder that reaches from freedom to slavery."

The words may vary, but the hypothesis is the same and the consequences certain.

The speaker's thesis was that faith in the principles laid down by the Declaration of Independence—faith in equality of opportunity for all and in freedom for every individual to rise to any height his talent will permit—is the essence of American achievement. This faith has made the nation great. It is the "principal thing we have to offer the world" and the source of America's strength.

Its Merry May Time Again Through The Land

We turn back the pages of time when the population of villages, yielding to a sudden and joyous impulse, went through the woods, brought back "the may" (white hawthorn blossoms) and garlanding themselves with all the flowers of spring, danced around the Maypole (a fixed pole as high as the mast of a vessel of a hundred tons). Doubtless the Mayflower descendants, celebrating hereabouts lately, regret that the Puritans uprooted the poles and banned attendant jollities.

Anyway, the original day has come again, just as it was and ought always to be—and with it the month acclaimed through all the centuries as Merry May. Over an earth, grown suddenly green, stretch the arms of trees, casting as of yore the brooding friendliness of their leaves. A fuller anthem in their branches announce the arrival of those late comers, the thrush, the wren and the catbird, with which the aboreal choir is complete. Whether or not they have sermons to preach, they set a gay example.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Artificial Respiration

Every one should learn artificial respiration because some day this knowledge may save a life. A simple method will suffice; it is far better to do something than nothing while waiting for a pulmotor or more efficient procedure. The outcome is often determined during the first few minutes after the accident.

There are many ways of administering resuscitation without making use of elaborate equipment. Mouth-to-mouth breathing is one of the oldest. It is mentioned in the Bible at about the time of Moses and is surprisingly efficient so long as it can be maintained. However, few individuals can breathe into the mouth of another without becoming fatigued after a short time. But it has the advantage of being harmless to the victim as the pressure exerted is low and cannot overdistend the lungs.

The Silvester plan is easy to learn and ranks with the Schafer in popularity. The subject is placed on his back with the arms at the side. Inspiration is induced by raising and moving the arms over his head which elevates the thoracic cage allowing air to rush into the lungs. The arms are then returned to the side and pressed against the chest to produce expiration. The main objection to the procedure is that drainage from the mouth is difficult to obtain and any fluid that comes up is drawn back into the lungs.

In hospitals, Howard's method is used most frequently, especially should the individual stop breathing while on the operating table. The patient is usually lying in a supine position and, by squeezing and releasing the chest with the hands, expiration and inspiration are facilitated.

In the Schafer method, the individual is placed on his abdomen with the arms over the head. This technic is probably the best known of all particularly among those who are acquainted with first aid procedures. Pressure is applied to the lower ribs, forcing air out. When the operator releases his hold, air is sucked in but the amount depends upon the normal elastic recoil of the chest. This is a drawback because individuals who are not breathing are relaxed and the lungs do not re-expand readily. Studies have shown that little air enters and leaves after a short period of resuscitation. Nevertheless it is helpful and, if no other equipment is available, can be employed for as long as 8 to 12 hours.

The Eve method has been used for several years in the British navy and is becoming more popular in this country. It is not as beneficial as the mehcanical devices but is better than the simpler measures just described. Some equipment is required, however,—a hard board or plank, which can be balanced on an object like a log or wooden horse. The sufferer is placed on the plank, resting on his abdomen, and the rescuers move the board up and down in a teeter-totter fashion. When the victim is in the head-down position, the stomach and intestines push the diaphragm headward and force air out of lungs. With the feet down, the diaphragm moves in the opposite direction, increasing chest capacity and drawing air into the lungs.

Scrofula

M.R. writes: Must tubercular glands of the neck be removed by operation?

REPLY

Surgical removal is rarely necessary unless they persist as a focus of infection or draining abscesses develops. This disease is rarely encountered today, as the pasteurization of milk practically eliminated it. Streptomycin should be tried as there is a possibility that this drug will afford a cure.

Dreamer

Mrs. M. writes: I dream every night but can never remember the incidents. Can you tell me why?

REPLY

No. This is the experience that most of us have—our dreams vanish into thin air. This is probably because the experiences occur at one of the lower levels of consciousness. The details of nightmares, on the other hand, seem to remain more vividly with us.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

All right officer, I'll go quietly.

A crowd of 6,000 attended the first night's showing of the Los Angeles police show, and it was really a spectacular affair. You can always tell when it's police show time . . . the cop stops you going 26 miles an hour in the 25-mile zone and the judge says "thirty days or thirty tickets."

Some guy heard I was going to be there—he took the thirty days.

When I saw all those police cars drive up, I got a little excited. In fact, for a minute I thought Gypsy Rose was on the bill.

And the lighting effects on the stage were really tricky. They had one 20-watt bulb in the ceiling and bounced the beam off the badges in the front row.

I told a few jokes and then I stopped. The court reporter was taking down everything I said and a plainclothes squad was picking up witnesses.

But, seriously, I was quite a sensation with the men on the force. In fact, the ballistics expert couldn't get over the shape of my head.

I was happy to appear at the show but I couldn't turn down an invitation from the police anyway. My brother turned them down once and they got him out with tear gas.

Halfway through the evening I did get a bit uncomfortable. They put a bright light on me and twelve of my listeners stood up, pointed and said, "That's the man."

This show is going to run through May 11 and it's for a very worthy cause. Of course, when you go, remember one thing. Don't come in a stolen car.

Grange Master Goss Warns Of Another "Dust Bowl" Disaster; Two Of Hitler's Bankers Move Back To Power In Germany; Pres. Truman Minus Piano

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 6—Albert Goss, master of the National Grange, bluntly warned President Truman the other day that we are inviting another "dust bowl" disaster unless we begin redeveloping the grasslands of the West.

"I have just returned from a trip to Wyoming and can tell you that the dangers are very real," reported Goss. "There has been too much plowing up of the grasslands we developed as insurance against future dust storms."

The grange leader, who is the ablest farm spokesman in Washington, explained that the high prices and demand for wheat for domestic and foreign aid were chiefly responsible, since farmers didn't want to maintain pasture lands when they could turn a quick profit on grain crops.

"Most people take it for granted that we have licked the dust-bowl hazards which caused such tragedy in the West some years back," added Goss. "However, dust can blow again, and will blow in my opinion within the next few years unless those grasslands are restored."

Goss also urged Truman to consider a "more flexible" support price plan for farm products to prevent possible price collapses, principally in grains, when European nations become self-sustaining and buy less grain from us.

"Our farm production is now 35 per cent greater than before the war, while domestic consumption is only 25 per cent more," Goss reported. "We are okay as long as Europe continues to take the surplus, but if there is a bumper grain crop abroad in the next year or two and our exports suddenly decrease, prices are likely to dive with them."

Goss recommended fluctuating support prices (sub-parity prices guaranteed by the government) from year to year, based on supply and demand, also a "stop-loss" price floor for wheat and certain other major crops, to prevent disastrous price plunges.

The President promised to think it over.

Hitler's Bankers

It hasn't been noticed in the welter of international news, but two of Hitler's former bankers have now been able to move back into power in Germany.

They are Herman J. Abs and August Schniewind who have been named president and chairman, respectively, of the board of directors for the new tri-zonal Bank Deutsche Laender (Bank of the German States). This bank operates under the U.S., French and British, but the German board members were allowed to make their selection at a secret meeting.

Because of the growing U.S. policy of forgiving the Nazis, nothing was done to block the two bankers, but the whole thing was explained to Secretary of State George Marshall in a confidential airgram, sent by U. S. political adviser Robert Murphy.

"Proceedings of that meeting not made public," Murphy radioed the Secretary of State, "but there are indications that vote on Abs was 7 to 4 and vote on Schniewind was 8 to 3 . . . No easy method exists for determining what voting really was, since customarily German meetings are secret."

Herr Abs was a director of the Deutsche Bank and Herr Schniewind was a director of the Reichsbank under Hitler.

In his confidential airgram, Murphy reported: "Although (Abs) apparently never was an NSDAP (Nazi) member, he cooperated hand in glove during the Third Reich with leading political personalities in government, industry and party circles. Abs obtained special permission of the Reichs Wirtschafts Ministerium to hold an excess of 20 directorships, a limit established by the corporation law of 1937. He became prominent in 1937 as chief of foreign department of Deutsche Bank, and was in many circles considered to be the most brilliant and energetic member of Deutsche Bank's vorstand (board of directors). Subject took important role in imperialistic expansion of Deutsche Bank following Nazi political and military absorption."

Herr Schniewind, recently appointed liaison officer for the European Recovery Program, was a director of the Reichsbank under Hjalmar Schacht until Schacht fell into disfavor with the Nazis. Then Schniewind, still a Nazi favorite, moved to Seiler and Company, a banking firm in Munich, where he increased in influence as the bank was "Aryanized."

Seven other German bankers, all with democratic political backgrounds, were considered along with Abs and Schniewind for the banking posts. But the two Nazi sympathizers won out.

Murphy hinted to Secretary Marshall that the British were to blame for Abs.

"The French financial adviser has voiced objection to Abs for position in question and U. S. financial adviser concurs," reported Murphy. "Technically, however, Abs has been denazified according to regular procedures in the British zone."

Murphy admitted that the tripartite Vetting party, an organ of the military government that must clear all German officials, had registered lukewarm objections.

"Tripartite Vetting party states it is now attempting to reach agreement on standard of suitability to apply to appointees of Bank Deutsche Laender," Murphy explained in his report to Marshall. "Since no standards are agreed upon, tripartite Vetting party has merely indicated to Allied Bank Commission, to which it reports, that it doubts suitability of Schniewind and Abs and believes that if full available evidence were known to German board of directors, they would probably reject both men."

Significantly the Allied Bank Commission could veto the two German bankers, but reports from Germany indicate it will do the opposite.

No Piano

President Truman always takes great delight in inaugurating the "buddy poppy" relief drive of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. For, back in Missouri, he used to help put over the drive as a VFW member himself.

The other day when Truman received the first poppy from five-year-old Sandra Marie Smith, he reached in his pocket and handed his tiny visitor a bright, new half-dollar.

"Oh, thank you," replied the little girl, who lives at the VFW home for war widows and orphans in Eaton Rapids, Michigan. "And now, will you play the piano?"

The President laughingly replied that he would be glad to accommodate, but unfortunately there was no piano in his office.

Suspicion Of Dr. Condon's Loyalty Should Be Removed

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

By a vote of 301 to 29, the House of Representatives has directed the Secretary of Commerce to transmit to it the F.B.I. report on Dr. Edward U. Condon, Director of the National Bureau of Standards. This Bureau is the most important research organization of the Federal government. Its director has access to confidential information sought by every foreign spy in this country.

The Secretary of Commerce has refused to send this report to Congress. President Truman supports the Secretary in his refusal. On previous occasions the Courts have held that the President cannot be made to honor such requests by Congress when he states it would not be in the public interest to do so.

Vast Uncertainty Foreseen

So, this deadlock will probably lead to nothing but a vast uncertainty in the public mind. In justice to Dr. Condon and the public service, this suspicion should be removed. It would be easy to do so if President Truman and Congress both got off their high-horses and dealt with the matter on a common sense basis.

The resolution upon which the House voted was reported out by the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. The chairman of that committee, Mr. Woolverton of New Jersey, and the former chairmen, Mr. Lea of California—one a Republican and the other a Democrat—are two of the most highly respected members of Congress. Both are lawyers.

Let the F.B.I. report on Dr. Condon be shown in confidence to Messrs. Woolverton and Lea. If, after seeing it, they report to Congress that the report does not impugn the loyalty of Dr. Condon, the House and the country would accept their statement.

The President is quite right, in the ordinary case, in guarding the secrecy of F.B.I. reports. The usefulness of the F.B.I. would be seriously impaired if information given to it in confidence were made public property.

Furthermore, a group of scientists who have come to Dr. Condon's defense say that the government is apt to lose the service of able scientists if they are to be the victims of unproven rumors.

Dr. Condon is in the unfortunate position of having been appointed to his present position by Henry A. Wallace, who is now the Communist "Daily Worker's" candidate for President. But who appointed Wallace?

Favored Russian Scientists

A year ago, speaking of Russia, Condon said: "We must welcome their scientists to our laboratories as they have welcomed us to theirs (sic), and extend the base of scientific information with this great people. Of course we must behave this way toward the scientists of all nations. I only mention Russia because she is right now the target of attack by those irresponsibles who think she would be a suitable adversary in the next world war."

Dr. Condon is said to have had close contacts with a person alleged, by a "self-confessed Soviet espionage agent, to have engaged in espionage activities with the Russians in Washington, D. C., from 1941 to 1944."

On the other hand, it is said that the F.B.I. report states that there is no evidence that Dr. Condon's contact involved anything disloyal or illegal. In justice to Dr. Condon, it can be said that if everyone who has drunk vodka at the Soviet Embassy at Washington can be charged with disloyalty, few persons in official Washington would go free.

In putting the matter in the hands of two distinguished Congressmen, we can do justice to an American citizen, and to the American people.

Stassen Did Himself Harm By His Tactics In Ohio Primary

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 6—Abraham Lincoln was certainly considered a good political strategist in his day and, in his effort to win the first Republican nomination for the presidency, he gave his lieutenants a piece of political advice which Harold Stassen might better have followed in 1948.

Lincoln advised that it wasn't good tactics to try to get a state's delegation away from a "favorite son" but instead to line up "second choices."

Had Stassen done this in Ohio, he might have placed himself in a favorable position for the Republican nomination. Instead he has succeeded in antagonizing many of the most influential members of the Republican Party. His blunder in Ohio may well cost him the presidential nomination and it could conceivably make it difficult for him to win even second place.

Stassen has been looked upon as the youthful leader who somehow stands apart from the so-called "Old Guard" group or the scheming politicians. Young men have looked to him for leadership in an age in which the people generally abhor the practices of party politicians. But the former Minnesota governor did something in Ohio which has hurt him irreparably with large sections of the Republican Party who will have much to say about the nomination.

Tactics Unforgivable In Politics

It was not the invasion of a "favorite son" state in itself that hurt Stassen. This, it may be argued, is no political error of magnitude in an era in which preference primaries are being held, though many political observers will think it a mistake in tactics anyway. What Stassen did that is almost unforgivable in politics was to enter certain districts in Ohio where the labor vote is predominant and try to knife Senator Taft because of the latter's championship of the new labor-management relations law.

After all, this law was passed by two-thirds of both Houses of Congress. The Republican Party almost to a man supported it. Yet Stassen went into Ohio to capitalize on labor's resentment toward a Republican leader. Here is how a United Press dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, described it:

"The Stassen candidates were filed largely in industrial areas of the state where possible resentment would be highest against Taft for his sponsorship of the Taft-Hartley labor law."

Stassen made it clear he would have voted for the law but he criticized Senator Taft's relationship to the law and indicated clearly that he would amend certain provisions. The plain purpose of such speeches in Ohio was to indicate that Stassen would be likely to help labor weaken the law whereas Senator Taft, if elected president, might not do so.

What Stassen did might have been all right in a national campaign in which he was fighting against a Democratic opponent, but going into the state of Ohio to try to wrest the nomination from a rival Republican on these grounds has certainly caused him plenty of embarrassment with the large group of conservatives in the party who will have the final say when the convention meets.

Labor Vote Not For Him

Stassen made a good record on labor relations when he was governor of Minnesota but were he to win the nomination he would nevertheless not get the labor vote, for it will go to President Truman who vetoed and denounced the entire Taft-Hartley Act. So it is not at all clear what purpose really was served by Stassen's maneuver other than to create antagonisms and friction inside the party by criticizing Senator Taft on the labor issue. Undoubtedly many Democratic voters entered the Ohio primaries to help put Taft in a hole. Even Stassen's capture of a few delegates in handpicked labor districts, however, doesn't erase the fact that on a state-wide basis Senator Taft's delegates ran highest and Stassen's candidate for delegate-at-large ran last and didn't win a place in the delegation.

Senator Taft has not won the nomination by his victory in Ohio but what Stassen did there may have immeasurably hurt the Minnesotan almost to the point of forfeiting his chance to win. For Republican conventions don't usually nominate people who openly knife party policy or party leaders—especially when that policy seeks to restrain the arbitrary acts of labor leaders that recently cost the nation hundreds of millions of dollars in the coal strike and may cost even more millions if the rail unions aren't also brought within that policy of restraint.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

An Unsordid Act

"THE Economist," undoubtedly one of the most important weeklies in England, if not in the world, has this to say of ERP:

"In time of peace, in order to aid nations geographically remote and politically separate from the Americas, at a time of great internal shortages, the United States is ready to give away over $5 billion worth of commodities as the first instalment of a wider programme, to give them for peaceful economic reconstruction and, save for minor exceptions, to give them without political conditions of any sort. A year ago, the project would have been inconceivable—Congress was then making desperately heavy weather over only $400 million for aid to Greece and Turkey. Ten years ago, such an initiative would have driven the nation en masse into the arms of the America Firsters.

And search back as one may through the annals of the United States or of any other Power, there is no record of a comparable act of inspired and generous diplomacy."

It adds:

". . . It will be difficult, after this demonstration of international solidarity, to go on repeating the old gibes about American isolationism, the old complacent references to American political immaturity. In recent months, the American public, in its eagerness for information, its sustained interest in foreign affairs, and in its acceptance of positive and onerous international responsibility, is rapidly qualifying for the title of the least isolationist and self-absorbed of peoples. . ."

But I fear that "The Economist" does not altogether grasp the reason for the change in American attitude. The editors of this magazine attribute much of the success of ERP to Messrs, Marshall, Acheson, Vandenberg and Douglas. They might have added Bernard Baruch, Herbert Hoover, Christian Herter and dozens of others.

And there is danger in any misunderstanding about ERP. The American people do not want it to be another costly flop like the British Loan. They do not expect ERP to be dissipated and wasted. As a matter of fact, they could not afford to have it dissipated and wasted.

The American people do not want a war with Soviet Russia or any other country. They do not believe that such a war will benefit the victor any more than the vanquished. They know that the last war cost more than $300,000,000,000 and left the country with a debt of $252,000,000,000, a government budget of roughly $40,000,000,000. They are convinced that the next war will alter their economic system and devastate their social and political life.

Ergo, they are willing to take out a time insurance policy and pay a high rate. If Soviet Russia is contained east of the Elbe, north of the Italian-Greek-Turkish line in the Mediterranean, out of the Near East altogether, out of China, peace may for a considerable period be possible.

This formula involves the revival of the economies of 17 or more nations. It requires an American underwriting of their powers of economic and political survival. It forces upon the United States the responsibility of sustaining a standard of living among these peoples, high enough to discourage revolution, high enough to create a climate antagonistic to Communistic blandishments among the proletariat and the intellectuals — the latter being particularly prone to travel in alien and distant green pastures.

The formula is risky and contains within itself many germs of its own destruction. But so does any other formula that anyone can conceive. If the Russians really want a war, they can have one tomorrow morning, as the atmosphere is full of causes for war. The same is true of the United States. The marvel of it is that incident after incident has occurred and both sides have indicated a vast capacity for forbearance. But that does not mean that war may not come before ERP accomplishes its purposes.

There, in a nutshell, is the situation. If the statesmen of Europe and China and our ECA administrators use our credit carefully, constructively, vigilantly, it may accomplish its ends. If the billions of American credit provide a wild holiday of spending for spending's sake, it will do infinite harm and may ruin the United States as well as Western Europe.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Expectancy

I once heard of a minister who went every Sunday to one of his parishioners and borrowed ten dollars—promptly returning it on the following Monday morning. The curiosity of the minister's friend being aroused, he asked why it was that he had to borrow this ten dollars every week. The minister replied that he seemed to deliver a better sermon with that money in his pocket!

To many this may appear strange, but many years ago, at least in the small town, few ministers ever had so much as even ten dollars in their pocket, come Sunday morning! I know, for my father was a minister. We all work better with a little assurance or hope wrapped up or tucked away in some manner to serve us in our daily climb.

Our whole hope of heaven is centered in this one word of Expectancy. We believe. We have faith. We look to God, through Jesus Christ, and through every evidence of beauty and marvelous creation upon this earth. And so we look beyond our own limited eyesight and pray for spiritual vision to lead us into a new understanding of life here—and beyond.

All through my early years in school I carried that little packet of Expectancy, in my knapsack, as it were. Looking forward, hoping, reaching. It gave to me incentive and ambition, made me curious and adventurous. It made me dismiss all appearance of failure. It was a light in my heart: I am sure that this experience of mine is that of most readers of these talks.

The agnostic blots out his own vision, whereas the man or woman of faith sees afar, and journeys toward it. The agnostics would never have gone forward and created the marvelous, almost miraculous, things that we have today to add to our comfort and knowledge, and ease of life. It's "faith, the substance of things hoped for," that drives all mankind forward. It's fear that would tear it all apart, leaving the world in chaos!

"Only that day dawns to which we are awake," said Thoreau. It's this expectancy in our heart that gives us our sense of consciousness—that awakens us to every dawn.

Lewis Asks Court To Dismiss Pension Petition

While John L. Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges are going ahead with the setting up of machinery to pay the $100-a-month pension payments to retired soft coal miners, the miners' chief has asked a federal court not to block their efforts. That would indicate that the two trustees are not too certain that they have the authority to proceed although Mr. Lewis contends the court has no jurisdiction over the dispute.

Mr. Lewis's request to the court was made necessary when Erza Van Horn, spokesman for coal operators and their member of the board of trustees in charge of the welfare fund, petitioned the court to set aside the compromise agreement voted by Lewis, for the miners, and Senator Bridges, the neutral trustee. It is difficult to foresee what the consequences would be should the court grant Mr. Van Horn's petition.

There are those who believe Mr. Van Horn's action has some legal justification. Under the agreement approved by Mr. Lewis and Senator Bridges, there are a number of miners made eligible for the pensions who are employed by operators not signatory to the contract setting up the fund and hence not subject to the payment of the ten cents-a-ton royalty which makes up the pension fund.

Mr. Van Horn contends this violates the Taft-Hartley Act. He has informed the court that the Act specifies as an unfair labor practice "to cause or attempt to cause an employer to pay or deliver or agree to pay or deliver any money or other thing of value, in the nature of an exaction, for services which are not performed or not to be performed."

It is argued that this point has substance, but of more doubtful validity, it would seem, is a second contention by the operators' leader that Senator Bridges, as neutral trustee, had no right to write the compromise plan because he was supposed to act merely as an umpire in the proceedings. To say the least, this appears on first thought to be an wholly new view of the role and out of step with general belief.

Mr. Van Horn states further that the pension system might bankrupt the welfare fund, which now exceeds $32,000,000. He further contends that to prevent such a turn of affairs it might force higher levies from the coal companies to maintain it. We question whether this is a point for the court to decide.

Mr. Lewis, in his written petition to the court, declares that "no plan seems to be satisfactory to him (Van Horn) unless it be of his own choosing." In the absence of any constructive plan by Mr. Van Horn to bring about a more amicable agreement for the paying of pensions, Mr. Lewis seems to have made out a case for himself. Unless Mr. Van Horn can bring forward a proposal that would be an improvement over what has been voted by the trustees it might be to the advantage of the operators to replace him with someone with a willingness to meet the problem on a more cooperative basis and not be content with attempting to undo that which others might consider the best solution to the whole problem.

If we had steel we could keep factories running. If we had fuel we could keep our houses warm. And if we had the old time, undiluted American spirit we would have both steel and fuel.

A Call To Faith In Our Independence Declaration

One paragraph stands out in the address delivered by Crawford H. Greenwalt, the duPont Company's new and youthful president, at the annual dinner of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington. Drawn as it was from his own tested knowledge, it gave his thesis force and conviction.

"I have spent the greater part of my working life in scientific endeavors," he said, "and I have learned by hard experience one guiding principle common to all scientific research—never to discard the results of a well-demonstrated experience in favor of an hypothesis that denies those results."

He went on to speak of the American political and economic experiment "launched some 160 years ago." Its results, he observed, have not been perfect, yet "by any test that could be applied, it has turned out successfully—so successfully that it has never been matched in the long sweep of history in giving such great benefits to such a multitude of people."

In contrast to this well-demonstrated experiment, he pointed out, there are theories maintaining that mankind's sole hope is more and more government domination. He added:

"Socialism, fascism, nazism, communism—they differ only in degree as to application, and the end results differ not at all. They are semantic rungs in a ladder that reaches from freedom to slavery."

The words may vary, but the hypothesis is the same and the consequences certain.

The speaker's thesis was that faith in the principles laid down by the Declaration of Independence—faith in equality of opportunity for all and in freedom for every individual to rise to any height his talent will permit—is the essence of American achievement. This faith has made the nation great. It is the "principal thing we have to offer the world" and the source of America's strength.

Its Merry May Time Again Through The Land

We turn back the pages of time when the population of villages, yielding to a sudden and joyous impulse, went through the woods, brought back "the may" (white hawthorn blossoms) and garlanding themselves with all the flowers of spring, danced around the Maypole (a fixed pole as high as the mast of a vessel of a hundred tons). Doubtless the Mayflower descendants, celebrating hereabouts lately, regret that the Puritans uprooted the poles and banned attendant jollities.

Anyway, the original day has come again, just as it was and ought always to be—and with it the month acclaimed through all the centuries as Merry May. Over an earth, grown suddenly green, stretch the arms of trees, casting as of yore the brooding friendliness of their leaves. A fuller anthem in their branches announce the arrival of those late comers, the thrush, the wren and the catbird, with which the aboreal choir is complete. Whether or not they have sermons to preach, they set a gay example,

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Artificial Respiration

Every one should learn artificial respiration because some day this knowledge may save a life. A simple method will suffice; it is far better to do something than nothing while waiting for a pulmotor or more efficient procedure. The outcome is often determined during the first few minutes after the accident.

There are many ways of administering resuscitation without making use of elaborate equipment. Mouth-to-mouth breathing is one of the oldest. It is mentioned in the Bible at about the time of Moses and is surprisingly efficient so long as it can be maintained. However, few individuals can breathe into the mouth of another without becoming fatigued after a short time. But it has the advantage of being harmless to the victim as the pressure exerted is low and cannot overdistend the lungs.

The Silvester plan is easy to learn and ranks with the Schafer in popularity. The subject is placed on his back with the arms at the side. Inspiration is induced by raising and moving the arms over his head which elevates the thoracic cage allowing air to rush into the lungs. The arms are then returned to the side and pressed against the chest to produce expiration. The main objection to the procedure is that drainage from the mouth is difficult to obtain and any fluid that comes up is drawn back into the lungs.

In hospitals, Howard's method is used most frequently, especially should the individual stop breathing while on the operating table. The patient is usually lying in a supine position and, by squeezing and releasing the chest with the hands, expiration and inspiration are facilitated.

In the Schafer method, the individual is placed on his abdomen with the arms over the head. This technic is probably the best known of all particularly among those who are acquainted with first aid procedures. Pressure is applied to the lower ribs, forcing air out. When the operator releases his hold, air is sucked in but the amount depends upon the normal elastic recoil of the chest. This is a drawback because individuals who are not breathing are relaxed and the lungs do not re-expand readily. Studies have shown that little air enters and leaves after a short period of resuscitation. Nevertheless it is helpful and, if no other equipment is available, can be employed for as long as 8 to 12 hours.

The Eve method has been used for several years in the British navy and is becoming more popular in this country. It is not as beneficial as the mehcanical devices but is better than the simpler measures just described. Some equipment is required, however,—a hard board or plank, which can be balanced on an object like a log or wooden horse. The sufferer is placed on the plank, resting on his abdomen, and the rescuers move the board up and down in a teeter-totter fashion. When the victim is in the head-down position, the stomach and intestines push the diaphragm headward and force air out of lungs. With the feet down, the diaphragm moves in the opposite direction, increasing chest capacity and drawing air into the lungs.

Scrofula

M.R. writes: Must tubercular glands of the neck be removed by operation?

REPLY

Surgical removal is rarely necessary unless they persist as a focus of infection or draining abscesses develops. This disease is rarely encountered today, as the pasteurization of milk practically eliminated it. Streptomycin should be tried as there is a possibility that this drug will afford a cure.

Dreamer

Mrs. M. writes: I dream every night but can never remember the incidents. Can you tell me why?

REPLY

No. This is the experience that most of us have—our dreams vanish into thin air. This is probably because the experiences occur at one of the lower levels of consciousness. The details of nightmares, on the other hand, seem to remain more vividly with us.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

All right officer, I'll go quietly.

A crowd of 6,000 attended the first night's showing of the Los Angeles police show, and it was really a spectacular affair. You can always tell when it's police show time . . . the cop stops you going 26 miles an hour in the 25-mile zone and the judge says "thirty days or thirty tickets."

Some guy heard I was going to be there—he took the thirty days.

When I saw all those police cars drive up, I got a little excited. In fact, for a minute I thought Gypsy Rose was on the bill.

And the lighting effects on the stage were really tricky. They had one 20-watt bulb in the ceiling and bounced the beam off the badges in the front row.

I told a few jokes and then I stopped. The court reporter was taking down everything I said and a plainclothes squad was picking up witnesses.

But, seriously, I was quite a sensation with the men on the force. In fact, the ballistics expert couldn't get over the shape of my head.

I was happy to appear at the show but I couldn't turn down an invitation from the police anyway. My brother turned them down once and they got him out with tear gas.

Halfway through the evening I did get a bit uncomfortable. They put a bright light on me and twelve of my listeners stood up, pointed and said, "That's the man."

This show is going to run through May 11 and it's for a very worthy cause. Of course, when you go, remember one thing. Don't come in a stolen car.

Grange Master Goss Warns Of Another "Dust Bowl" Disaster; Two Of Hitler's Bankers Move Back To Power In Germany; Pres. Truman Minus Piano

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 6—Albert Goss, master of the National Grange, bluntly warned President Truman the other day that we are inviting another "dust bowl" disaster unless we begin redeveloping the grasslands of the West.

"I have just returned from a trip to Wyoming and can tell you that the dangers are very real," reported Goss. "There has been too much plowing up of the grasslands we developed as insurance against future dust storms."

The grange leader, who is the ablest farm spokesman in Washington, explained that the high prices and demand for wheat for domestic and foreign aid were chiefly responsible, since farmers didn't want to maintain pasture lands when they could turn a quick profit on grain crops.

"Most people take it for granted that we have licked the dust-bowl hazards which caused such tragedy in the West some years back," added Goss. "However, dust can blow again, and will blow in my opinion within the next few years unless those grasslands are restored."

Goss also urged Truman to consider a "more flexible" support price plan for farm products to prevent possible price collapses, principally in grains, when European nations become self-sustaining and buy less grain from us.

"Our farm production is now 35 per cent greater than before the war, while domestic consumption is only 25 per cent more," Goss reported. "We are okay as long as Europe continues to take the surplus, but if there is a bumper grain crop abroad in the next year or two and our exports suddenly decrease, prices are likely to dive with them."

Goss recommended fluctuating support prices (sub-parity prices guaranteed by the government) from year to year, based on supply and demand, also a "stop-loss" price floor for wheat and certain other major crops, to prevent disastrous price plunges.

The President promised to think it over.

Hitler's Bankers

It hasn't been noticed in the welter of international news, but two of Hitler's former bankers have now been able to move back into power in Germany.

They are Herman J. Abs and August Schniewind who have been named president and chairman, respectively, of the board of directors for the new tri-zonal Bank Deutsche Laender (Bank of the German States). This bank operates under the U.S., French and British, but the German board members were allowed to make their selection at a secret meeting.

Because of the growing U.S. policy of forgiving the Nazis, nothing was done to block the two bankers, but the whole thing was explained to Secretary of State George Marshall in a confidential airgram, sent by U. S. political adviser Robert Murphy.

"Proceedings of that meeting not made public," Murphy radioed the Secretary of State, "but there are indications that vote on Abs was 7 to 4 and vote on Schniewind was 8 to 3 . . . No easy method exists for determining what voting really was, since customarily German meetings are secret."

Herr Abs was a director of the Deutsche Bank and Herr Schniewind was a director of the Reichsbank under Hitler.

In his confidential airgram, Murphy reported: "Although (Abs) apparently never was an NSDAP (Nazi) member, he cooperated hand in glove during the Third Reich with leading political personalities in government, industry and party circles. Abs obtained special permission of the Reichs Wirtschafts Ministerium to hold an excess of 20 directorships, a limit established by the corporation law of 1937. He became prominent in 1937 as chief of foreign department of Deutsche Bank, and was in many circles considered to be the most brilliant and energetic member of Deutsche Bank's vorstand (board of directors). Subject took important role in imperialistic expansion of Deutsche Bank following Nazi political and military absorption."

Herr Schniewind, recently appointed liaison officer for the European Recovery Program, was a director of the Reichsbank under Hjalmar Schacht until Schacht fell into disfavor with the Nazis. Then Schniewind, still a Nazi favorite, moved to Seiler and Company, a banking firm in Munich, where he increased in influence as the bank was "Aryanized."

Seven other German bankers, all with democratic political backgrounds, were considered along with Abs and Schniewind for the banking posts. But the two Nazi sympathizers won out.

Murphy hinted to Secretary Marshall that the British were to blame for Abs.

"The French financial adviser has voiced objection to Abs for position in question and U. S. financial adviser concurs," reported Murphy. "Technically, however, Abs has been denazified according to regular procedures in the British zone."

Murphy admitted that the tripartite Vetting party, an organ of the military government that must clear all German officials, had registered lukewarm objections.

"Tripartite Vetting party states it is now attempting to reach agreement on standard of suitability to apply to appointees of Bank Deutsche Laender," Murphy explained in his report to Marshall. "Since no standards are agreed upon, tripartite Vetting party has merely indicated to Allied Bank Commission, to which it reports, that it doubts suitability of Schniewind and Abs and believes that if full available evidence were known to German board of directors, they would probably reject both men."

Significantly the Allied Bank Commission could veto the two German bankers, but reports from Germany indicate it will do the opposite.

No Piano

President Truman always takes great delight in inaugurating the "buddy poppy" relief drive of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. For, back in Missouri, he used to help put over the drive as a VFW member himself.

The other day when Truman received the first poppy from five-year-old Sandra Marie Smith, he reached in his pocket and handed his tiny visitor a bright, new half-dollar.

"Oh, thank you," replied the little girl, who lives at the VFW home for war widows and orphans in Eaton Rapids, Michigan. "And now, will you play the piano?"

The President laughingly replied that he would be glad to accommodate, but unfortunately there was no piano in his office.

Suspicion Of Dr. Condon's Loyalty Should Be Removed

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

By a vote of 301 to 29, the House of Representatives has directed the Secretary of Commerce to transmit to it the F.B.I. report on Dr. Edward U. Condon, Director of the National Bureau of Standards. This Bureau is the most important research organization of the Federal government. Its director has access to confidential information sought by every foreign spy in this country.

The Secretary of Commerce has refused to send this report to Congress. President Truman supports the Secretary in his refusal. On previous occasions the Courts have held that the President cannot be made to honor such requests by Congress when he states it would not be in the public interest to do so.

Vast Uncertainty Foreseen

So, this deadlock will probably lead to nothing but a vast uncertainty in the public mind. In justice to Dr. Condon and the public service, this suspicion should be removed. It would be easy to do so if President Truman and Congress both got off their high-horses and dealt with the matter on a common sense basis.

The resolution upon which the House voted was reported out by the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. The chairman of that committee, Mr. Woolverton of New Jersey, and the former chairmen, Mr. Lea of California—one a Republican and the other a Democrat—are two of the most highly respected members of Congress. Both are lawyers.

Let the F.B.I. report on Dr. Condon be shown in confidence to Messrs. Woolverton and Lea. If, after seeing it, they report to Congress that the report does not impugn the loyalty of Dr. Condon, the House and the country would accept their statement.

The President is quite right, in the ordinary case, in guarding the secrecy of F.B.I. reports. The usefulness of the F.B.I. would be seriously impaired if information given to it in confidence were made public property.

Furthermore, a group of scientists who have come to Dr. Condon's defense say that the government is apt to lose the service of able scientists if they are to be the victims of unproven rumors.

Dr. Condon is in the unfortunate position of having been appointed to his present position by Henry A. Wallace, who is now the Communist "Daily Worker's" candidate for President. But who appointed Wallace?

Favored Russian Scientists

A year ago, speaking of Russia, Condon said: "We must welcome their scientists to our laboratories as they have welcomed us to theirs (sic), and extend the base of scientific information with this great people. Of course we must behave this way toward the scientists of all nations. I only mention Russia because she is right now the target of attack by those irresponsibles who think she would be a suitable adversary in the next world war."

Dr. Condon is said to have had close contacts with a person alleged, by a "self-confessed Soviet espionage agent, to have engaged in espionage activities with the Russians in Washington, D. C., from 1941 to 1944."

On the other hand, it is said that the F.B.I. report states that there is no evidence that Dr. Condon's contact involved anything disloyal or illegal. In justice to Dr. Condon, it can be said that if everyone who has drunk vodka at the Soviet Embassy at Washington can be charged with disloyalty, few persons in official Washington would go free.

In putting the matter in the hands of two distinguished Congressmen, we can do justice to an American citizen, and to the American people.

Stassen Did Himself Harm By His Tactics In Ohio Primary

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 6—Abraham Lincoln was certainly considered a good political strategist in his day and, in his effort to win the first Republican nomination for the presidency, he gave his lieutenants a piece of political advice which Harold Stassen might better have followed in 1948.

Lincoln advised that it wasn't good tactics to try to get a state's delegation away from a "favorite son" but instead to line up "second choices."

Had Stassen done this in Ohio, he might have placed himself in a favorable position for the Republican nomination. Instead he has succeeded in antagonizing many of the most influential members of the Republican Party. His blunder in Ohio may well cost him the presidential nomination and it could conceivably make it difficult for him to win even second place.

Stassen has been looked upon as the youthful leader who somehow stands apart from the so-called "Old Guard" group or the scheming politicians. Young men have looked to him for leadership in an age in which the people generally abhor the practices of party politicians. But the former Minnesota governor did something in Ohio which has hurt him irreparably with large sections of the Republican Party who will have much to say about the nomination.

Tactics Unforgivable In Politics

It was not the invasion of a "favorite son" state in itself that hurt Stassen. This, it may be argued, is no political error of magnitude in an era in which preference primaries are being held, though many political observers will think it a mistake in tactics anyway. What Stassen did that is almost unforgivable in politics was to enter certain districts in Ohio where the labor vote is predominant and try to knife Senator Taft because of the latter's championship of the new labor-management relations law.

After all, this law was passed by two-thirds of both Houses of Congress. The Republican Party almost to a man supported it. Yet Stassen went into Ohio to capitalize on labor's resentment toward a Republican leader. Here is how a United Press dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, described it:

"The Stassen candidates were filed largely in industrial areas of the state where possible resentment would be highest against Taft for his sponsorship of the Taft-Hartley labor law."

Stassen made it clear he would have voted for the law but he criticized Senator Taft's relationship to the law and indicated clearly that he would amend certain provisions. The plain purpose of such speeches in Ohio was to indicate that Stassen would be likely to help labor weaken the law whereas Senator Taft, if elected president, might not do so.

What Stassen did might have been all right in a national campaign in which he was fighting against a Democratic opponent, but going into the state of Ohio to try to wrest the nomination from a rival Republican on these grounds has certainly caused him plenty of embarrassment with the large group of conservatives in the party who will have the final say when the convention meets.

Labor Vote Not For Him

Stassen made a good record on labor relations when he was governor of Minnesota but were he to win the nomination he would nevertheless not get the labor vote, for it will go to President Truman who vetoed and denounced the entire Taft-Hartley Act. So it is not at all clear what purpose really was served by Stassen's maneuver other than to create antagonisms and friction inside the party by criticizing Senator Taft on the labor issue. Undoubtedly many Democratic voters entered the Ohio primaries to help put Taft in a hole. Even Stassen's capture of a few delegates in handpicked labor districts, however, doesn't erase the fact that on a state-wide basis Senator Taft's delegates ran highest and Stassen's candidate for delegate-at-large ran last and didn't win a place in the delegation.

Senator Taft has not won the nomination by his victory in Ohio but what Stassen did there may have immeasurably hurt the Minnesotan almost to the point of forfeiting his chance to win. For Republican conventions don't usually nominate people who openly knife party policy or party leaders—especially when that policy seeks to restrain the arbitrary acts of labor leaders that recently cost the nation hundreds of millions of dollars in the coal strike and may cost even more millions if the rail unions aren't also brought within that policy of restraint.

These Days

An Unsordid Act

"THE Economist," undoubtedly one of the most important weeklies in England, if not in the world, has this to say of ERP:

"In time of peace, in order to aid nations geographically remote and politically separate from the Americas, at a time of great internal shortages, the United States is ready to give away over $5 billion worth of commodities as the first instalment of a wider programme, to give them for peaceful economic reconstruction and, save for minor exceptions, to give them without political conditions of any sort. A year ago, the project would have been inconceivable—Congress was then making desperately heavy weather over only $400 million for aid to Greece and Turkey. Ten years ago, such an initiative would have driven the nation en masse into the arms of the America Firsters.

And search back as one may through the annals of the United States or of any other Power, there is no record of a comparable act of inspired and generous diplomacy."

It adds:

". . . It will be difficult, after this demonstration of international solidarity, to go on repeating the old gibes about American isolationism, the old complacent references to American political immaturity. In recent months, the American public, in its eagerness for information, its sustained interest in foreign affairs, and in its acceptance of positive and onerous international responsibility, is rapidly qualifying for the title of the least isolationist and self-absorbed of peoples. . ."

But I fear that "The Economist" does not altogether grasp the reason for the change in American attitude. The editors of this magazine attribute much of the success of ERP to Messrs. Marshall, Acheson, Vandenberg and Douglas. They might have added Bernard Baruch, Herbert Hoover, Christian Herter and dozens of others.

And there is danger in any misunderstanding about ERP. The American people do not want it to be another costly flop like the British Loan. They do not expect ERP to be dissipated and wasted. As a matter of fact, they could not afford to have it dissipated and wasted.

The American people do not want a war with Soviet Russia or any other country. They do not believe that such a war will benefit the victor any more than the vanquished. They know that the last war cost more than $300,000,000,000 and left the country with a debt of $252,000,000,000, a government budget of roughly $40,000,000,000. They are convinced that the next war will alter their economic system and devastate their social and political life.

Ergo, they are willing to take out a time insurance policy and pay a high rate. If Soviet Russia is contained east of the Elbe, north of the Italian-Greek-Turkish line in the Mediterranean, out of the Near East altogether, out of China, peace may for a considerable period be possible.

This formula involves the revival of the economies of 17 or more nations. It requires an American underwriting of their powers of economic and political survival. It forces upon the United States the responsibility of sustaining a standard of living among these peoples, high enough to discourage revolution, high enough to create a climate antagonistic to Communistic blandishments among the proletariat and the intellectuals — the latter being particularly prone to travel in alien and distant green pastures.

The formula is risky and contains within itself many germs of its own destruction. But so does any other formula that anyone can conceive. If the Russians really want a war, they can have one tomorrow morning, as the atmosphere is full of causes for war. The same is true of the United States. The marvel of it is that incident after incident has occurred and both sides have indicated a vast capacity for forbearance. But that does not mean that war may not come before ERP accomplishes its purposes.

There, in a nutshell, is the situation. If the statesmen of Europe and China and our ECA administrators use our credit carefully, constructively, vigilantly, it may accomplish its ends. If the billions of American credit provide a wild holiday of spending for spending's sake, it will do infinite harm and may ruin the United States as well as Western Europe.

Today's Talk

Expectancy

I once heard of a minister who went every Sunday to one of his parishioners and borrowed ten dollars—promptly returning it on the following Monday morning. The curiosity of the minister's friend being aroused, he asked why it was that he had to borrow this ten dollars every week. The minister replied that he seemed to deliver a better sermon with that money in his pocket!

To many this may appear strange, but many years ago, at least in the small town, few ministers ever had so much as even ten dollars in their pocket, come Sunday morning! I know, for my father was a minister. We all work better with a little assurance or hope wrapped up or tucked away in some manner to serve us in our daily climb.

Our whole hope of heaven is centered in this one word of Expectancy. We believe. We have faith. We look to God, through Jesus Christ, and through every evidence of beauty and marvelous creation upon this earth. And so we look beyond our own limited eyesight and pray for spiritual vision to lead us into a new understanding of life here—and beyond.

All through my early years in school I carried that little packet of Expectancy, in my knapsack, as it were. Looking forward, hoping, reaching. It gave to me incentive and ambition, made me curious and adventurous. It made me dismiss all appearance of failure. It was a light in my heart: I am sure that this experience of mine is that of most readers of these talks.

The agnostic blots out his own vision, whereas the man or woman of faith sees afar, and journeys toward it. The agnostics would never have gone forward and created the marvelous, almost miraculous, things that we have today to add to our comfort and knowledge, and ease of life. It's "faith, the substance of things hoped for," that drives all mankind forward. It's fear that would tear it all apart, leaving the world in chaos!

"Only that day dawns to which we are awake," said Thoreau. It's this expectancy in our heart that gives us our sense of consciousness—that awakens us to every dawn.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Notice that results of European elections brought thousands of American tourists to Europe this spring. When I was a lad in Philadelphia they tried to discourage the tourist vote.

It has fallen off in New York also these last twenty years or so. The floating population of good old Tammany seems to have run aground.

There hasn't been one case of ballot tenagling in the numerous presidential primaries. Everything has been as square as a checker board.

I haven't heard one candidate yell fraud. Maybe he is scared they will think he yelled freud.

On the other mitt nobody has admitted he was beaten fair and honestly. Everybody likes a good loser but himself.

Austrian Peace Talks Suspended

LONDON, May 6 (AP)—Four-power negotiations for an Austrian peace treaty were suspended indefinitely today on the initiative of the United States.

Austrian Chancellor Leopold Figl said in Vienna that the interruption "destroys all our hopes for an early conclusion of the independence treaty."

The United States delegation here left the way open for new suggestions from Russia to keep the conference alive, but the day's developments indicated that the negotiations may be headed for the same sort of deadlock that obstructs the writing of a German peace treaty.

The suspension came as the foreign ministers' deputies prepared to hold their 111th session on Austria. The deputies reassembled in February and have been meeting almost daily without reaching more than one definite accord on a major point—limitation of the Austrian armed forces to 53,000 men.

It was Samuel Reber, the American deputy, who was to be chairman, who brought matters to the showdown stage by announcing he would not call another session unless new proposals were submitted on the questions of Yugoslav reparations and territorial demands on Austria.

Yugoslavia, supported by Russia, demands about 800 square miles of Austrian territory, a demand recently reduced from 1,000 square miles, and $150,000,000 in reparations.

The British, American and French objections to these demands remained firm, and Reber said he saw no useful purpose in holding additional meetings unless there were new proposals.

Such proposals obviously could come only from the Russians and would have to be in the nature of concessions if they are to be entertained by the Western Powers.

Boeing Company Balks At Collective Bargaining

SEATTLE, May 6 — (AP) — The strikebound Boeing Airplane Company said today it would "respectfully decline" to attend joint union-company conferences in Washington, D. C., if the purpose of the meetings was "to bring the parties into collective bargaining negotiations."

The company said, however, that if desired, "our representatives will attend for the purpose of giving those present complete facts in support of our position that the strike is illegal."

The international Association of Machinists is the parent union of the Aeronautical Mechanics Union, whose 14,500 members have been on strike more than two weeks at Boeing's Seattle plant.

In Flint Mich., 2,500 street lamps are replaced three times a year on the average, making the bill chargeable to vandalism $5,000 annually. Errol Flynn Flies East Minus Wife

HOLLYWOOD, May 6 (AP)—Errol Flynn left by airliner for St. Louis today without his pretty wife, Nora Eddington, and the fact that he went alone brought conflicting interpretations.

Sources close to Flynn said the actor and his wife had gone to the airport together, intending to enplane for New York. Then, friends said, he and Mrs. Flynn had a slight spat and Flynn wound up on an American Airline plane for St. Louis, along with Peter Stackpole, national magazine photographer (Life), and a pal of the actor's

This version was denied by Mrs. Jack Eddington, Mrs. Flynn's mother.

"She never intended to go with Errol," Mrs. Eddington said. "Their baby (Rory, a year old) is ill and Nora won't be leaving for several days. She will join Errol in New York."

Flynn later turned up in Columbia, Mo., with the explanation that he had "missed his plane." He was with Stackpole.

Flynn, at Columbia, denied he had left for the East because of a tift with his wife. He had had some difficulty with an airline observation, he said, but none with his wife. He added she was to meet him in New York.

In Hollywood, Flynn's studio announced tonight that the actor's wife would leave by plane shortly after midnight to meet her husband in St. Louis.

"He just made a mistake and got on the wrong plane," said a studio spokesman.

Marshall Pleads For U. S. Trade Act

WASHINGTON, May 6. — (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall declared today that if Congress cripples the reciprocal trade program this nation's global prestige will suffer. America stands today as the leader of the non-Communist world, he said.

Pleading for a three-year continuation of the trade act, Marshall told a House Ways and Means Subcommittee the reciprocal tariffs program is the "cornerstone and keystone of our foreign economic policy."

This program permits the State Department to lower American tariffs if other nations agree to ease their trade barriers. The act expires June 12, unless Congress renews it.

Marshall said America's system of individual freedom "is being challenged by another system that says the state should be supreme." He described the reciprocal trade policy as a "well tried, useful and effective instrument by which we can develop economic ties with nations that believe as we do and want the same kind of world as we do."

He then declared:

"Any serious weakening of the trade agreements act at this critical period in world affairs would almost certainly be regarded by other countries not only as a surrender of our leadership in the international economic field but also a repudiation of much that has been accomplished by our leadership in that field."

Plan For Doing Away With Railway Express Agency Being Considered

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — A plan for folding up the 109-year old Railway Express Agency is being discussed in the government and in some segments of the railroad industry.

The idea is to take the long unprofitable "small package" business out of railroad operations and shift it mainly to the Post Office Department for handling as parcel post.

The theory is that this would leave the rail lines free to concentrate on, and improve, the heavy goods services which have always been their specialty.

Railway Express, as the general public knows it, would cease to exist. But the big bulk shippers would continue to have such a service in the form of deluxe, high-speed freight operations provided at special rates.

The plan originated with Interstate Commerce Commissioner J. Haden Alldredge. He has made no public statement about it, but has discussed it in detail with postal officials, shippers and some railroad people.

Board Chairman Robert R. Young, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, issued a statement tonight describing the Railway Express operations as "uneconomical" and favoring their eventual elimination.

Lane, Key Legislators Will Confer Monday

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 6 (AP)—General Assembly leaders on both parties will have a chance to give Gov. Lane their ideas on a projected special session when they confer here next Monday.

The Governor said today he had invited these key legislators to a parley in the State House:

Senate — President Joseph R. Byrnes (D - Balto 5th), Majority Leader L. Harold Sothoron (D-Prince George's), Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) and Chairman William P. Bolton (D-Baltimore County) of the Judicial Proceedings Committee.

House — Speaker C. Ferdinand Sybert (D-Howard), Majority Leader LeRoy Pumphrey (D - Prince George's), Minority Leader Jacob R. Ramsburg (R - Frederick) and Chairman Bernard S. Melnicove (D-Baltimore 4th).

Barkley And Herter Win Collier's Magazine Award

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Sen. Alben W. Barkley, Kentucky Democrat, and Rep. Christian A. Herter, Massachusetts Republican, are the winners of Collier's magazine awards to congressmen for distinguished services to the republic in 1947.

Barkley, the magazine announced today, was honored "primarily because of his superb loyalty to the two-party system." Herter was recognized "mainly because of his work in the field of foreign affairs."

A White House ceremony is planned for Saturday at which the legislators will receive from President Truman silver plaques awarded them. Their selection also carries with it two gifts of $10,000 each to public purposes which they designate.

Hockley Heads State Roads Advisory Council

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 6 (AP) — Gov. Lane announced today the appointment of Chester F. Hockley, Baltimore industrialist, as chairman of the Maryland Highway Advisory Council.

Hockley succeeds Howard Bruce, Baltimore, who was confirmed today as deputy administrator of the Economic Co-operation Administration.

An original member of the council, Hockley has been president of the Davison Chemical Corporation since its reorganization in 1935.

Lane formed the highway council last year to advise him and the State Roads Commission in developing a master plan for Maryland's $200,000,000 highway program.

White Australia

CANBERRA (AP)—The Australian Government has ordered 600 Chinese to leave the country by the end of the year. They are the remainder of nearly 3,000 Chinese refugees who came here during World War II. Most of them are working as businessmen, cafe proprietors, market gardeners and nurses.

Australia is deporting them to conform with the "White Australia" policy.

Cutter Company Recalls Entire Line Of Solutions

BERKELEY, Calif., May 6 (AP)—Cutter Laboratories today recalled from hospitals throughout the country their entire line of solutions for mass injections through the veins. Discovery of contamination in another shipment of the company prompted the action.

Dr. R. K. Cutter announced the recall as "the only step to be taken in the interests of public safety."

"Contamination has been found in another and entirely different glucose solution, dextrose 10 per cent in Ringer's," Dr. Cutter said. A shipment of saline solution from the laboratory last week instituted a nationwide search by the Federal Food and Drug Adminsitration.

Dr. Cutter said "company officials believe that discovery of the new contamination makes questionable the use of any product produced in their intravenous solutions department until this entire contamination difficulty is solved."

The work stoppage by the CIO Brewery Workers' Union is in its second week and has cut off completely the supply of local beer. Austrian Peace Talks Suspended

LONDON, May 6 (AP)—Four-power negotiations for an Austrian peace treaty were suspended indefinitely today on the initiative of the United States.

Austrian Chancellor Leopold Figl said in Vienna that the interruption "destroys all our hopes for an early conclusion of the independence treaty."

The United States delegation here left the way open for new suggestions from Russia to keep the conference alive, but the day's developments indicated that the negotiations may be headed for the same sort of deadlock that obstructs the writing of a German peace treaty.

The suspension came as the foreign ministers' deputies prepared to hold their 111th session on Austria. The deputies reassembled in February and have been meeting almost daily without reaching more than one definite accord on a major point—limitation of the Austrian armed forces to 53,000 men.

It was Samuel Reber, the American deputy, who was to be chairman, who brought matters to the showdown stage by announcing he would not call another session unless new proposals were submitted on the questions of Yugoslav reparations and territorial demands on Austria.

Yugoslavia, supported by Russia, demands about 800 square miles of Austrian territory, a demand recently reduced from 1,000 square miles, and $150,000,000 in reparations.

The British, American and French objections to these demands remained firm, and Reber said he saw no useful purpose in holding additional meetings unless there were new proposals.

Such proposals obviously could come only from the Russians and would have to be in the nature of concessions if they are to be entertained by the Western Powers.

Boeing Company Balks At Collective Bargaining

SEATTLE, May 6 — (AP) — The strikebound Boeing Airplane Company said today it would "respectfully decline" to attend joint union-company conferences in Washington, D. C., if the purpose of the meetings was "to bring the parties into collective bargaining negotiations."

The company said, however, that if desired, "our representatives will attend for the purpose of giving those present complete facts in support of our position that the strike is illegal."

The international Association of Machinists is the parent union of the Aeronautical Mechanics Union, whose 14,500 members have been on strike more than two weeks at Boeing's Seattle plant.

Adams Is Confirmed

In Flint Mich., 2,500 street lamps are replaced three times a year on the average, making the bill chargeable to vandalism $5,000 annually. Errol Flynn Flies East Minus Wife

HOLLYWOOD, May 6 (AP)—Errol Flynn left by airliner for St. Louis today without his pretty wife, Nora Eddington, and the fact that he went alone brought conflicting interpretations.

Sources close to Flynn said the actor and his wife had gone to the airport together, intending to enplane for New York. Then, friends said, he and Mrs. Flynn had a slight spat and Flynn wound up on an American Airline plane for St. Louis, along with Peter Stackpole, national magazine photographer (Life), and a pal of the actor's.

This version was denied by Mrs. Jack Eddington, Mrs. Flynn's mother.

"She never intended to go with Errol," Mrs. Eddington said. "Their baby (Rory, a year old) is ill and Nora won't be leaving for several days. She will join Errol in New York."

Flynn later turned up in Columbia, Mo., with the explanation that he had "missed his plane." He was with Stackpole.

Flynn, at Columbia, denied he had left for the East because of a tift with his wife. He had had some difficulty with an airline observation, he said, but none with his wife. He added she was to meet him in New York.

In Hollywood, Flynn's studio announced tonight that the actor's wife would leave by plane shortly after midnight to meet her husband in St. Louis.

"He just made a mistake and got on the wrong plane," said a studio spokesman.

Marshall Pleads For U. S. Trade Act

WASHINGTON, May 6. — (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall declared today that if Congress cripples the reciprocal trade program this nation's global prestige will suffer. America stands today as the leader of the non-Communist world, he said.

Pleading for a three-year continuation of the trade act, Marshall told a House Ways and Means Subcommittee the reciprocal tariffs program is the "cornerstone and keystone of our foreign economic policy."

This program permits the State Department to lower American tariffs if other nations agree to ease their trade barriers. The act expires June 12, unless Congress renews it.

Marshall said America's system of individual freedom "is being challenged by another system that says the state should be supreme." He described the reciprocal trade policy as a "well tried, useful and effective instrument by which we can develop economic ties with nations that believe as we do and want the same kind of world as we do."

He then declared:

"Any serious weakening of the trade agreements act at this critical period in world affairs would almost certainly be regarded by other countries not only as a surrender of our leadership in the international economic field but also a repudiation of much that has been accomplished by our leadership in that field."

Plan For Doing Away With Railway Express Agency Being Considered

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — A plan for folding up the 109-year old Railway Express Agency is being discussed in the government and in some segments of the railroad industry.

The idea is to take the long unprofitable "small package" business out of railroad operations and shift it mainly to the Post Office Department for handling as parcel post.

The theory is that this would leave the rail lines free to concentrate on, and improve, the heavy goods services which have always been their specialty.

Railway Express, as the general public knows it, would cease to exist. But the big bulk shippers would continue to have such a service in the form of deluxe, high-speed freight operations provided at special rates.

The plan originated with Interstate Commerce Commissioner J. Haden Alldredge. He has made no public statement about it, but has discussed it in detail with postal officials, shippers and some railroad people.

Board Chairman Robert R. Young, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, issued a statement tonight describing the Railway Express operations as "uneconomical" and favoring their eventual elimination.

House — Speaker C. Ferdinand Sybert (D-Howard), Majority Leader LeRoy Pumphrey (D - Prince George's), Minority Leader Jacob R. Ramsburg (R - Frederick) and Chairman Bernard S. Melnicove (D-Baltimore 4th).

Barkley And Herter Win Collier's Magazine Award

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Sen. Alben W. Barkley, Kentucky Democrat, and Rep. Christian A. Herter, Massachusetts Republican, are the winners of Collier's magazine awards to congressmen for distinguished services to the republic in 1947.

Barkley, the magazine announced today, was honored "primarily because of his superb loyalty to the two-party system." Herter was recognized "mainly because of his work in the field of foreign affairs."

A White House ceremony is planned for Saturday at which the legislators will receive from President Truman silver plaques awarded them. Their selection also carries with it two gifts of $10,000 each to public purposes which they designate.

Hockley Heads State Roads Advisory Council

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 6 (AP) — Gov. Lane announced today the appointment of Chester F. Hockley, Baltimore industrialist, as chairman of the Maryland Highway Advisory Council.

Hockley succeeds Howard Bruce, Baltimore, who was confirmed today as deputy administrator of the Economic Co-operation Administration.

An original member of the council, Hockley has been president of the Davison Chemical Corporation since its reorganization in 1935.

Lane formed the highway council last year to advise him and the State Roads Commission in developing a master plan for Maryland's $200,000,000 highway program.

Cutter Company Recalls Entire Line Of Solutions

BERKELEY, Calif., May 6 (AP)—Cutter Laboratories today recalled from hospitals throughout the country their entire line of solutions for mass injections through the veins. Discovery of contamination in another shipment of the company prompted the action.

Dr. R. K. Cutter announced the recall as "the only step to be taken in the interests of public safety."

"Contamination has been found in another and entirely different glucose solution, dextrose 10 per cent in Ringer's," Dr. Cutter said. A shipment of saline solution from the laboratory last week instituted a nationwide search by the Federal Food and Drug Adminsitration.

Dr. Cutter said "company officials believe that discovery of the new contamination makes questionable the use of any product produced in their intravenous solutions department until this entire contamination difficulty is solved."

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Oscar Hammerstein II is probably the best liked fellow on Broadway since George M. Cohan. And it isn't just because Oscar has written and produced a string of successful shows. On Shubert Alley, talent doesn't always inspire affection—I know a Pulitzer Prize winner whose undertaker is going to have trouble lining up a quota of pall-pallbearers.

Billy Rose

Let me give you an idea of how Hammerstein rates. A few weeks ago, a commtitee headed by Helen Hayes invited 800 people to a dinner at the Astor. Oscar and his collaborator, Richard Rodgers, were to be the guests of honor. There were two gimmicks to the invite—(1) the blue-plate special would cost ten bucks per each, and (2) the committee was going to pass the hat for Sydenham Hospital, the inter-racial institution in Harlem.

I was one of the 800 who jammed the banquet hall. As the guests tackled the soup with the lemon in the middle, an orchestra started playing Oscar's and Dick's songs. And what a medley it was! By the time we got to the ice cream and cookies, we had heard almost half of the songs we had sung, danced to and made love to all our lives.

Then the speechmaking started. For three hours, gents who were more noted for backbiting than backscratching dipped into their adjective bags and saluted Rodgers and Hammerstein. Rodgers made a neat thank-you speech, and it was evident everyone in the room liked and respected the composer.

Finally the genial Hammerstein was introduced. "I came here hoping to hear a brilliant speech," he flipped. "I was hoping to hear it from my own lips. But I'm afraid I'm going to be disappointed.

I was sitting where I could see most of the 800 faces, and what I saw in them was that corny thing called old-fashioned love. The big guy in the casual clothes was their guy—the number-one man on the Broadway Heart Parade.

In my time, the only other person who inspired that kind of mass adulation was the Yankee Doodle Kid himself—George M. Cohan. He, too, had Oscar's knack of changing everyone he met into an airdale.

I can remember when almost everyone on Broadway walked and talked like its favorite song-and-dance man. They imitated his bantam-rooster strut, the funny way he cocked his head, his manner of cracking wise out of the side of his mouth. Even when Cohan was edging past sixty, his adorers kept right on adoring him. As the start of "I'd Rather Be Right," he played to squeezing-room-only for a full season. When they replaced him with a fine performer named Taylor Holmes, the receipts dropped to $6,000.

I got to know Cohan pretty well during the New York World's Fair. He used to come out almost every night, and we would go traipsing around the midway. And long before the season was over, I, too, was strutting like Cohan and talking crooked-mouth.

One night at Georgie Jessel's Little Old New York concession, a minor hoodlum insisted on buying Cohan a drink. "I didn't know your fans included the shoulder-holster set," I kidded.

"You meet all sorts of people in this business," said George. "Did I ever tell you about the time Al Capone got chummy"

Capone and his bodyguards, Cohan told me, came backstage the Christmas Eve that "Ah Wilderness!" was playing in Chicago. "There ain't much business out front, said Capone. "Do you need any dough, kid"

The millionaire showman explained that attendance was always off on Christmas Eve. This didn't satisfy Capone. "I sell as much beer Christmas Eve as any other night," he said. "I like your show, Georgie, and I'm going to fix it so you play to full houses the rest of the season. Where can we talk?"

Cohan pleaded another appointment. "Do what the big fella tells you," one of the bodyguards whispered to George. The party adjourned to George's suite at the Blackstone.

Next morning the Caesar of Cicero passed the word around that everyone who bought a barrel of his beer also had to buy a pair of tickets to Cohan's show.

"I'll tell you what else I'm going to do for you," Capone told George at one of the midnight conferences. "I'm going to incorporate you and sell you on the Stock Exchange. We'll get a theatre in every town and put on revivals of your old shows. I got friends in those towns, and they'll fix it so there won't be no empty seats."

This was too much affection, even for Cohan. Next morning he telephoned the Theatre Guild which had produced "Ah Wilderness!" and insisted it call off the Chicago engagement.

"That's silly," said a Guild executive. "We're playing to capacity."

"You won't think it's silly," said George, "when you meet your new partner—a fellow named Capone."

The following Monday, "Ah Wilderness!" opened in Madison, Wisconsin. When Cohan was offered a movie job a year later, he went to California via the southern route. "I wouldn't even fly over Chicago," he cracked. "They like me too much in that town."

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Oscar Hammerstein II is probably the best liked fellow on Broadway since George M. Cohan. And it isn't just because Oscar has written and produced a string of successful shows. On Shubert Alley, talent doesn't always inspire affection—I know a Pulitzer Prize winner whose undertaker is going to have trouble lining up a quota of pall-pallbearers.

Billy Rose

Let me give you an idea of how Hammerstein rates. A few weeks ago, a committee headed by Helen Hayes invited 800 people to a dinner at the Astor. Oscar and his collaborator, Richard Rodgers, were to be the guests of honor. There were two gimmicks to the invite—(1) the blue-plate special would cost ten bucks per each, and (2) the committee was going to pass the hat for Sydenham Hospital, the inter-racial institution in Harlem.

I was one of the 800 who jammed the banquet hall. As the guests tackled the soup with the lemon in the middle, an orchestra started playing Oscar's and Dick's songs. And what a medley it was! By the time we got to the ice cream and cookies, we had heard almost half of the songs we had sung, danced to and made love to all our lives.

Then the speechmaking started. For three hours, gents who were more noted for backbiting than backscratching dipped into their adjective bags and saluted Rodgers and Hammerstein. Rodgers made a neat thank-you speech, and it was evident everyone in the room liked and respected the composer.

Finally the genial Hammerstein was introduced. "I came here hoping to hear a brilliant speech," he flipped. "I was hoping to hear it from my own lips. But I'm afraid I'm going to be disappointed.

I was sitting where I could see most of the 800 faces, and what I saw in them was that corny thing called old-fashioned love. The big guy in the casual clothes was their guy—the number-one man on the Broadway Heart Parade.

In my time, the only other person who inspired that kind of mass adulation was the Yankee Doodle Kid himself—George M. Cohan. He, too, had Oscar's knack of changing everyone he met into an airdale.

I can remember when almost everyone on Broadway walked and talked like its favorite song-and-dance man. They imitated his bantam-rooster strut, the funny way he cocked his head, his manner of cracking wise out of the side of his mouth. Even when Cohan was edging past sixty, his adorers kept right on adoring him. As the start of "I'd Rather Be Right," he played to squeezing-room-only for a full season. When they replaced him with a fine performer named Taylor Holmes, the receipts dropped to $6,000.

I got to know Cohan pretty well during the New York World's Fair. He used to come out almost every night, and we would go traipsing around the midway. And long before the season was over, I, too, was strutting like Cohan and talking crooked-mouth.

One night at Georgie Jessel's Little Old New York concession, a minor hoodlum insisted on buying Cohan a drink. "I didn't know your fans included the shoulder-holster set," I kidded.

"You meet all sorts of people in this business," said George. "Did I ever tell you about the time Al Capone got chummy"

Capone and his bodyguards, Cohan told me, came backstage the Christmas Eve that "Ah Wilderness!" was playing in Chicago. "There ain't much business out front, said Capone. "Do you need any dough, kid"

The millionaire showman explained that attendance was always off on Christmas Eve. This didn't satisfy Capone. "I sell as much beer Christmas Eve as any other night," he said. "I like your show, Georgie, and I'm going to fix it so you play to full houses the rest of the season. Where can we talk?"

Cohan pleaded another appointment. "Do what the big fella tells you," one of the bodyguards whispered to George. The party adjourned to George's suite at the Blackstone.

Next morning the Caesar of Cicero passed the word around that everyone who bought a barrel of his beer also had to buy a pair of tickets to Cohan's show.

"I'll tell you what else I'm going to do for you," Capone told George at one of the midnight conferences. "I'm going to incorporate you and sell you on the Stock Exchange. We'll get a theatre in every town and put on revivals of your old shows. I got friends in those towns, and they'll fix it so there won't be no empty seats."

This was too much affection, even for Cohan. Next morning he telephoned the Theatre Guild which had produced "Ah Wilderness!" and insisted it call off the Chicago engagement.

"That's silly," said a Guild executive. "We're playing to capacity."

"You won't think it's silly," said George, "when you meet your new partner—a fellow named Capone."

May Pay Check To Include Tax Relief

That first pay check in May will be just like an increase in salary! And it comes from Uncle Sam! After years and years of paying more and more to finance Uncle Sam's bloated budget, Mr. Taxpayer will realize some long overdue tax relief.

But before he gets pop-eyed peering at his newly-found savings, he'd better reserve vision to keep a watchful eye on Washington. In the nation's capital there are enough plans for increased spending in the next fiscal year to cross your eyes in almost as many directions as there are government bureaus.

That intrenched domain of bureaucrats has again campaigned diligently for increased expenditures. Their weeping has flooded Congress and the backwash has already netted billions for their spending machines. As usual those billions will lose much of their spending power in the labyrinth of bureaucratic organization.

Bureaucratic spending has soared to the heavens where bureaucratic sparkle blinds the taxpayers. It's up to Congress to bring bureaucratic expenditures down to earth, and down to the level of the taxpayers' pocketbooks.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Reds Are Trying To Divide Labor, Aldridge Asserts

Efforts of the Communist party and forces backing Henry A. Wallace for president are "designed to divide the ranks of organized labor, to slander its leaders and confuse its membership," Playford Aldridge, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, said yesterday.

Aldridge made the charge in a letter to members of the union who reportedly signed petitions asking that Wallace's name be placed on the Maryland ballot as a presidential candidate in the November election.

The complete letter follows:

"I am taking the liberty of writing you in connection with the candidacy of Henry A. Wallace for president and the campaign of the Progressive party.

"As a textile worker and a member of our Union I feel you should be advised that the candidacy of Henry A. Wallace and the Progressive Party are opposed by Local 1874; by our national convention of the Textile Workers Union of America held last week in Atlantic City; and by national officers and numerous state and city industrial union councils of the CIO.

"This overwhelming majority of the organized labor movement has decided that the campaign of Henry A. Wallace and the Progressive Party can only serve to divide and confuse the membership. In fact, it becomes clearer that the campaign in some contests will actually lead to the election of reactionary candidates.

"It should be easily recognized that the absence of labor support for the Wallace campaign means that there is no chance for success. The greater part of organized labor has declared to adhere to the two-party system.

"I feel compelled to draw your attention to the endorsement of the Wallace campaign by the Communist Party. This endorsement has been followed by Communist Party attacks upon the leaders of CIO unions whose membership opposes the Wallace maneuvers.

"The national CIO convention voted support of the Marshall Plan; the Communist Party and the Wallace forces are fighting the plan tooth and nail.

"These efforts are designed to divide the ranks of organized labor, to slander its leaders and confuse its membership.

"As president of Local 1874 I will be glad to answer any questions you may have on this question. I believe you owe it to yourself to learn the full facts."

Morrel Named C. And P. Phone Company Manager

The executive committee and board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City named William G. Morrel vice president and general manager at a recent meeting.

He succeeds August B. Haneke, who has been elected president of the Baltimore Transit Company.

Morrel graduated from Virginia Military Institute in 1928, and in 1930 became a clerk in the traffic department of the C. and P. of Virginia. He later became traffic superintendent in Richmond and Roanoke, district traffic superintendent and district commercial superintendent in Lynchburg, general traffic supervisor, district traffic manager in Norfolk, and general traffic manager.

In 1946 he joined the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York as traffic employment engineer.

Backers Of Rev. Bready Praise His Work Here

A group of persons affiliated with the Union Grove Methodist Church Circuit in a meeting Wednesday night praised the work of Rev. Richard H. Bready, who was the target of recent criticism from a section of the combined congregations.

The meeting, which was held in the Pleasant Grove Church, was confined largely to the recent signers of petitions, requesting the retaining of Rev. Bready at his present pastorate.

The much discussed question will be aired at the quarterly conference in Baltimore on Sunday, but final authority rests with the Baltimore Conference which does not meet until June.

According to the United States census bureau, only 17 out of 100 women in the west are single. In contrast, 25 out of every 100 are single in the northeast.

FALSE TEETH
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. —Advertisement

Reds Are Trying To Divide Labor, Aldridge Asserts

Efforts of the Communist party and forces backing Henry A. Wallace for president are "designed to divide the ranks of organized labor, to slander its leaders and confuse its membership," Playford Aldridge, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, said yesterday.

Aldridge made the charge in a letter to members of the union who reportedly signed petitions asking that Wallace's name be placed on the Maryland ballot as a presidential candidate in the November election.

The complete letter follows:

"I am taking the liberty of writing you in connection with the candidacy of Henry A. Wallace for president and the campaign of the Progressive party.

"As a textile worker and a member of our Union I feel you should be advised that the candidacy of Henry A. Wallace and the Progressive Party are opposed by Local 1874; by our national convention of the Textile Workers Union of America held last week in Atlantic City; and by national officers and numerous state and city industrial union councils of the CIO.

"This overwhelming majority of the organized labor movement has decided that the campaign of Henry A. Wallace and the Progressive Party can only serve to divide and confuse the membership. In fact, it becomes clearer that the campaign in some contests will actually lead to the election of reactionary candidates.

"It should be easily recognized that the absence of labor support for the Wallace campaign means that there is no chance for success. The greater part of organized labor has declared to adhere to the two-party system.

"I feel compelled to draw your attention to the endorsement of the Wallace campaign by the Communist Party. This endorsement has been followed by Communist Party attacks upon the leaders of CIO unions whose membership opposes the Wallace maneuvers.

"The national CIO convention voted support of the Marshall Plan; the Communist Party and the Wallace forces are fighting the plan tooth and nail.

"These efforts are designed to divide the ranks of organized labor, to slander its leaders and confuse its membership.

"As president of Local 1874 I will be glad to answer any questions you may have on this question. I believe you owe it to yourself to learn the full facts."

Morrel Named C. And P. Phone Company Manager

The executive committee and board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City named William G. Morrel vice president and general manager at a recent meeting.

He succeeds August B. Haneke, who has been elected president of the Baltimore Transit Company.

Morrel graduated from Virginia Military Institute in 1928, and in 1930 became a clerk in the traffic department of the C. and P. of Virginia. He later became traffic superintendent in Richmond and Roanoke, district traffic superintendent and district commercial superintendent in Lynchburg, general traffic supervisor, district traffic manager in Norfolk, and general traffic manager.

In 1946 he joined the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York as traffic employment engineer.

Backers Of Rev. Bready Praise His Work Here

A group of persons affiliated with the Union Grove Methodist Church Circuit in a meeting Wednesday night praised the work of Rev. Richard H. Bready, who was the target of recent criticism from a section of the combined congregations.

The meeting, which was held in the Pleasant Grove Church, was confined largely to the recent signers of petitions, requesting the retaining of Rev. Bready at his present pastorate.

The much discussed question will be aired at the quarterly conference in Baltimore on Sunday, but final authority rests with the Baltimore Conference which does not meet until June.

According to the United States census bureau, only 17 out of 100 women in the west are single. In contrast, 25 out of every 100 are single in the northeast.

Court Sustains Agreement On New Car Deal

Says Seller Acted In Public Interest

Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday, in an opinion signed by Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, upheld a special agreement practice of the Thompson Buick Corporation, designed to prevent resale of new cars at inflated prices.

The Court, in the suit filed by Edwin G. Lease, held that the agreement had been made in the public interest and therefore dismissed the petition of the plaintiff. The case involved failure of the car agency to deliver a title for a new car because the buyer and seller entered into an agreement to have the title withheld for one year subject to a $10 conditional sales lien, so the car could not be resold.

Lease purchased a new Buick from the firm in July, 1947. At the time the plaintiff could have paid the purchase price in full in cash, but in an effort to keep the car off the "black market" the defendant company insisted upon keeping title for a year to secure an unpaid balance of $10.

Both parties signed the usual conditional sales contract for the unpaid balance of $10 and also a special agreement. The opinion states that "since this last explains the entire situation, it will be quoted in full.

"This agreement was entered into July 3, 1947, by and between the Thompson Buick Corporation and Edwin G. Lease, 218 Columbia Street, hereinafter known as the purchaser.

Sale Termed Detrimental

"That whereas the limited production of new automobiles has created an unusual demand and this demand has been used by certain persons to inflate new and used car prices, and because of these increased prices some buyers of new cars by reason of having placed early orders, sell cars delivered to them, often at higher than retail delivered prices.

"Whereas these practices are detrimental to the public good and tend to put automobiles in the hands of those who can afford inflated prices and deny to those who may be in dire need of same.

"And whereas the seller has sold said automobile to the purchaser upon the latter's express representation that he is purchasing the same for his own use and not for the purpose of resale within the period of one year.

"Be it agreed by the purchaser that he will not sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of said Buick Roadmaster model sedan for a period of one year after the same is delivered to him by the seller.

"Be it further agreed that the purchaser will execute a conditional sale agreement whereby a lien of $10 will be applied to the title of said Buick in favor of the seller, which lien will be in force for a period of one year from July 3, 1947, and be cancelled upon expiration of the year by payment of the $10."

The court stated that the plaintiff requested that the special agreement be declared null and void, illegal, and against public policy and laws of the state.

That the conditional sale contract may be specifically enforced, and that defendant may be required to accept the balance of the purchase money and give plaintiff a clear title, even though the year is not up.

Plaintiff's contention that the special agreement is void, illegal, and against public policy is certainly incorrect, the court ruled.

No Law At Time

"It is true that at the time of the agreement, no law forbade plaintiff, if he could buy a new Buick, from selling it shortly afterward at any price he desired, and probably he could have sold it at a large profit. Although it was legal for him to do this, it does not necessarily follow that defendant had no right to try to prevent this from being done.

"Such an agreement seems to be in the interest of the public, rather than against public policy. It was an honest effort to see that new cars got into the hands of bona fide purchasers and not into the hands of profiteers.

"In places where new cars have been appearing on the second-hand market, it has subjected dealers to criticism, and even to accusations that they may be sharing in the "black market" profit. Defendant here had a right to try to prevent himself from being placed in such a position, and to do what he thought would in the end benefit his business, so long as it was not illegal.

"An equity court should not regard the arrangement as a whole as a true conditional sale to which the strict rules of conditional sales should be applied. It would seem that the special agreement was the essence of the whole transaction. By giving full effect to the special agreement, the proper interests of the plaintiff and defendant will be protected, and both will be required to carry out such arrangement, priority being given to the terms of the special agreement where it conflicts with the conditional sale form agreement.

"It is a general principle of equity that he who seeks its aid must have clean hands. And another is that the granting of a decree of specific performance is not a matter of absolute right.

"The plaintiff here is asking an equity court to nullify both the letter and spirit of his written agreement by applying certain statutory rules of law which were intended for the protection of persons in a very different position from his. We think it unfair for the plaintiff to ask this, and unfair to the defendant to grant such a request.

"Because of the conclusion of the court on facts and on the law as set forth in the foregoing opinion:

"It is adjudged, ordered and decreed by the Circuit Court for Allegany county, sitting in equity, that the plaintiff's bill of complaint be dismissed and the demurrer of the plaintiff sustained."

Greenwade Fined For Beer Sales

Charged with selling alcoholic beverages to two minors, Harry T. Greenwade, proprietor of Harry's Place, 9 Front Street, yesterday was fined $100 in Police Court. His attorney, William H. Geppert, immediately noted an appeal.

Greenwade was convicted after the two youths, Gilbert Fulk, 18, and Robert Hott, 20, both of Bowman's Addition, testified they drank beer in Harry's Place.

Hott told Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., that he and his companion drank "12 bottles of beer," before they were arrested Sunday at 12:10 a. m. on Baltimore Street.

George Parker, 435 Virginia Avenue, forfeited $50 bond when he failed to appear to answer charges of operating a gambling device and maintaining a place for gambling. He was arrested yesterday morning.

Army Recruit Drive Is Continuing Here

Recent enlistments in the Army and Air Force are as follows:

Ronald Eaton Turner, 105 West Oldtown Road, who enlisted as a private for three years in the Mechanized Cavalry and was sent to Fort Jackson, S. C.

Carl Raymond Sell, Route 3, Terra Alta, W. Va., who was assigned to Langley Field, Va., after signing for three years in the Air Force as a staff sergeant.

Meanwhile, Capt. Bairstow said no definite goal has been assigned to the Cumberland area in a recruiting drive inaugurated by the Air Force to secure 3,000 additional cadets this year.

Lt. George J. Gocke of the Cumberland main station has been appointed aviation cadet project officer for this area.

When three or more have applied for enlistment as cadets, Lt. Gocke will arrange for an 11th Air Force officer to come here from Harrisburg, Pa., and give the candidates qualifying mental tests.

Candidates must be between the ages of 20 and 26½ years, unmarried, and have had two years of college training or be able to pass an equivalent examination. An Air Force physical examination is also required.

Mothers DAY
Gentle hands never weary toiling in love's vineyard sweet,
Eyes that seem forever cheery when our eyes they chance to meet,
Tender, patient, brave, devoted, this is always Mother's way.
Could her worth in gold be quoted as you think of her today.
There shall never be another quite as tender, quite so kind
As the patient little Mother; nowhere on this earth you'll find
Her affection duplicated; none so proud if you are fine.
Could her worth be overstated? Not by any words of mine.
Vain are all the tributes to her if in words alone they dwell.
We must live the praises due her; there's no other way to tell
Gentle Mother that we love her. Would you say as you recall
All the patient service of her, you've been worthy of it all.

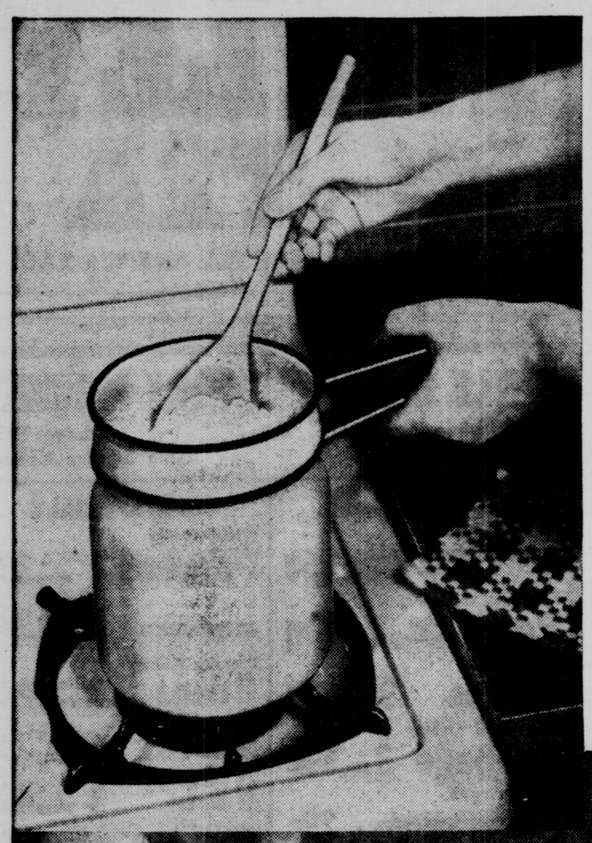
Versatile Scrambled Eggs



Creamy scrambled eggs are appropriate for almost any occasion. They make a delicious breakfast, a quick supper or a hearty midnight snack.

For tender, fluffy scrambled eggs, try cooking them in a porcelain enameled double boiler. The eggs are less likely to be overcooked because the water in the bottom part of the boiler assures constant, low heat. Porcelain enameled double boilers are designed with slightly rounded corners so that foods may be easily stirred.

SCRAMBLED EGGS FOR FOUR: Break 6 eggs into mixing bowl. Add ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. (If desired, 6 tablespoons cream or milk may be added.) Blend with fork or beater. Pour into upper part of double boiler set over hot water. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently away from sides and bottom of pan. Continue cooking until eggs are thick and creamy. Serve immediately.

SCRAMBLED EGG VARIATIONS: 1. When eggs begin to thicken, add 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento, 2 tablespoons chopped chives and ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. 2. Saute diced frankfurters, luncheon meat, chicken livers or mushrooms. Add to eggs just before they are done. 3. Add a generous sprinkling of grated cheese when eggs begin to set.

How Braising Extends Meat

Put together two kinds of "know how"—how to shop for the thriftier cuts of meat and how to cook them—and you've a double clue for making more of meat. The thriftier meats include a number of cuts that are best cooked by moist heat rather than by roasting or broiling. One method of cooking by moist heat is called "braising."

Braising is a canny clue to making more of meat because it catches every least, last morsel of meat flavor and nutritive value. Braised meat is usually served right in the liquid in which it is cooked. Thus the utmost food value is preserved, since the liquid retains nutrients which may have cooked out of the meat.

Choose the thriftier cuts for braising and do it this way: Brown the meat thoroughly in its own, or added fat. Add seasonings and just enough liquid to cover the bottom of the pan. Cover tightly and cook slowly until the meat is tender. It may be necessary to add a bit more liquid if it evaporates.

Cooking potatoes and other vegetables right in with the meat affords new meat "extender" dishes to add to your repertoire. The family is likely to turn a kindlier eye toward "stretching" ingredients when they've taken on the good meat flavor, as in braising.

Braised Ox Joints

Flour
3 tablespoons fat
1 cup water
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon celery salt
4 whole cloves
1 bay leaf
3 cups diced carrots
2 small onions, chopped
½ clove of garlic
¼ cup diced turnips
¼ cup lemon juice

Cut oxtail in short lengths for ox joints, roll in flour and brown in 2 tablespoons fat slowly, about 15 minutes. Add water, tomatoes, and seasonings; simmer about 2 hours or until tender. Brown carrots, onions, garlic and turnips in 1 tablespoon fat; add to meat and cook ½ hour longer. Add lemon juice the last 10 minutes of cooking. YIELD: 4 to 5 servings.

Braised Veal And Noodles

⅛ lb. salt pork, finely diced
1½ lbs. veal breast, cut in 1½ inch pieces
2 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
2 cups water
¾ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1½ cups broken noodles
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Fry the salt pork in a heavy pan until golden brown and crisp. Add veal which has been sprinkled with the flour, and brown. Add salt and water and simmer until tender. Then add celery, chopped onion and noodles; cover and cook until noodles are tender. To serve, sprinkle with chopped parsley. Yield: 6 servings.

Lamb Neck Slices

6 lamb neck slices
2 tablespoons lard
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 medium onions, sliced
3 potatoes
6 small carrots
6 large stalks celery

Brown neck slices in hot lard. Add water and seasonings. Cover and simmer for 1 hour. Add onions and lengthwise strips of carrots and potatoes. Continue to simmer 20 minutes. Then add celery.

Scald the teapot first

Scald a crockery teapot. Put in one teaspoonful of tea or one tea-bag for each person. Add fresh, "bubbling" boiling water. Steep for five minutes. Stir, then serve.

FOOD... through the ages..

EARLY EGYPTIANS FAVORED GARLIC, CUCUMBERS, ONIONS, LEEKS, WITH GRAPES, MELONS, DATES, FIGS AND HONEY. OUR MELONS ORIGINATED IN ANCIENT EGYPT.

MEATS INCLUDED ROAST GAZELLE AND OX, PORCUPINE, SMALL GAME AND DUCK.

FAVORITE EGYPTIAN DRINK WAS BEER, SERVED IN GOLD-INLAID GOBLETS. A POPULAR TOAST WAS "HERE'S BEER FOR YOUR GHOST!"

How Braising Extends Meat

Put together two kinds of "know how"—how to shop for the thriftier cuts of meat and how to cook them—and you've a double clue for making more of meat. The thriftier meats include a number of cuts that are best cooked by moist heat rather than by roasting or broiling. One method of cooking by moist heat is called "braising."

Braising is a canny clue to making more of meat because it catches every least, last morsel of meat flavor and nutritive value. Braised meat is usually served right in the liquid in which it is cooked. Thus the utmost food value is preserved, since the liquid retains nutrients which may have cooked out of the meat.

Choose the thriftier cuts for braising and do it this way: Brown the meat thoroughly in its own, or added fat. Add seasonings and just enough liquid to cover the bottom of the pan. Cover tightly and cook slowly until the meat is tender. It may be necessary to add a bit more liquid if it evaporates.

Cooking potatoes and other vegetables right in with the meat affords new meat "extender" dishes to add to your repertoire. The family is likely to turn a kindlier eye toward "stretching" ingredients when they've taken on the good meat flavor, as in braising.

Braised Ox Joints

Flour
3 tablespoons fat
1 cup water
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon celery salt
4 whole cloves
1 bay leaf
3 cups diced carrots
2 small onions, chopped
½ clove of garlic
¼ cup diced turnips
¼ cup lemon juice

Cut oxtail in short lengths for ox joints, roll in flour and brown in 2 tablespoons fat slowly, about 15 minutes. Add water, tomatoes, and seasonings; simmer about 2 hours or until tender. Brown carrots, onions, garlic and turnips in 1 tablespoon fat; add to meat and cook ½ hour longer. Add lemon juice the last 10 minutes of cooking. YIELD: 4 to 5 servings.

Braised Veal And Noodles

⅛ lb. salt pork, finely diced
1½ lbs. veal breast, cut in 1½ inch pieces
2 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
2 cups water
¾ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1½ cups broken noodles
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Fry the salt pork in a heavy pan until golden brown and crisp. Add veal which has been sprinkled with the flour, and brown. Add salt and water and simmer until tender. Then add celery, chopped onion and noodles; cover and cook until noodles are tender. To serve, sprinkle with chopped parsley. Yield: 6 servings.

Lamb Neck Slices

6 lamb neck slices
2 tablespoons lard
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 medium onions, sliced
3 potatoes
6 small carrots
6 large stalks celery

Brown neck slices in hot lard. Add water and seasonings. Cover and simmer for 1 hour. Add onions and lengthwise strips of carrots and potatoes. Continue to simmer 20 minutes. Then add celery.

Mix-In-A Box Is Baking Aid

All tuckered out from a hectic day of house cleaning? And now it's time to get dinner! Of course, you're too fagged to do much fancy preparing, but how would you like to surprise the family with a luscious spice cake? Now don't groan, lady, 'cause you can whip up the wonderful cake we have in mind quick as a wink. All you need is a box of just-add-water spice cake mix.

You couldn't buy this mix during the war because the manufacturers weren't able to get the necessary sugar and pure imported spices to make it. But this popular member of a famous baking mix family is now back on your grocer's shelf.

So, better have some of this mix on hand. Then, when it's dinner-getting time after a busy day, you can just add water, mix and bake; top with your favorite frosting and wait for the shouts of delight from father and the youngsters. They'll be amazed that you baked anything so special after your long, hard struggle with scrub bucket, broom and dust cloth. And as you bask in their praises, you'll be thinking to yourself, "But it was such an easy cake to make."

P. S.—If you want to save time and effort on the frosting, too, here's the how-you-do-it for a delicious baked-on-the-cake topping: Before putting cake in the oven spread brown sugar evenly over the batter; then spread sour cream over the sugar.

Brazil Nuts With Yam Sweet Potatoes

1 lb. 7-oz. can yam sweet potatoes.
¼ cup sugar.
¼ teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoonful nutmeg.
⅔ cup sliced Brazil Nuts.

Drain potatoes, put in 1½ quart casserole. Combine in saucepan syrup drained from potatoes, sugar, salt and nutmeg. Bring syrup to a boil and cook until liquid is reduced to ½ cup. Pour over potatoes, sprinkle with Brazil Nuts. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. YIELD: 5 servings.

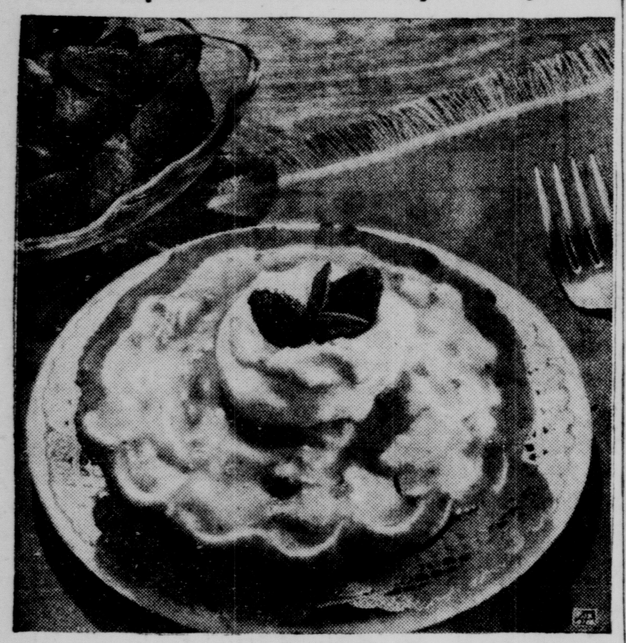
Foolproof Pastry Tips



STRAWBERRY FLUFF TART . . . For company dessert . . . .

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Strawberry Fluff Tart

Whenever a new housekeeper asks me for a recipe for pastry I'm inclined to tell her to use one which adds the fat in two parts; blending some of it into the flour until it is as fine as meal, chopping the rest in lightly until it is divided into pieces that are the size of large peas. I have always found pastry made in this way easy to handle and particularly tender and flaky.

If you are a bride and equipping a kitchen, be sure to put a cloth pastry set on your MUST list. The set consists of a larke piece of material — usually canvas — for rolling and a rolling pin cover of a different kind of cloth. All you have to do is to rub some flour into the canvas and rolling pin cover and then the set may be used many times before it is laundered. If you've struggled with unruly pie dough you'll say many a prayer of thanks for this kind of pastry cloth after you've once used it. One of the best household helpers I ever had informed me one day that she stayed with me mainly because of my automatic streamlined iron and my pastry set!

Although I swear by my pastry canvas, one good cook and home economics teacher I know uses a rather heavy dish towel on which to roll out her pastry. I noticed that the label on the towel said it was "part linen warp and weft" in case you want to try this suggestion. You can use part of a child's white ribbed stocking with which to cover your pin.

You also can roll pastry between two sheets of waxed paper.

An eight-year-old visitor in my kitchen used this method very happily recently. After she rolled out the dough she used some tiny cooky cutters to make little pastry cut-outs; these we sprinkled with sugar and finely chopped unts and baked them in a miniature stove I have especially for small fry.

Strawberry Fluff Tarts

½ package (3½ teaspoons) strawberry flavored gelatin.
1 cup hot water and strawberry juice.
½ cup drained, sweetened, crushed strawberries.
2 baked 3½-inch tart shells.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and fruit juice. Chill. When slightly thickened, place in bowl of ice water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Fold in fruit. Turn into tart shells. Chill until firm. Top with whipped cream and garnish with whole strawberries and mint leaves.

Tart Shells

1 cup plus two tablespoons sifted flour.
½ teaspoon salt.
6 tablespoons lard or vegetable shortening.
2½ tablespoons (about) cold water

Sift flour once, measure, add salt, and sift together in a bowl. Cut in 4 tablespoons shortening very thoroughly, using light strokes of pastry blender or two knives. Mixture should be fine like meal. Add remaining 2 tablespoons shortening in several pieces and chop in lightly just until divided into pieces that are the size of large peas. Sprinkle in water, a small amount at a time, mixing lightly with blender or fork. When all particles are moistened, press pastry into a cake, cover with damp cloth, and let stand 15 to 30 minutes. Roll out on lightly floured board to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut with floured 5-inch round cutter or cut around cardboard pattern with knife. Fit pastry circles carefully over upturned tart or muffin pans. Trim edges. Prick pastry all over with fork. Place on baking sheet and bake in hot oven (450 F.) 10 or 12 minutes. Makes 5 or 6 three-and-one-half-inch tart shells.

Foolproof Pastry Tips

STRAWBERRY FLUFF TART . . . For company dessert . . . .

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Strawberry Fluff Tart

Whenever a new housekeeper asks me for a recipe for pastry I'm inclined to tell her to use one which adds the fat in two parts; blending some of it into the flour until it is as fine as meal, chopping the rest in lightly until it is divided into pieces that are the size of large peas. I have always found pastry made in this way easy to handle and particularly tender and flaky.

If you are a bride and equipping a kitchen, be sure to put a cloth pastry set on your MUST list. The set consists of a larke piece of material — usually canvas — for rolling and a rolling pin cover of a different kind of cloth. All you have to do is to rub some flour into the canvas and rolling pin cover and then the set may be used many times before it is laundered. If you've struggled with unruly pie dough you'll say many a prayer of thanks for this kind of pastry cloth after you've once used it. One of the best household helpers I ever had informed me one day that she stayed with me mainly because of my automatic streamlined iron and my pastry set!

Although I swear by my pastry canvas, one good cook and home economics teacher I know uses a rather heavy dish towel on which to roll out her pastry. I noticed that the label on the towel said it was "part linen warp and weft" in case you want to try this suggestion. You can use part of a child's white ribbed stocking with which to cover your pin.

You also can roll pastry between two sheets of waxed paper.

An eight-year-old visitor in my kitchen used this method very happily recently. After she rolled out the dough she used some tiny cooky cutters to make little pastry cut-outs; these we sprinkled with sugar and finely chopped unts and baked them in a miniature stove I have especially for small fry.

Strawberry Fluff Tarts

½ package (3½ teaspoons) strawberry flavored gelatin.
1 cup hot water and strawberry juice.
½ cup drained, sweetened, crushed strawberries.
2 baked 3½-inch tart shells.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and fruit juice. Chill. When slightly thickened, place in bowl of ice water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Fold in fruit. Turn into tart shells. Chill until firm. Top with whipped cream and garnish with whole strawberries and mint leaves.

Tart Shells

1 cup plus two tablespoons sifted flour.
½ teaspoon salt.
6 tablespoons lard or vegetable shortening.
2½ tablespoons (about) cold water

Sift flour once, measure, add salt, and sift together in a bowl. Cut in 4 tablespoons shortening very thoroughly, using light strokes of pastry blender or two knives. Mixture should be fine like meal. Add remaining 2 tablespoons shortening in several pieces and chop in lightly just until divided into pieces that are the size of large peas. Sprinkle in water, a small amount at a time, mixing lightly with blender or fork. When all particles are moistened, press pastry into a cake, cover with damp cloth, and let stand 15 to 30 minutes. Roll out on lightly floured board to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut with floured 5-inch round cutter or cut around cardboard pattern with knife. Fit pastry circles carefully over upturned tart or muffin pans. Trim edges. Prick pastry all over with fork. Place on baking sheet and bake in hot oven (450 F.) 10 or 12 minutes. Makes 5 or 6 three-and-one-half-inch tart shells.

Historic Bowl To Be Presented At Lee Memorial May 9

An 18th Century silver bowl, the gift of Lady Astor, will be presented by her sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, to the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation at Stratford, Westmoreland County, Virginia, on Sunday, May 9.

Mr. John H. Baker, president of the National Audubon Society, and Colonel Robert Lee Scott, Jr., author of "God Is My Co-Pilot", will be speakers on the program which begins at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Mrs. Harry B. Hawes, president of the foundation, will receive the gift for Stratford from Mrs. Gibson, who was the inspiration for her husband's early drawings of the "Gibson Girl." Both Mrs. Gibson and Lady Astor are directors of the foundation.

Lady Astor purcnased this rare bowl twenty-five years ago in London and has long planned that it should go to Stratford since it bears the inscription: "The Gift of Mr. Rich: Lee Fraighter of ye Martha to Virginia, to Capt. William Laurence 1709," indicating that Richard Lee, father of Thomas Lee, builder of Stratford Hall, thus rewarded the captain of his freighter for his excellent service between London and Virginia.

The Stratford plantation is being visited by Mr. Baker of the Audubon Society because of his interest in bird sanctuaries. Of its 1100 acres bordering the broad Potomac river, 800 are in woodland and form a natural haven for wildlife.

Colonel Scott, a keen student of General Lee's military tactics, has had a distinguished career as a soldier. A notable pilot and observer in World War II, he was awarded the Silver Star and Oak Leaf cluster for gallantry in action.

The program will be in charge of Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, director for Georgia and chairman of the Program Committee, and is a part of the annual Spring Conference of Committees which opens by candlelight in the Great Hall of the mansion on Thursday, May 6, and continues through Wednesday, May 12.

Davis Girl Named Therapy Teacher

DAVIS, W. Va. — Miss Miriam Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miller, Jr., Davis, left recently for Baltimore, Md., where she has accepted a position in Johns Hopkins Hospital as Chief Physical Therapy Instructor.

Miss Miller, a graduate of Davis High School, received her Bachelor of Science degree from West Virginia University in 1937, and a degree in Physical Therapy from Walter Reed Hospital. She remained on the staff of that hospital until December, 1942, when she enlisted in the Army. Miss Miller, who held the rating of Captain in the Medical Corps, was one of the first women to leave for foreign duty, sailing to the Hawaiian Islands only a few weeks after Pearl Harbor. She remained there for three and a half years.

After the war she returned home and took a post graduate course in her field in a Chicago hospital.

The WEEDER'S GUIDE

by KATE PERKINS

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y.—The man to whom I give my weekly pay-check — the nursery-man — flung me a final, frightening word the other day as he jumped in his truck and drove into the setting sun.

"You've got," he said, "too many syringa vulgaris."

This came as a great shock. First, I didn't think I had too many anything on the premises except dandelions and little lilac bushes which to date have shown a marked inclination to heel over drunkenly and produce no blooms. Secondly, I wouldn't know a syringa if I met one, and then just by reputation. I always confuse them with hydrangias, and I know I haven't got any of those.

Anyway, to get ahead with this story, I quick looked up syringa vulgaris in the book. It just means lilac. It also means that if I'm going to talk to my nursery-man, one of us has got to change our vocabulary.

It is my opinion that the common, or vulgaris, variety of gardener works under a great handicap. Most of us don't know the botanical names for most of the plants we try to grow. When we get that smart, we're usually elected president of the local garden club and then don't have any time to put our knowledge to practical use.

Only this spring I almost gave away a packet of antirrhinum seeds because this year I want to grow only things I know about. None of my friends call snapdragons antirrhinums, and I don't think it's cricket for seedsmen to do it either.

I think that all of us should either start using botanical terms altogether or stick to the old-fashioned English. It does seem sort of silly, though, to talk about my "allium cepa," when "onion" is so much easier. And just who wants to scrap "tomato" for "lycopersicon lycopersicum"? Or "corn" for 'zea mays" which sounds like a southern girl's name, anyway.

Spring and fall are great times for really developing the compost heap. If I had it to do all over again when house-buying, I'd look first to see if the premises contained the start of a compost pile, and then, if it did, I'd busy myself checking on such minor matters as central heating and brass pipes. I've had to start mine from scratch, and all this spring I've had a difficult time getting hold of additional, necessary top soil.

I picked a spot last fall, away from the house and screened from the out-door living portion of the grounds. There we dug a hole about 18 inches deep and four feet square—saving the earth we removed. Into the hole I piled a thick layer of grass clippings, which decompose rather easily. This was followed by a layer of clean refuse (orange peels, melon rinds and such are ideal; so are smelly things like remains of fish, banana peels—but be sure to cover them up fast).

These layers are followed by one of soil, and then one of fertilizer. Manure, of course, is wonderful, but commercial fertilizer will do. A couple of pounds of lime goes on, followed by some more soil. That's the initial work, and one just goes on from there. This summer, the pile should be turned over once every couple of weeks. It should be kept moist all the time.

I'm in a hurry to get compost, so I added some of that commercial preparation that hastens decomposition. Meanwhile, I save potential compost material like a miser. It's a very satisfying thing to be able to fill bushell baskets with the rich stuff that makes plants grow like Jack's beanstalk.

New York City authorities claim that the city produces $4,000,000,000 worth of goods every year, which they say is greater than that of Philadelphia, Detroit and Cleveland combined.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Girl Of 17 Believes Teen-Agers Can Be "Truly In Love"

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

One of my teen-age correspondents takes me to task for some of the things I said recently in reply to a question asked me as to whether or not a teen-ager could be "really and truly in love."

What I said was that the feeling boys and girls in their teens often have for each other is partly the very natural pleasure they find in congenial companionship with each other, and partly the awakening romantic interest that young people feel for the opposite sex as they begin to mature. But. I said, this does not constitute being in love.

Now a teen-ager of 17 who tells me that what I said was so untrue that she "can't overlook it," presents the case for the teen-ager as follows:

"First," she writes, "teen-agers are not as giddy, senseless, fickle, unsettled, and inexperienced as the older people of our times seem to think. Some are. That is admitted by us but not the majority. We know at this age just about what we want out of life and we know the ups and downs. I, for one, am in love. I know it is love and not just love of love. I don't think older people can know the real thrill of love. They are more interested in their future income, and the security they might get by marriage.

"Young love is the only love. When two people know what they want, and take it from each other, and plan to adjust themselves to life together—that's part of love and a small part at that. And the only time this can really be achieved is in the teens or a little over.

"Secondly, I don't think you should discourage teen-agers by telling them they aren't in love. It only confuses them all the more, because they can't get it straight just what it is that they do feel, and they shouldn't be told that they aren't old enough to know.

"Love is nothing to be preached anyway, and no one person can explain just what it is. Therefore, I can't see where one person can be in a position to say how old one should be to experience it. There is no age limit on love. It comes to individuals, not groups."

Now let me take these points up just as this teen-ager has set them down.

First, when I said that I do not believe the teen-ager, as such, could be in love in the true sense of the term, I was speaking of the average boy or girl. Undoubtedly, there are exceptions, and perhaps my correspondent is one of them, though her letter makes me dubious about this. In such exceptional cases, the girl is undoubtedly mature beyond her years, but the average teen-ager is not. Anl I think it is a very good thing that she isn't. It would be too bad if the majority of our teen-agers were to take on the responsibilities of married life before they have a chance to get the most out of the interests and activities which normally belong to their age.

Just because one believes, however, that most teen-agers are not ready for marriage does not mean that they are considered "giddy, senseless, fickle, unsettled, and inexperienced." The truth, of course, lies half way between, and reduces to the fact that they simply have the qualities, attitudes, thoughts and emotions natural to their age.

As for my correspondent's second point, that it is discouraging to teen-agers to tell them that the feelings they have for members of the opposite sex are not those of mature love, that makes about as much sense as it would to say that it would discourage a person taking his first singing lesson to remind him that he doesn't yet sing like a professional. The really mature young person realizes that she is a beginner in life, and that she cannot expect the same experiences that come to people somewhat older. Consequently, she will wholeheartedly enjoy the things that naturally come her way, and be content to wait for the others.

King Peter and Queen Alexandra of Yugoslavia are house-hunting on the East Coast, planning to remain in the U. S. all Summer. . . . Gene Markey (Myrna Loy's husband) has been recalled to active duty with the U. S. Navy. . . . The undisclosed Communist campaign trick which was expected to swing the elections in Italy but didn't, involved the training of "Mata Haris" to pose as European refugees whose chore it was to romance the Italian small business men. . . . A top Washington reporter claims to have seen the Department of National Defense master plan for complete evacuation of the Government and all its agencies from Washington in a matter of hours.

License Commissioner Fielding's investigation of circus ticket speculators started a weekend exodus from Broadway. . . . Irving Heller, who is President Truman's tailor, is going into show business this Summer at the Waldmere Country Club, Livingston Manor, N. Y. His first assembly, which may be the nucleus of a Broadway show, will feature Georgie Price, Mary Raye and Naldi and Fausto Curbelo's band. . . . Chicago hears that Edward L. Ryerson may resign as president of the Chicago Symphony Board because of the way Rodzinski was fired as conductor. . . . The astonishing drop in sales of Frank Sinatra platters is blamed by the head of Columbia Records on Frankie's "unfortunate" choice of songs, about which something drastic will have to be done.

MGM to reissue "Camille" and "Ninotchka" to test Greta Garbo's drawing power, preparatory to signing her for a one-picture deal (if the box office take justifies.) "Ninotchka," incidentally, is now a big hit in several European countries where that spoof on Communism is now better appreciated. . . . Judy Garland's sudden interest in things political is bothering her studio no end. . . . In one weekly's review of "Arch of Triumph," the critic discusses the work of an actress who was not in the cast by the time the picture hit the screen (the part was cut). . . . Nelle Fisher, "Make Mine Manhattan" dancer, who is featured in the "Up In Central Park" movie, is interesting Hollywood short-subject directors in a new idea for molding choregraphy into color shorts. . . . Harold Lang, juvenile lead in "Look Ma, I'm Dancin'," readying a nite club act with two female partners.

Pearl Buck's latest tome, "Peony," which will be the Literary Guild selection for June, deals with the Jewish traders who have been living in China for centuries. . . . Like her first best-seller, "Young Man With a Horn," Dorothy Baker's next novel will deal with the music world (titled "Our Gifted Son.") . . . The inspiration for the Marx Brothers' projected film about their mother was Alexander Woollcott's "Mother of the Two-a-Day," . . . Canada Lee is launching a road version of "Native Son," featuring in the role he created on Broadway, Canada Lee Jr. (whose real name is Carl Cannigator). . . . Joan Blondell resuming her acting career via a weekly television show. . . . The Marilyn Williams who has been doing film work in England and will be in the Hollywood picture (to be shot here), tentatively titled "Kiss the Blood Off My Hands," is the daughter of the famed vaudeville singer Marion Harriss. . . . The Paul Valentine signed for a featured role in "Special Agent," starring William Eythe, is better known to Broadway as former ballet dancer Val Valentinoff.

BROADWAY

By DANTON WALKER

Manhattan Memoranda

King Peter and Queen Alexandra of Yugoslavia are house-hunting on the East Coast, planning to remain in the U. S. all Summer. . . . Gene Markey (Myrna Loy's husband) has been recalled to active duty with the U. S. Navy. . . . The undisclosed Communist campaign trick which was expected to swing the elections in Italy but didn't, involved the training of "Mata Haris" to pose as European refugees whose chore it was to romance the Italian small business men. . . . A top Washington reporter claims to have seen the Department of National Defense master plan for complete evacuation of the Government and all its agencies from Washington in a matter of hours.

License Commissioner Fielding's investigation of circus ticket speculators started a weekend exodus from Broadway. . . . Irving Heller, who is President Truman's tailor, is going into show business this Summer at the Waldmere Country Club, Livingston Manor, N. Y. His first assembly, which may be the nucleus of a Broadway show, will feature Georgie Price, Mary Raye and Naldi and Fausto Curbelo's band. . . . Chicago hears that Edward L. Ryerson may resign as president of the Chicago Symphony Board because of the way Rodzinski was fired as conductor. . . . The astonishing drop in sales of Frank Sinatra platters is blamed by the head of Columbia Records on Frankie's "unfortunate" choice of songs, about which something drastic will have to be done.

●—●—●

MGM to reissue "Camille" and "Ninotchka" to test Greta Garbo's drawing power, preparatory to signing her for a one-picture deal (if the box office take justifies.) "Ninotchka," incidentally, is now a big hit in several European countries where that spoof on Communism is now better appreciated. . . . Judy Garland's sudden interest in things political is bothering her studio no end. . . . In one weekly's review of "Arch of Triumph," the critic discusses the work of an actress who was not in the cast by the time the picture hit the screen (the part was cut). . . . Nelle Fisher, "Make Mine Manhattan" dancer, who is featured in the "Up In Central Park" movie, is interesting Hollywood short-subject directors in a new idea for molding choreography into color shorts. . . . Harold Lang, juvenile lead in "Look Ma, I'm Dancin'," readying a nite club act with two female partners.

●—●—●

After a fortnight's stay in New York looking after his dance studio interests, Fred Astaire returning to Hollywood to work in "Manhattan Towers." . . . "Dark of the Moon," which ran a year on Broadway, to be filmed in New York and North Carolina. . . . Morris Green, one-time coproducer of the "Greenwich Village Follies" (Jones and Green), plans to resume Broadway activities with a comedy by Lewis Nemerson, "It Still Happens," which will be offered as a vehicle to Walter Huston. . . . The Ritz Brothers are bringing in a hundred of their Florida and Hollywood cronies for their Harem night club opening Thursday. . . . Miriam Hopkins departs for Hollywood by plane May 20 to resume screen work with "The Heiress" (in support" of Oliva de Havilland!)

●—●—●

Pearl Buck's latest tome, "Peony," which will be the Literary Guild selection for June, deals with the Jewish traders who have been living in China for centuries. . . . Like her first best-seller, "Young Man With a Horn," Dorothy Baker's next novel will deal with the music world (titled "Our Gifted Son.") . . . The inspiration for the Marx Brothers' projected film about their mother was Alexander Woollcott's "Mother of the Two-a-Day," . . . Canada Lee is launching a road version of "Native Son," featuring in the role he created on Broadway, Canada Lee Jr. (whose real name is Carl Cannigator). . . . Joan Blondell resuming her acting career via a weekly television show. . . . The Marilyn Williams who has been doing film work in England and will be in the Hollywood picture (to be shot here), tentatively titled "Kiss the Blood Off My Hands," is the daughter of the famed vaudeville singer Marion Harriss. . . . The Paul Valentine signed for a featured role in "Special Agent," starring William Eythe, is better known to Broadway as former ballet dancer Val Valentinoff.

Our contribution to world recovery should be essentially in the form of equipment and know-how, not in dollars and cents alone.

John D. "Judge" Keller, 75, Is Elected To Serve As President Of Frostburg Volunteer Fire Department; Former Chief Has Been A Member For Past 52 Years

Group Planning To Purchase Equipment

FROSTBURG—John D. "Judge" Keller, 75, one of Frostburg's best known citizens, was recently elected president of the Frostburg Fire Department, one of the many offices he has filled in the department since he first became a member 52 years ago.

He has served as chief, member of the standing committee and has been a delegate to more annual conventions of the State Firemen's Association than any other member with the probable exception of one or two of the older members.

The selection of Keller to serve as president this year, when the department is planning to spend money for new equipment, is a matter of general satisfaction, as his experience and business ability will aid younger officers in the undertaking.

He spent the early years of his life as a coal miner and as an employe of local business concerns, including the Frostburg Furniture Company. In 1922 he was elected chief of police at a time when Frostburg was experiencing one of the most disastrous mine strikes in its history.

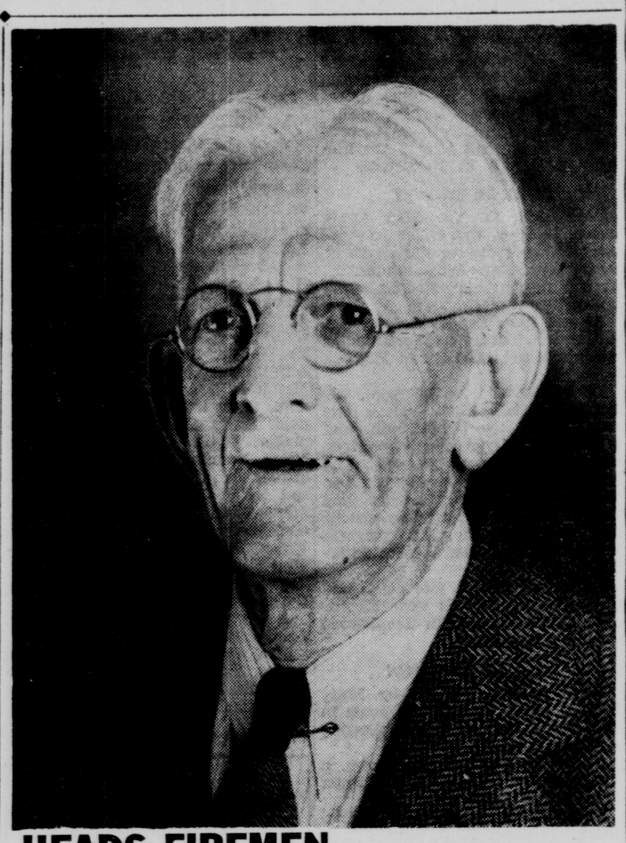
Riots and murder forced the late Judge Albert A. Doub to send the late Sheriff Harry Irvine of Allegany County and a group of out-of-town deputies here to assist Chief Keller and the Frostburg police force to maintain order. Keller did so well to protect life and property that he was kept in office until 1926, when he accepted a more lucrative position with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

While in the employ of the tire company he was elected police and fire commissioner of Frostburg, serving one term of two years under the then Mayor G. A. Shuckhart. In 1935 he was appointed Judge of the People's Court by the late Governor Harry W. Nice and served in that capacity until 1939. This appointment was a reward for his loyalty to the Republican party in which he became active as early as 1888, when as a youth under voting age he joined the Harrison and Morton Republican Club, organized here in the interests of Benjamin Harrison, who served as President of the United States from 1889 to 1893.

In 1940 Keller was appointed chief custodian of the new Beall High School, a position he now holds. By reason of his contact with the young people at the school, who greet him daily as "Judge" and "Chief," and his friendship and association with the older residents, Keller probably enjoys a wider acquaintance than any other resident in the city.

A son of the late John J. and Lutie Ruhena Keller, pioneer residents, "Judge" Keller was born in Frostburg December 19, 1872, and has maintained his residence here continuously since birth. He is a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and has been a member of the Church Council for more than 30 years. He resides at 29 Beall Lane, sharing his home since the death of his wife, the former Miss Kate Krapf, in 1945, with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rank. The latter is his niece.

An ardent baseball fan, Keller is a consistent rooter for the Pittsburgh Pirates and never fails to attend a local ball game when he has an opportunity. He pays nightly visits to the central fire station on Water Street and on Sundays attends both the morning and evening service at St. Paul's Church when he is not on duty at Beall High School.



HEADS FIREMEN-- Shown above is John D. "Judge" Keller, 75, who has been elected president of the Frostburg Fire Department. Keller, who has been a member of the department for 52 years, formerly served as chief. He served as Frostburg's chief of police from 1922 until 1926 and is also a former police and fire commissioner of that community.

John D. "Judge" Keller, 75, Is Elected To Serve As President Of Frostburg Volunteer Fire Department; Former Chief Has Been A Member For Past 52 Years

Group Planning To Purchase Equipment

FROSTBURG—John D. "Judge" Keller, 75, one of Frostburg's best known citizens, was recently elected president of the Frostburg Fire Department, one of the many offices he has filled in the department since he first became a member 52 years ago.

'Flame-Spurting' Jets Termed Fiction

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Jet engines don't spurt flame. At least they shouldn't.

The popular impression that turbojets spew out columns of flame, like giant Fourth-of-July rockets, is just the opposite of what actually happens in a properly-functioning engine, according to fuel experts at Bendix Aviation Corporation's products division here.

These experts say the burning gases that produce the propelling thrust in jets must be kept deep within the engine's combustion chambers. Otherwise, the whirling blades of the turbine wheel, as well as the engine's discharge tube, would disintegrate from the extremely high temperatures.

Stop That Bus!

CHICAGO. (AP)—Where should a bus stop? The buses of one Chicago line usually stop on the far side of intersections. The buses of another line usually stop on the near side. Then, of course, there are exceptions.

Traffic engineers are making a study of the problem. "Riders are hopelessly confused," says Alderman George D. Kells. "It's time we did something to help the poor guy on the street corner."

• Chances are you haven't appendicitis—or any other serious malady. But it's best to know. If your health is in question, consult and co-operate with your Physician. And, we'll co-operate if you'll bring his prescriptions to us.

Amvets Conquer House Of David By Score Of 9-1

Locals Get 12 Hits, Lambert Whiffs 14

Pounding the slow ball offerings of the ancient Mike Janesko for an even dozen hits, including six doubles an a triple, the Cumberland Amvets of the Bi-State Baseball League, easily defeated the House of David Club yesterday in a twilight game at Community Park by the score of 9 to 3.

Approximately 250 persons witnessed the contest.

Ival "Speed" Lambert, Amvets' twirler, yielded three runs in the first two innings then put the "Bearded Beauties" on a diet of goose eggs. He pitched a five-hitter and threw the third strike past 14 batsmen.

George Geatz and William "Bee" Scarpelli accounted for half of the locals dozen hits. Scarpelli banged out three doubles while Geatz helped himself to a double and two singles. Dunlap collected two of the five hits given up by Lambert.

Janesko, one of the oldest active pitchers in baseball today, gave way to Myers in the sixth inning. The longest wallop of the game was Danny Drew's triple.

Jim Wilkinson pitched a no-hit game yesterday as the B.P.O. Elks defeated the Cumberland Outdoor Club in a Rocking Chair Softball League game at Campobello by the score of 4-2.

The Elks' ace was cheated of a shutout when a base on balls, an outfield error and a wild throw produced two runs for the Outdoor Club in the third frame. The Elks trailed 2-0 until the sixth when the three hits coupled with an error produced four tallies. The big blow was "Pete" Lear's circuit wallop with two aboard. Manager "Tag" Reel collected two of the Elks' 7 hits.

Manager Fritz Palmer's Fraternal Order of Eagles remained tied with the Elks for first place in the eight-club circuit by scoring their second victory of the season over the Loyal Order of Moose, 1947 champions, on Rolling Mill field. The score was 9-1.

Dick Aman, Don Knieriem and Jake Fradiska walloped homers for the Birds and Fradiska turned in a nice running catch in left field of Williams' drive in the 6th inning. George Rice and Knieriem had three hits each for the Eagles. The only hits yielded by Knieriem were two-baggers by Shrader and Shaffer which produced a run in the 4th inning.

Potomac Edison pushed three runs across in the first inning and another in the fourth to down Celanese at Fort Hill by the score of 4-1.

Jim Morrison pitched 4-hit ball and collected P.E.'s only extra base hit, a double, and Zembower hit a two-bagger for the losers.

Joe Buday of P.E. turned in a nice fielding play, spearing a line drive and doubling a runner off first base.

The Amvets-K. of C. game was postponed on acount of the House of David-Amvets game at Community Park. Scores:

Ray And Charles To Clash Tonight In Chicago Ring

12,000 Will Witness Heavyweight Fight

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 6 (INS)—Elmer Ray and Ezzard Charles will be the chief antagonists tomorrow night when professional boxing returns to Chicago Stadium for the first time since death played a pat hand there 77 days ago.

In a 10-round feature go, leading light heavyweight Charles and top-flight heavyweight Ray are to reconstruct events of 10 months ago, when they staged an historic fest in Madison Square Garden, Ray winning by a disputed, and somewhat mashed nose.

Their fight tomorrow night, however, will be processed by the state of Illinois' new safety laws, growing as they did out of the death of 20-year-old Sam Baroudi following his knockout loss to Charles in the stadium arena Feb. 20.

Charles Pledges $5,000

Charles has pledged $5,000 of his Ray-Fight purse to the parents and sisters of the dead Baroudi, and Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun have promised a like amount, so the attraction takes on the aspects of a benefit.

That it certainly should be, for all the principals, since this is Chicago's best fight offering since the Zale-Graziano middleweight title thing last July. Cautious promoters said today they anticipate 12,000 fans and a $50,000-$60,000 gross, but it should hit more than that.

Whatever mayhem takes place, at any rate, will be modulated by Illinois' new boxing bible, whose commandments include mandatory eight-counts on all knockdowns, the wearing of eight-ounce gloves, and other precautionary embellishments calculated to defer literal translation by the boxers when the fans yell "kill him."

Ray Outweighs Opponent

Ray is expected to climb in weighing 191, an advantage of 17 pounds over his Cincinnati foe. There exists so much respect for Charles' punching aplomb, however, that the dusky Ohioan is even money in the betting some places, and only 7 to 5 underdog elsewhere.

According to Tommy O'Loughlin, Ray's manager, Charles is so versed in the distinctive art of the rabbit and kidney punch (both illegal in theory and in Illinois) that he (O'Loughlin) intends to make a point of this when he comes face to faces with the Illinois Athletic Commission tomorrow.

"I'm going to tell them," O'Loughlin said today, "I'm holding Charles responsible if he uses those punches and my boy dies."

Paw Paw Battles Silents To Draw

Darkness Halts Game With The Score 9-9

ROMNEY, W. Va., May 6—Paw Paw High School and the West Virginia School for the Deaf battled to a 9-9 deadlock today, darkness halting the contest after nine complete innings.

A four-run outburst enabled the Silents to knot the count in the 6th and both teams went scoreless in the last three frames.

Snyder of Paw Paw pounded out a triple and two singles to pace the visiting swatsmiths while Boyd and Tackett rapped two hits each and Asbury belted a home run for the home team.

Robertson, Paw Paw's starting pitcher, fanned nine in six innings and Taylor, his successor, mowed down four on strikes. Asbury, who relieved Nestor in the fifth, struck out ten. The score:

Herb Sarver's pitching and hitting highlighted Zion's one-sided triumph. He struck out 12 batters and smashed two home runs. Crawford of Zion and Johnson and Gardner of Episcopal also walloped homers, the latter's coming with the sacks loaded in the 7th inning.

First Baptist made 16 hits in scoring a decisive victory over Central. Grayson limited the Methodists to six hits while Bob Fox headed the winners' offensive with three safeties.

Athletics Beat Feller, 8-5, Capture League Leadership

Fowler Goes Route, A's Cop 5th In Row

PHILADELPHIA, May 6 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics went to the top of the American League the hard way today batting Bullet Bob Feller for eight runs in three and a third innings to defeat the Cleveland Indians 8 to 5.

The Athletics went to work early and with two hits, two walks and a pair of costly errors by Manager Lou Boudreau scored four runs in the first inning.

This fifth straight victory was doubly sweet for Connie Mack as Fowler proved his sore arm a thing of the past. The tall Canadian gave up eight hits in his first start and with the exception of his home run pitches to Keltner and to Joe Gordon in the sixth kept the Indians in hand. He had a bad moment in the seventh when Cleveland loaded the bases but he got Robinson to ground out.

It was Feller's second defeat against two victories. The big fellow never seemed to recover from that bad first inning and the A's were teeing off on his specialty—the high fast one. Box:

Vico, Tebbetts Fight, Tigers Top Bosox, 8-3

BOSTON, May 6 (AP) — In a lengthy contest marked by a brief fight between Detroit first sacker George Vico and Boston catcher Birdie Tebbetts, the Detroit Tigers today defeated the Boston Red Sox 8-3.

The Detroit triumph, credited to Hal White who relieved Hal Newhouser in the first inning, was fashioned on 15 hits and snapped a four - games Boston winning streak.

White retired the side twice with three men on bases and gave only four hits in eight and two thirds innings.

Vico swung at Tebbetts in the fourth inning after being tagged out as an attempted squeeze play went awry. Vico ran in from third but White missed the bunt. Tebbetts chased Vico back towards third and tagged him as he ducked.

Tebbetts fell over Vico and as the two arose Vico swung, landing a hard right smack on Tebbetts' mask. Tebbetts flung it off and threw a punch.

Players of both sides and the umpires then joined the rumpus. The two were separated and, under the rules, both were ejected.

The pair scuffled again in the grandstand tunnel to the dressing rooms. Box:

Poat Of Giants Snaps Pirates' Winning Streak

New York Scores, 9-2; Mize Hits 4th Homer

PITTSBURGH, May 6. (AP)—Ray Poat snapped Pittsburgh's six-game win streak today with a four - hit pitching job as his New York Giant mates ripped into three Pirate hurlers for a 9-2 edge.

Ray Poat

Johnny Mize, who missed the last two games due to a leg injury made known his return to the lineup by driving in three runs with three hits including his fourth homer.

Although the win sent the Giants into a virtual tie for first with the Pirates, Pittsburgh still maintains a percentage edge of .643 to .625.

Mize threw his weight around in the first inning when the Giants belted loser Ernie Bonham for two runs. The first baseman's two-run single followed a single by Billy Rigney and a double by Bobby Thomson.

The Giants chased Bonham in the third. Singles by Rigney and Whitey Lockman and Thomson's outfield fly produced one run. When Mize doubled, Bonham gave way to Bob Chesnes, the prize rookie from San Francisco who was making his big time debut on his 27th birthday. Chesnes walked Willard Marshall intentionally to load the bases and Buddy Kerr followed with a single, driving in Lockman and Mize.

Bobby Brown's Homer Wins For Yankees, 6-5

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP) — Bobby Brown smashed a two-run homer in the eighth inning today, perilously close to the right field foul pole, to give the New York Yankees a 6-5 victory over the stubborn St. Louis Browns.

Brown's blow, following a pinch double by Ed Stewart, touched off a storm of protest by the Brownies who showered the field with towels. Many of the customers motioned that they thought the ball was foul.

Allie Reynolds, who was lifted for Stewart in the eighth, was credited with his fourth straight win, tops in the majors. Joe Page worked the last inning.

Joe DiMaggio failed to hit safely in four trips, snapping his consecutive hitting streak after 10 games. Box:

Lloyd Mangrum Leads Goodall Golf Tourney

Posts Score 14 Plus, Barron In Runner-Up

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., May 6—(AP)—The official scorers got out their comptometers late today and came to the conclusion that Lloyd Mangrum, the former open golf champion, was leading the Goodall Round Robin Tournament after the opening round with a score of plus 14.

To accomplish this, Mangrum blazed around the Wykagyl Country Club course in a record-breaking 66—six shots under par and a stroke under the former competitive mark of 67 set by Byron Nelson five years ago. He was out in 34 and back in 32, playing beautiful golf all the way.

Close on Mangrum's heels after the first of five match play rounds among 16 of the world's leading links artists was Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., with a score of plus 13. Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., stood third with plus 11.

The 16 stars went out in four foursomes, and each group took well over four hours to tour the 6,569-yard layout. Each player in each group, under the unique Goodall scoring system, was engaged in match play against each of his three opponents.

Thus, Barron, while shooting a 70, finished two points ahead of Hamilton, who scored a 69. Barron got his birdies where they counted most. Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., also speared a 69, but wound up only plus 7, tied at that figure with Ed Furgol of Detroit, who produced a 71.

The player who must have the queerest feeling tonight was Bobby Locke, the smooth swinging South African who won the event a year ago. Bobby was at his smoothest today, and posted a fine 69, himself, yet gained only a plus 5 standing.

In the Goodall, strangest of all golf tournaments—and one of the most popular with the fans—it depends a great deal upon whom a man happens to be playing on a given round. The contention of the sponsors is that it all will even up by Sunday night, when the winner will pocket $2,000.

Two rounds are scheduled tomorrow, and single rounds on Saturday and Sunday.

Wellersburg Tops Park Tossers, 6-4

Nelson led the Potomac Valley batsmen with a double and two singles.

Wellersburg registered a 6 to 4 decision over the Park Cardinals at Wellersburg. It was the fourth victory in five starts for the Pennsylvanians.

Corriganville garnered 16 hits, four of which were credited to Dan Mattingly, in scoring an 11 to 2 triumph over Ellerslie on the latter's field. Corriganville has won three games and lost one. Devore rapped out three hits for the losers.

Bedford Road edged the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company at Bedford Road by the score of 4-3.

Now--A Talking Road

CHICAGO. (AP)—The latest highway safety device is a white line that complains loudly when a car moves to the wrong side of the road. The American Public Works Association reports to the Public Administration Clearing House that the device has been installed experimentally in Passaic County, N. J. It was designed especially to aid drivers at night and in foggy weather when visibility is low.

It consists of 24-inch-wide white concrete separators with scored surfaces lying flat between the traffic channels. When tires contact the scored surface, they emit a loud hum. Cost is said to be insignificant. New Jersey engineers working on the device believe they can design strips which will produce sounds resembling the words "Get over, get over," repeated continuously.

Victors Get All Runs In Last Two Innings

FROSTBURG, May 6—Hyndman High School scored seven runs in the last two innings today and blanked Beall High School by the score of 7-0 in a Bi-State Baseball Conference game.

Deffenbaugh, Beall pitcher, shut out the Pennsylvanians with two hits until the sixth when the visitors scored four runs. Schad's triple started the rally which was punctuated by Clites' home run clout to left-center with Harden aboard. Coach Eddie McVicker's outfit added three more runs in the seventh.

Bush, Hyndman twirler, kept Beall's 10 hits well spaced and was accorded fine support by Rizer, who turned in several nice running catches in centerfield.

Emerick led Hyndman's 10 - hit attack with three safeties while Farrady and Stevens shared six of Keystone Staters' 10 bingles.

Beall loaded the bases in the first inning with none out but was unable to score.

Scarpelli made several nice plays at short for the home team.

251 Boys To Compete In County Track Meet Tomorrow

Locals Get 12 Hits, Lambert Whiffs 14

Pounding the slow ball offerings of the ancient Mike Janesko for an even dozen hits, including six doubles an a triple, the Cumberland Amvets of the Bi-State Baseball League, easily defeated the House of David Club yesterday in a twilight game at Community Park by the score of 9 to 3.

Approximately 250 persons witnessed the contest.

Ival "Speed" Lambert, Amvets' twirler, yielded three runs in the first two innings then put the "Bearded Beauties" on a diet of goose eggs. He pitched a five-hitter and threw the third strike past 14 batsmen.

George Geatz and William "Bee" Scarpelli accounted for half of the locals dozen hits. Scarpelli banged out three doubles while Geatz helped himself to a double and two singles. Dunlap collected two of the five hits given up by Lambert.

Janesko, one of the oldest active pitchers in baseball today, gave way to Myers in the sixth inning. The longest wallop of the game was Danny Drew's triple.

Jim Wilkinson pitched a no-hit game yesterday as the B.P.O. Elks defeated the Cumberland Outdoor Club in a Rocking Chair Softball League game at Campobello by the score of 4-2.

The Elks' ace was cheated of a shutout when a base on balls, an outfield error and a wild throw produced two runs for the Outdoor Club in the third frame. The Elks trailed 2-0 until the sixth when the three hits coupled with an error produced four tallies. The big blow was "Pete" Lear's circuit wallop with two aboard. Manager "Tag" Reel collected two of the Elks' 7 hits.

Manager Fritz Palmer's Fraternal Order of Eagles remained tied with the Elks for first place in the eight-club circuit by scoring their second victory of the season over the Loyal Order of Moose, 1947 champions, on Rolling Mill field. The score was 9-1.

Dick Aman, Don Knieriem and Jake Fradiska walloped homers for the Birds and Fradiska turned in a nice running catch in left field of Williams' drive in the 6th inning. George Rice and Knieriem had three hits each for the Eagles. The only hits yielded by Knieriem were two-baggers by Shrader and Shaffer which produced a run in the 4th inning.

Potomac Edison pushed three runs across in the first inning and another in the fourth to down Celanese at Fort Hill by the score of 4-1.

Jim Morrison pitched 4-hit ball and collected P.E.'s only extra base hit, a double, and Zembower hit a two-bagger for the losers.

Joe Buday of P.E. turned in a nice fielding play, spearing a line drive and doubling a runner off first base.

Ray And Charles To Clash Tonight In Chicago Ring

12,000 Will Witness Heavyweight Fight

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 6 (INS)—Elmer Ray and Ezzard Charles will be the chief antagonists tomorrow night when professional boxing returns to Chicago Stadium for the first time since death played a pat hand there 77 days ago.

In a 10-round feature go, leading light heavyweight Charles and top-flight heavyweight Ray are to reconstruct events of 10 months ago, when they staged an historic fest in Madison Square Garden, Ray winning by a disputed, and somewhat mashed nose.

Their fight tomorrow night, however, will be processed by the state of Illinois' new safety laws, growing as they did out of the death of 20-year-old Sam Baroudi following his knockout loss to Charles in the stadium arena Feb. 20.

Charles Pledges $5,000

Charles has pledged $5,000 of his Ray-Fight purse to the parents and sisters of the dead Baroudi, and Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun have promised a like amount, so the attraction takes on the aspects of a benefit.

That it certainly should be, for all the principals, since this is Chicago's best fight offering since the Zale-Graziano middleweight title thing last July. Cautious promoters said today they anticipate 12,000 fans and a $50,000-$60,000 gross, but it should hit more than that.

Whatever mayhem takes place, at any rate, will be modulated by Illinois' new boxing bible, whose commandments include mandatory eight-counts on all knockdowns, the wearing of eight-ounce gloves, and other precautionary embellishments calculated to defer literal translation by the boxers when the fans yell "kill him."

Ray Outweighs Opponent

Ray is expected to climb in weighing 191, an advantage of 17 pounds over his Cincinnati foe. There exists so much respect for Charles' punching aplomb, however, that the dusky Ohioan is even money in the betting some places, and only 7 to 5 underdog elsewhere.

According to Tommy O'Loughlin, Ray's manager, Charles is so versed in the distinctive art of the rabbit and kidney punch (both illegal in theory and in Illinois) that he (O'Loughlin) intends to make a point of this when he comes face to faces with the Illinois Athletic Commission tomorrow.

"I'm going to tell them," O'Loughlin said today, "I'm holding Charles responsible if he uses those punches and my boy dies."

Paw Paw Battles Silents To Draw

Darkness Halts Game With The Score 9-9

ROMNEY, W. Va., May 6 — Paw Paw High School and the West Virginia School for the Deaf battled to a 9-9 deadlock today, darkness halting the contest after nine complete innings.

A four-run outburst enabled the Silents to knot the count in the 6th and both teams went scoreless in the last three frames.

Snyder of Paw Paw pounded out a triple and two singles to pace the visiting swatsmiths while Boyd and Tackett rapped two hits each and Asbury belted a home run for the home team.

Robertson, Paw Paw's starting pitcher, fanned nine in six innings and Taylor, his successor, mowed down four on strikes. Asbury, who relieved Nestor in the fifth, struck out ten. The score:

First Baptist defeated Central Methodist, 15-2, at Fort Hill field, Zion Reformed swamped Emmanuel Episcopal, 23-7, at East Side, and United Brethren won by forfeit when Cresaptown failed to show up for its Central YMCA Church Softball League game yesterday at Locust Grove.

Herb Sarver's pitching and hitting highlighted Zion's one-sided triumph. He struck out 12 batters and smashed two home runs. Crawford of Zion and Johnson and Gardner of Episcopal also walloped homers, the latter's coming with the sacks loaded in the 7th inning.

First Baptist made 16 hits in scoring a decisive victory over Central. Grayson limited the Methodists to six hits while Bob Fox headed the winners' offensive with three safeties.

In games today Zion Methodist plays Park Place at Fort Hill upper field, St. Luke's faces Centre Street Mehodist at Fort Hill lower field, First Baptist meets First Christian at Community Park, Central Methodist tangles with Grace Baptist at Locust Grove and Trinity opposes First Mtthodist at Penn Avenue field. Athletics Beat Feller, 8-5, Capture League Leadership

Fowler Goes Route, A's Cop 5th In Row

PHILADELPHIA, May 6 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics went to the top of the American League the hard way today batting Bullet Bob Feller for eight runs in three and a third innings to defeat the Cleveland Indians 8 to 5.

The Athletics went to work early and with two hits, two walks and a pair of costly errors by Manager Lou Boudreau scored four runs in the first inning.

This fifth straight victory was doubly sweet for Connie Mack as Fowler proved his sore arm a thing of the past. The tall Canadian gave up eight hits in his first start and with the exception of his home run pitches to Keltner and to Joe Gordon in the sixth kept the Indians in hand. He had a bad moment in the seventh when Cleveland loaded the bases but he got Robinson to ground out.

It was Feller's second defeat against two victories. The big fellow never seemed to recover from that bad first inning and the A's were teeing off on his specialty—the high fast one. Box:

Vico, Tebbetts Fight, Tigers Top Bosox, 8-3

BOSTON, May 6 (AP) — In a lengthy contest marked by a brief fight between Detroit first sacker George Vico and Boston catcher Birdie Tebbetts, the Detroit Tigers today defeated the Boston Red Sox 8-3.

The Detroit triumph, credited to Hal White who relieved Hal Newhouser in the first inning, was fashioned on 15 hits and snapped a four - games Boston winning streak.

White retired the side twice with three men on bases and gave only four hits in eight and two thirds innings.

Vico swung at Tebbetts in the fourth inning after being tagged out as an attempted squeeze play went awry. Vico ran in from third but White missed the bunt. Tebbetts chased Vico back towards third and tagged him as he ducked.

Tebbetts fell over Vico and as the two arose Vico swung, landing a hard right smack on Tebbetts' mask. Tebbetts flung it off and threw a punch.

Players of both sides and the umpires then joined the rumpus. The two were separated and, under the rules, both were ejected.

The pair scuffled again in the grandstand tunnel to the dressing rooms. Box:

Poat Of Giants Snaps Pirates' Winning Streak

New York Scores, 9-2; Mize Hits 4th Homer

PITTSBURGH, May 6. (AP)—Ray Poat snapped Pittsburgh's six-game win streak today with a four - hit pitching job as his New York Giant mates ripped into three Pirate hurlers for a 9-2 edge.

Ray Poat

Johnny Mize, who missed the last two games due to a leg injury made known his return to the lineup by driving in three runs with three hits including his fourth homer.

Although the win sent the Giants into a virtual tie for first with the Pirates, Pittsburgh still maintains a percentage edge of .643 to .625.

Mize threw his weight around in the first inning when the Giants belted loser Ernie Bonham for two runs. The first baseman's two-run single followed a single by Billy Rigney and a double by Bobby Thomson.

The Giants chased Bonham in the third. Singles by Rigney and Whitey Lockman and Thomson's outfield fly produced one run. When Mize doubled, Bonham gave way to Bob Chesnes, the prize rookie from San Francisco who was making his big time debut on his 27th birthday. Chesnes walked Willard Marshall intentionally to load the bases and Buddy Kerr followed with a single, driving in Lockman and Mize.

Bobby Brown's Homer Wins For Yankees, 6-5

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP) — Bobby Brown smashed a two-run homer in the eighth inning today, perilously close to the right field foul pole, to give the New York Yankees a 6-5 victory over the stubborn St. Louis Browns.

Brown's blow, following a pinch double by Ed Stewart, touched off a storm of protest by the Brownies who showered the field with towels. Many of the customers motioned that they thought the ball was foul.

Allie Reynolds, who was lifted for Stewart in the eighth, was credited with his fourth straight win, tops in the majors. Joe Page worked the last inning.

Joe DiMaggio failed to hit safely in four trips, snapping his consecutive hitting streak after 10 games. Box:

Lloyd Mangrum Leads Goodall Golf Tourney

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., May 6 —(AP)—The official scorers got out their comptometers late today and came to the conclusion that Lloyd Mangrum, the former open golf champion, was leading the Goodall Round Robin Tournament after the opening round with a score of plus 14.

To accomplish this, Mangrum blazed around the Wykagyl Country Club course in a record-breaking 66—six shots under par and a stroke under the former competitive mark of 67 set by Byron Nelson five years ago. He was out in 34 and back in 32, playing beautiful golf all the way.

Close on Mangrum's heels after the first of five match play rounds among 16 of the world's leading links artists was Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., with a score of plus 13. Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., stood third with plus 11.

The 16 stars went out in four foursomes, and each group took well over four hours to tour the 6,569-yard layout. Each player in each group, under the unique Goodall scoring system, was engaged in match play against each of his three opponents.

Thus, Barron, while shooting a 70, finished two points ahead of Hamilton, who scored a 69. Barron got his birdies where they counted most. Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., also speared a 69, but wound up only plus 7, tied at that figure with Ed Furgol of Detroit, who produced a 71.

The player who must have the queerest feeling tonight was Bobby Locke, the smooth swinging South African who won the event a year ago. Bobby was at his smoothest today, and posted a fine 69, himself, yet gained only a plus 5 standing.

In the Goodall, strangest of all golf tournaments—and one of the most popular with the fans—it depends a great deal upon whom a man happens to be playing on a given round. The contention of the sponsors is that it all will even up by Sunday night, when the winner will pocket $2,000.

Two rounds are scheduled tomorrow, and single rounds on Saturday and Sunday.

Potomac Valley Wins Over Hyndman, 4-0

Potomac Valley and Wellersburg, the deadlocked pace-setters in the County Softball League both emerged victorious in games played yesterday.

The Potomac Valley Cubs took the Hyndman Firemen into camp at Cresaptown by the score of 4 to 0 behind the four-hit pitching of Billy Willison. The Cubs scored all of their runs in the first inning on doubles by Pete Cecil and Nelson coupled with three singles.

Nelson led the Potomac Valley batsmen with a double and two singles.

Wellersburg registered a 6 to 4 decision over the Park Cardinals at Wellersburg. It was the fourth victory in five starts for the Pennsylvanians.

Baker had a perfect day at bat with four for four and featured with several nice catches in center field. C. O'Baker knocked a homer in the 4th with two aboard and Weimer collected two hits in three trips to the plate.

Corriganville garnered 16 hits, four of which were credited to Dan Mattingly, in scoring an 11 to 2 triumph over Ellerslie on the latter's field. Corriganville has won three games and lost one. Devore rapped out three hits for the losers.

Bedford Road edged the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company at Bedford Road by the score of 4-3.

No report was received on the Corner Merchants-Allegany Grove game scheduled at Penn Avenue Field. Scores:

Now--A Talking Road

CHICAGO. (AP)—The latest highway safety device is a white line that complains loudly when a car moves to the wrong side of the road. The American Public Works Association reports to the Public Administration Clearing House that the device has been installed experimentally in Passaic County, N. J. It was designed especially to aid drivers at night and in foggy weather when visibility is low.

It consists of 24-inch-wide white concrete separators with scored surfaces lying flat between the traffic channels. When tires contact the scored surface, they emit a loud hum. Cost is said to be insignificant. New Jersey engineers working on the device believe they can design strips which will produce sounds resembling the words "Get over, get over," repeated continuously.

Estel C. Kelley Named Speaker For Mother's Day

Eagles Plan Annual Public Observance

Estel C. Kelley, local attorney, will be guest speaker at the annual Mothers' Day observance of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the FOE home, North Mechanic Street, Sunday afternoon.

Mothers' Day is one of the important events on the Eagles' annual calendar, and this year, as in past seasons, a large class, dedicated to Mothers, will be initiated.

The organization is credited with being the first national group to sponsor and advocate nation-wide and world-wide observance of a day when all mothers, living and dead, should be honored.

Almost half a century ago a young instructor at the University of Notre Dame made the first known plea for national observance of Mothers' Day.

The young professor was the late Frank E. Hering, who became widely known as the "Father of Mother's Day" and the movement he started has spread throughout many nations of the world.

Mr. Hering made his plea for Mother's Day February 7, 1904 at an Eagle Memorial Service in English's Opera House, Indianapolis, Ind. Although a young man at the time, he had already served as president of the South Bend, Ind. Eagle Aerie. He later became national president of the order, serving two terms, and founded and edited the official publication of the organization, the "Eagle Magazine."

Mothers' Day was memorialized by the Fraternal Order of Eagles as one of fraternal observance many years before the second Sunday in May became, by Act of Congress in 1914, a day of national devotion. President Woodrow Wilson issued the first Mothers' Day proclamation for May 10 of that same year.

Largely through the efforts of Mr. Hering, several states had officially recognized Mother's Day prior to that date.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles has more than a million and a half members in 1,531 American communities. This year, every one of these has been delegated to call no less than five mothers in his community, imparting a special Mothers' Day greeting and inviting them to hear a nation-wide broadcast dedicated to mothers.

Unemployment Claims Hit 11,381 In April

A total of 11,381 claims for unemployment benefits were filed during April in the local office of the Maryland Unemployment Service, according to Francis A. Kenney, manager.

Kenney said the tabulation represents a slight increase over March when 11,321 were filed and a major jump over April, 1947, when 9,095 sought unemployment benefits.

A week's layoff at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant was responsible for much of the increase last month, according to Kenney, who said the coal strike also accounted for a jump in the figures.

The group decided against asking for an admission tax on local athletic events to promote recreation projects in the city, following an adverse committee report.

Dr. Howard Speaks To Literature Group

The Literature Group of the Woman's Civic Club met at the Public Library yesterday with Mrs. Thomas Lohr Richards presiding. After a short business session the guest of the afternoon, Dr. Dorothy G. Howard, head of the English department of Frostburg State Teachers College was introduced.

Her subject was "The Atomic Battle of the Books." It was a lengthy paraphrase of Jonathan Swift's "Battle of the Books" and she talked about the trends in book publishing today and the opposing opinions of the critics.

She said it was a battle of the ancients and the moderns, with ancients being supreme. She called attention to the fact that the trend in reading is toward the older books of another generation partly due, perhaps to the fact that a number of the older books are coming out in cheaper editions. She mentioned "Peace of Mind" by Joshua Loth Liebman as indicating a type of book that is extremely popular. She stated that books on war are on the decrease and books on Communism are on the increase.

Dr. Howard said that readers look to the English and Victorian period for entertainment, and then read an article by Brooks Atkinson, which was an attack on an English critic who had written an article about American authors and used Eugene O'Neill as the target of his attack.

She listed the following as "Adventures in Literature" and gave the names as those of the 13 most promising novelists of 1947: John Horne Burns, David Davidson, Lionel Shapiro, Percy Winner, Oswald Wynd, Robert McLaughlan, A. B. Guthrie, Lionel Trilling, Robert Lewis Taylor, Gabrielle Roy (Canadian), Willard Motley, Esther Carlson and Herman Wouk.

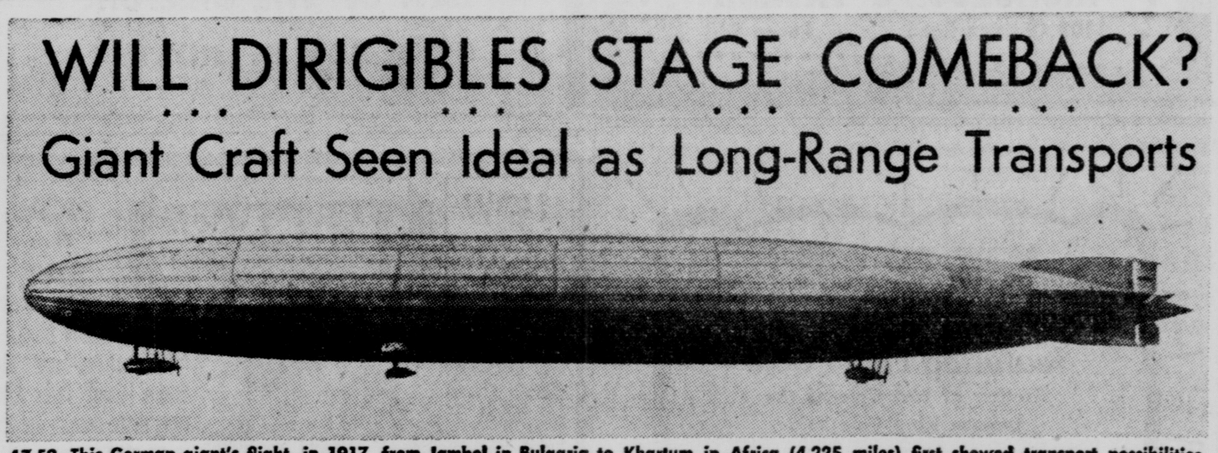
WILL DIRIGIBLES STAGE COMEBACK?

Giant Craft Seen Ideal as Long-Range Transports



LZ-59—This German giant's flight, in 1917, from Jambol in Bulgaria to Khartum in Africa (4,225 miles) first showed transport possibilities.

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Central Press Correspondent

AKRON, O. — Do huge lighter-than-air ships—the great dirigibles that once reigned as queens of the skies—have a place in this era of rapidly expanding commercial flying, or are the giant balloons, like the dodo bird, already extinct?

Except for blimps which lately have dotted the skies throughout the country, the type of craft represented by the majestic "silver cigars" of two decades ago have disappeared, and it seems generally taken for granted that the rapid pace of winged craft development has left them in the lurch forever.

Consequently, it may come as a surprise that there still are many staunch advocates of the dirigible among air navigation authorities, and work is progressing rapidly here on development of new designs which shortly may be bidding for a new inning in the aircraft scene.

With Germany prostrate, Akron is unchallenged as the capital of buoyant airship enthusiasm and science. The ideas that are being hatched here, if they ever get a chance at trying to remove the jinx that beset dirigibles and was climaxed by the sensational series of crashes 10 years ago, may indeed create wonders of the modern world.

LZ-129—The ill-fated Hindenburg over New York on one of its many commercial flights from Germany.

Modern dirigibles are on the drawing boards now. They are envisioned as mammoth 10,000,000-cubic-foot ships, half again as large as the ill-fated Hindenburg which exploded spectacularly over Lakehurt, N. J., in 1937, and vanished in a great cloud of smoke and fire in just one minute.

• • •

THIS NEW SHIP would be 950 feet long, have an operating range of 6,000 miles, and be filled with fireproof helium gas. It could carry a ponderous 90-ton payload over the 2,500 airline miles from California to Hawaii at a cruising speed of 75 miles an hour.

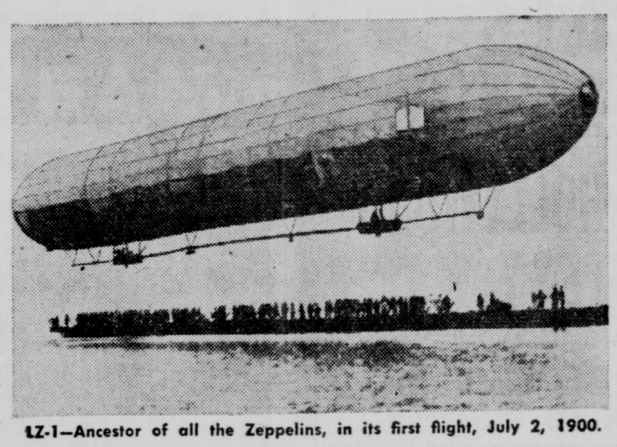
However, these plans only stir the greater imaginations of the real advocates of this type of airship development. They see in their mind's eyes the true luxury liner of the future, the aeronautical replacement for giant steamships which still ply the seas with plenty of work ahead of them in spite of the rapid development of overseas commercial flying.

Economy and comfort are twin virtues advanced by Akron's eager proponents of dirigibles. And they also feature safety through the use of non-inflammable helium. The United States virtually has a monopoly over this type of air development since helium is found only within its borders in commercially worthwhile quantities.

Not even the dirigible's greatest boosters, however, maintain that it will threaten the ascendancy of propeller and jet-driven planes for shorter hauls. Long overseas hops would be the special forte of these massive craft which would glide so quietly and effortlessly that passengers would enjoy amazing travel comforts.

The dirigible of the future would be faster than present designs call for, and it would cruise at speeds of more than 100 miles-per-hour. Owing to greater regularity of scheduling, the dirigible would not suffer so badly in elapsed time comparisons with heavier-than-air craft.

Moreover, dirigibles could be operated at one-half to one-third the cost per ton mile of a plane, according to present calculations.



LZ-1—Ancestor of all the Zeppelins, in its first flight, July 2, 1900.

The dirigible of the future might even serve as mobile aerial landing fields for small planes—a floating "island" in the sky with its own complement of helicopters. In fact, the "sky is the limit" on the plans which the lighter-than-air advocates have for utilizing the greater space at their command.

If dirigibles get another chance to prove their worth, it will reinstate in the race for air supremacy the real pioneer among aircraft. Being direct descendants of the non-rigid balloon, they trace their heritage all the way back to the French brothers, J. M. and J. E. Montgolfier who in 1783 astonished the world with their balloons.

Count von Zeppelin, however, was the real father of the modern version of lighter-than-air ships. In 1898, after he had retired from the German army, he started work on a rigid framework airship 420 feet long and 38 feet in diameter.

From the beginning the big ships encountered one misfortune after another. They were hard to handle, and often were damaged on landings with consequent long layups for repairs. Lighter-than-air ships have disappeared from the scene numerous times, but they always came back!

By World War I, the Germans had taken many of the "bugs" out of their early dirigible designs, and the first London "blitzes"—puny affairs compared with those of World War II—were staged by giant Zeppelins.

Although their aerial striking power was almost nil, nothing that Hitler in World War II hurled against the British had a more spectacular morale effect than the Kaiser's ghostly gray airships that glided over the channel.

When incendiary bullets were shot into the great silver sharks of the sky, their highly inflammable hydrogen virtually exploded. Then, one night, a Zeppelin came over that would not ignite, and the British knew that the Germans had managed to use the newly-discovered helium gas.

This ushered in a new era for airships of this type, and a world-wide hunt for helium started which, for its day, was like the search for uranium after the atom bomb was tried. The story of helium is one of science's most dramatic sagas.

First discovered on the sun by a French astronomer, J. Jannsen, it was later detected on the earth along with neon, which was fated to play such a vivid role in illuminated signs.

The Germans were able to extract enough helium from the atmosphere to fill a few Zeppelins, but the only really rich discovery ever made was in the natural gasses of Kansas.

When peace returned after World War I, the Germans returned to hydrogen because of its greater lifting power. Helium ranks next to hydrogen as the lightest of gasses. Uncle Sam's first entry in the great airship race of the 20s came from Germany as part of the reparations, and was named the Los Angeles.

• • •

IT HAD a peaceful career that ended in retirement in 1932. Not so the second United States entry, however, for the ill-fated Shenandoah was ripped apart in a gale over Ohio and forecast the violent fate of its great sister ships.

The United States built more than a hundred large ships to challenge the head starts of Germany and England. Finally, three major tragedies in less than five years, climaxed by the Hindenburg's holocaust, closed the dramatic chapter of air transport pioneering.

The United States Navy dirigible Akron was lost in the Atlantic in 1933, and its sister ship, the Macon, went down in the Pacific two years later.

However, on the other side of the ledger, says the partisans of the dirigible, is a record by the Hindenburg and the Graf Zeppelin of 634 trouble-free trips, 181 across the oceans, for a total of more than a million miles with 20,000 passengers carried without injury.

These are hints, they say, of the possibilities of such craft when the air age really attains full volume and great capacities are sought. Committees and commissions have their recommendations under careful study now, and soon may report.

When they do, a new scramble to build the big craft may begin. It will take time, however, for it is estimated that two years will be needed to build the first of the new giants, with successive intervals of six months to build others like it.

Estel C. Kelley Named Speaker For Mother's Day

Eagles Plan Annual Public Observance

Estel C. Kelley, local attorney, will be guest speaker at the annual Mothers' Day observance of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the FOE home, North Mechanic Street, Sunday afternoon.

Mothers' Day is one of the important events on the Eagles' annual calendar, and this year, as in past seasons, a large class, dedicated to Mothers, will be initiated.

The organization is credited with being the first national group to sponsor and advocate nation-wide and world-wide observance of a day when all mothers, living and dead, should be honored.

Almost half a century ago a young instructor at the University of Notre Dame made the first known plea for national observance of Mothers' Day.

The young professor was the late Frank E. Hering, who became widely known as the "Father of Mother's Day" and the movement he started has spread throughout many nations of the world.

Mr. Hering made his plea for Mother's Day February 7, 1904 at an Eagle Memorial Service in English's Opera House, Indianapolis, Ind. Although a young man at the time, he had already served as president of the South Bend, Ind. Eagle Aerie. He later became national president of the order, serving two terms, and founded and edited the official publication of the organization, the "Eagle Magazine."

Mothers' Day was memorialized by the Fraternal Order of Eagles as one of fraternal observance many years before the second Sunday in May became, by Act of Congress in 1914, a day of national devotion. President Woodrow Wilson issued the first Mothers' Day proclamation for May 10 of that same year.

Largely through the efforts of Mr. Hering, several states had officially recognized Mother's Day prior to that date.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles has more than a million and a half members in 1,531 American communities. This year, every one of these has been delegated to call no less than five mothers in his community, imparting a special Mothers' Day greeting and inviting them to hear a nation-wide broadcast dedicated to mothers.

Unemployment Claims Hit 11,381 In April

A total of 11,381 claims for unemployment benefits were filed during April in the local office of the Maryland Unemployment Service, according to Francis A. Kenney, manager.

Kenney said the tabulation represents a slight increase over March when 11,321 were filed and a major jump over April, 1947, when 9,095 sought unemployment benefits.

A week's layoff at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant was responsible for much of the increase last month, according to Kenney, who said the coal strike also accounted for a jump in the figures.

Dr. Howard Speaks To Literature Group

The Literature Group of the Woman's Civic Club met at the Public Library yesterday with Mrs. Thomas Lohr Richards presiding. After a short business session the guest of the afternoon, Dr. Dorothy G. Howard, head of the English department of Frostburg State Teachers College was introduced.

Her subject was "The Atomic Battle of the Books." It was a lengthy paraphrase of Jonathan Swift's "Battle of the Books" and she talked about the trends in book publishing today and the opposing opinions of the critics.

She said it was a battle of the ancients and the moderns, with ancients being supreme. She called attention to the fact that the trend in reading is toward the older books of anoher generation partly due, perhaps to the fact that a number of the older books are coming out in cheaper editions. She mentioned "Peace of Mind" by Joshua Loth Liebman as indicating a type of book that is extremely popular. She stated that books on war are on the decrease and books on Communism are on the increase.

Dr. Howard said that readers look to the English and Victorian period for entertainment, and then read an article by Brooks Atkinson, which was an attack on an English critic who had written an article about American authors and used Eugene O'Neill as the target of his attack.

She listed the following as "Adventures in Literature" and gave the names as those of the 13 most promising novelists of 1947: John Horne Burns, David Davidson, Lionel Shapiro, Percy Winner, Oswald Wynd, Robert McLaughlan, A. B. Guthrie, Lionel Trilling, Robert Lewis Taylor, Gabrielle Roy (Canadian), Willard Motley, Esther Carlson and Herman Wouk.

WILL DIRIGIBLES STAGE COMEBACK?

Giant Craft Seen Ideal as Long-Range Transports

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Central Press Correspondent

AKRON, O. — Do huge lighter-than-air ships—the great dirigibles that once reigned as queens of the skies—have a place in this era of rapidly expanding commercial flying, or are the giant balloons, like the dodo bird, already extinct?

Except for blimps which lately have dotted the skies throughout the country, the type of craft represented by the majestic "silver cigars" of two decades ago have disappeared, and it seems generally taken for granted that the rapid pace of winged craft development has left them in the lurch forever.

Consequently, it may come as a surprise that there still are many staunch advocates of the dirigible among air navigation authorities, and work is progressing rapidly here on development of new designs which shortly may be bidding for a new inning in the aircraft scene.

With Germany prostrate, Akron is unchallenged as the capital of buoyant airship enthusiasm and science. The ideas that are being hatched here, if they ever get a chance at trying to remove the jinx that beset dirigibles and was climaxed by the sensational series of crashes 10 years ago, may indeed create wonders of the modern world.

LZ-129—The ill-fated Hindenburg over New York on one of its many commercial flights from Germany.

Modern dirigibles are on the drawing boards now. They are envisioned as mammoth 10,000,000-cubic-foot ships, half again as large as the ill-fated Hindenburg which exploded spectacularly over Lakehurt, N. J., in 1937, and vanished in a great cloud of smoke and fire in just one minute.

THIS NEW SHIP would be 950 feet long, have an operating range of 6,000 miles, and be filled with fireproof helium gas. It could carry a ponderous 90-ton payload over the 2,500 airline miles from California to Hawaii at a cruising speed of 75 miles an hour.

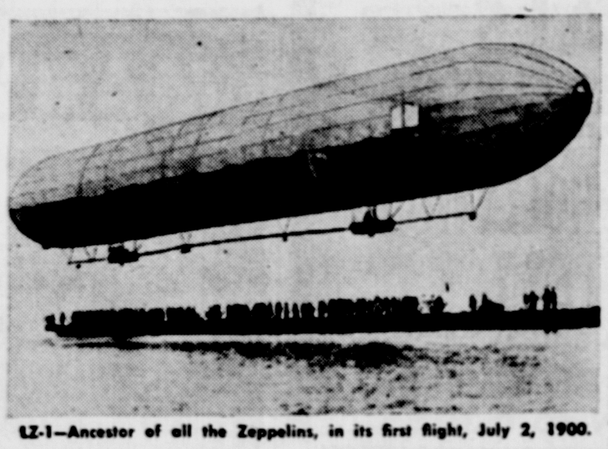
However, these plans only stir the greater imaginations of the real advocates of this type of airship development. They see in their mind's eyes the true luxury liner of the future, the aeronautical replacement for giant steamships which still ply the seas with plenty of work ahead of them in spite of the rapid development of overseas commercial flying.

Economy and comfort are twin virtues advanced by Akron's eager proponents of dirigibles. And they also feature safety through the use of non-inflammable helium. The United States virtually has a monopoly over this type of air development since helium is found only within its borders in commercially worthwhile quantities.

Not even the dirigible's greatest boosters, however, maintain that it will threaten the ascendancy of propeller and jet-driven planes for shorter hauls. Long overseas hops would be the special forte of these massive craft which would glide so quietly and effortlessly that passengers would enjoy amazing travel comforts.

The dirigible of the future would be faster than present designs call for, and it would cruise at speeds of more than 100 miles-per-hour. Owing to greater regularity of scheduling, the dirigible would not suffer so badly in elapsed time comparisons with heavier-than-air craft.

Moreover, dirigibles could be operated at one-half to one-third the cost per ton mile of a plane, according to present calculations.



LZ-1—Ancestor of all the Zeppelins, in its first flight, July 2, 1900.

The dirigible of the future might even serve as mobile aerial landing fields for small planes—a floating "island" in the sky with its own complement of helicopters. In fact, the "sky is the limit" on the plans which the lighter-than-air advocates have for utilizing the greater space at their command.

If dirigibles get another chance to prove their worth, it will reinstate in the race for air supremacy the real pioneer among aircraft. Being direct descendants of the non-rigid balloon, they trace their heritage all the way back to the French brothers, J. M. and J. E. Montgolfier who in 1783 astonished the world with their balloons.

Count von Zeppelin, however, was the real father of the modern version of lighter-than-air ships. In 1898, after he had retired from the German army, he started work on a rigid framework airship 420 feet long and 38 feet in diameter.

From the beginning the big ships encountered one misfortune after another. They were hard to handle, and often were damaged on landings with consequent long layups for repairs. Lighter-than-air ships have disappeared from the scene numerous times, but they always came back!

By World War I, the Germans had taken many of the "bugs" out of their early dirigible designs, and the first London "blitzes"—puny affairs compared with those of World War II—were staged by giant Zeppelins.

Although their aerial striking power was almost nil, nothing that Hitler in World War II hurled against the British had a more spectacular morale effect than the Kaiser's ghostly gray airships that glided over the channel.

When incendiary bullets were shot into the great silver sharks of the sky, their highly inflammable hydrogen virtually exploded. Then, one night, a Zeppelin came over that would not ignite, and the British knew that the Germans had managed to use the newly-discovered helium gas.

This ushered in a new era for airships of this type, and a worldwide hunt for helium started which, for its day, was like the search for uranium after the atom bomb was tried. The story of helium is one of science's most dramatic sagas.

First discovered on the sun by a French astronomer, J. Jannsen, it was later detected on the earth along with neon, which was fated to play such a vivid role in illuminated signs.

The Germans were able to extract enough helium from the atmosphere to fill a few Zeppelins, but the only really rich discovery ever made was in the natural gasses of Kansas.

When peace returned after World War I, the Germans returned to hydrogen because of its greater lifting power. Helium ranks next to hydrogen as the lightest of gasses. Uncle Sam's first entry in the great airship race of the 20s came from Germany as part of the reparations, and was named the Los Angeles.

• • •

IT HAD a peaceful career that ended in retirement in 1932. Not so the second United States entry, however, for the ill-fated Shenandoah was ripped apart in a gale over Ohio and forecast the violent fate of its great sister ships.

The United States built more than a hundred large ships to challenge the head starts of Germany and England. Finally, three major tragedies in less than five years, climaxed by the Hindenburg's holocaust, closed the dramatic chapter of air transport pioneering.

The United States Navy dirigible Akron was lost in the Atlantic in 1933, and its sister ship, the Macon, went down in the Pacific two years later.

However, on the other side of the ledger, says the partisans of the dirigible, is a record by the Hindenburg and the Graf Zeppelin of 634 trouble-free trips, 181 across the oceans, for a total of more than a million miles with 20,000 passengers carried without injury.

These are hints, they say, of the possibilities of such craft when the air age really attains full volume and great capacities are sought. Committees and commissions have their recommendations under careful study now, and soon may report.

When they do, a new scramble to build the big craft may begin. It will take time, however, for it is estimated that two years will be needed to build the first of the new giants, with successive intervals of six months to build others like it.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, May 6—(INS)—Claudette Colbert hasn't made a movie on the Universal-International lot since "The Egg And I" and you can bet she will get the queen treatment when she returns for "Family Honeymoon" June 1.

Marlene Dietrich

"The Egg And I" cleaned up at the box office and made as much money — if not more—as any film released in 1946. That was one case of nobody minding having egg on the face!

This new story has the same folksy - amusing feeling. Written as a novel by Homer Croy, it is about a widow who insists on taking her children on her second honeymoon.

There are two male stars yet to be selected by head man Bill Goetz and Producer John Beck to carry on the comedy with Claudette.

When Cary Grant goes to England to make that picture for Alexander Korda, there is a big chance that Betsy Drake will go along as his leading lady. A few days ago, Korda was on the RKO lot, looking at the tests Betsy Drake made with Grant, and sitting right beside him was the handsome actor himself, doing a good selling job.

As it told you before, those tests of Betsy in "Every Girl Should Marry" are beautiful — not only beautiful, but the girl has something. When that movie with Cary is released, I know you will agree with me. Carol Reed directs Cary in the Korda epic, and the movie may be filmed in the East Indies.

The "Mayerling" picture is up again for a hot discussion. My goodness! It has been up, and off, and on! Joan Fontain and Robert Taylor were supposed to have made it for the Hakims at MGM. Then, after waiting for months, it was called off and Joan sued because they kept her waiting for so long.

Now the Hakims have decided to produce "Mayerling" in France, and they are doing their best to borrow Elizabeth Taylor and Louis Jourdan.

Chatter from New York: The Xavier Cugats are all over New York, happy as larks. I must say Cugie has plenty to keep him on the happy side these days.

He has just signed a contract to return to the Waldorf-Astoria (where he started 15 years ago) at the highest salary ever paid a band, plus a percentage of the house.

Helen Walker was ready to start rehearsals on a Broadway show in New York when she got a hurry up call for "My Dear Secretary"—and boom, she breezed right out of the play and caught a plane for Hollywood.

That is the reverse on all the movie stars who are just dying to do a stage show. Helen thinks one good movie is worth two Broadway flings.

I keep hearing that "My Dear Secretary" will probably be Laraine Day's last picture. She is utterly miserable away from Leo Durocher and makes no secret of it.

I hear through the grapevine that before the Navy Department in Washington will allow MGM to release Admiral Byrd's picture, "The Secret Land," they have to take a look at it.

Admiral Byrd, on his last expedition to the south pole, made this movie in color, but Washington wants to be sure that no strategic informaion about the South Pole region is revealed to potential aggressors.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Clark Gable sails for Europe June 9 on the Queen Elizabeth—that is, if "Command Decision" is finished.

Norma Shearer and Marty Arrogue were at Ciro's with Maria Montez and Jean Pierre Aumont. Norma looked like a fashion model in her new French creation. She and Marty go back to Europe in September, taking Katie Thalberg with them.

Dr. Kinsey comes to Hollywood in August to gather material for his new book. No, he isn't going to try to sell his book to the movies!

Buster Keaton, who was the Red Skelton of his day, is in Red's picture, "The Southern Yankee," at MGM.

I know someone who is glad to be in Hollywood—and his name is Charles Boyer. He really had the bobby-soxers giving him the big chase in New York wherever he went.

Marlene Dietrich, who had consented to do a layout for a pictorial magazine, said a big "No," when they wanted to photograph her legs and bill her as the most glamorous grandmother in America.

Tay Garnett and Actress Dorothy Haas were at a table for two at the Fox and Hounds Cafe.

That's all today.

Stassen Listed For Quiz On MBS With "Meet The Press"

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, May 6—As most of the networks are now carrying what they identify as presidential candidate series under one title or the other, that on MBS is being continued Friday night with Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota. The MBS series is being conducted in its regular 10 o'clock Meet the Press, in which a panel of four newspapermen serve as the questioners.

The broadcast is to originate from Washington and is expected to include questions about the primary results in Ohio, in which Stassen was a contender against that state's native son, Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Previously listed for last week, then changed at the last minute or something, Henry Morgan of ABC again has been put down to be the NBC guest in Mystery Theater at 10. He is billed to act in a scary piece labeled "The Inescapeable Corpse." Instead of his usual funny man role, Morgan is "to play it straight and be heard as an embittered, out-of-work musician who kills in a moment of fury and then tries to cover his crime."

It will be Part II for "Kidnapped" by Robert Louis Stevenson in the Great Novels series on NBC at 11:30.

Art Linkletter of People are Funny (haha) still has been unable to find some one to answer that riddle he is now putting forth on NBC each week. He will be back again at 9 for another try with contestants billed to get a chance.

The Godfrey Cartel

Arthur Godfrey

Arthur Godfrey, a candidate for anti-trust prosecution if ever I saw one, is on the Columbia Broadcasting System approximately all day and all night. In addition, he's on WCBS in New York around 6 a. m. and stays there for hours, I'm told by people who get up that early. Since the last time I wrote a column about him, he's become almost as famous as Dr. Kinsey and has earned roughly his weight in emeralds. There isn't space here for the whole unexpurgated Godfrey. Just a few notes, Recently there have been bleats of alarm from the talent-hunting shows. Godfrey's Talent Scouts, Paul Whiteman's On Stage America, and N. B. C.'s Big Break—that there doesn't seem to be enough talent to go around and the way they're burning it up I'm not at all surprised. After listening to a Godfrey show on Monday, it's not hard to see what they mean.

Godfred presented a baritone, a blind English pianist, a Norwegian soprano, and a quartette called the Vibrinaires. (A quartette that didn't end its name in "aires" would be ruled off the turf as quickly as a horse named Dobbin.)

The baritone was about as good as any of the music students you can hear on warm summer nights through the open windows around Carnegie Hall bellowing about flying fish and Mandalay. The Norwegian soprano sang "Oh, Give Me Something to Remember You By" as if she were leaning against a piano, wringing a handkerchief. The Vibrinaires dashed through "Exactly Like You" not much better than the quartettes around Bleecks at 3 a. m. The English pianist was creditable on "Body and Soul," good enough, I'd say for any nightclub. He already has a nightclub job so this won't help him much except to a better nightclub.

Nevertheless there were three winners—the baritone got lost somehow—and the next day they all appeared on Godfrey's morning show (C. B. S. 11 a. m. E. D. T. Mondays through Fridays.) The blind pianist played "Body and Soul," the Norwegian girl was still seeking something to remember him by the Vibrinaires, a versatile crew, tried something new. The talent pool, in this case, was not only small, but of exceedingly limited repertoire. I've no objection to Godfrey spreading himself around C. B. S. so generously but I don't think it's wise to disperse the unknown talent all over the network that way.

Godfrey, of course, punches commercials around and succeeds in kidding the advertising and selling the product at the same time. As a sample, here is Godfrey on Lipton's Soup Mix, which, believe it or not, comes in an envelope.

"Lipton's is a happy soup. You see when soup comes in cans it's repressed. It can't move around or anything interesting. Lipton's soup mix is different. It can take a trip up to the corner of the enevlope to see what's going on. It has an interesting existence. Naturally an interesting soup is going to taste better than one that has become neurotic through being canned.

"When the soup is boiling the fun really starts. The noodles swirl around on top and wash each other's backs. The male noodles teach the females how to swim. It's wonderful."

That is perhaps a little too elfin for everyone's taste but it's certainly a different commercial and it doesn't insult the soup. What effect it has on the Campbell's Soup people, one of the largest advertisers on C. B. S., who make that neurotic, canned stuff, I couldn't say.

Bewteen the morning and evening shows, I prefer the first one, one of the brighter spots in daytime broadcasting. Besides Godfrey, it offers a singer named Janette Davis who asks those plaintive questions you hear in popular song lyrics—"Was That The Human Thing To Do?"—as if she wanted to know the answers; and a band that plays novelty numbers with great zest. The rest of the show is turned over to Godfrey's civilized wit delivered in his barefoot voice.

I have a few complaints. Some of Godfrey's jokes are a little rough for the distaff crowd and others are just a little old for this crowd. Also, for his own good, Godfrey ought to edit his activities down to about half though heaven knows how C. B. S. would plug the holes.

Stassen Listed For Quiz On MBS With "Meet The Press"

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, May 6—As most of the networks are now carrying what they identify as presidential candidate series under one title or the other, that on MBS is being continued Friday night with Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota. The MBS series is being conducted in its regular 10 o'clock Meet the Press, in which a panel of four newspapermen serve as the questioners.

The broadcast is to originate from Washington and is expected to include questions about the primary results in Ohio, in which Stassen was a contender against that state's native son, Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Previously listed for last week, then changed at the last minute or something, Henry Morgan of ABC again has been put down to be the NBC guest in Mystery Theater at 10. He is billed to act in a scary piece labeled "The Inescapeable Corpse." Instead of his usual funny man role, Morgan is "to play it straight and be heard as an embittered, out-of-work musician who kills in a moment of fury and then tries to cover his crime."

It will be Part II for "Kidnapped" by Robert Louis Stevenson in the Great Novels series on NBC at 11:30.

Art Linkletter of People are Funny (haha) still has been unable to find some one to answer that riddle he is now putting forth on NBC each week. He will be back again at 9 for another try with contestants billed to get a chance.

Godfrey, of course, punches commercials around and succeeds in kidding the advertising and selling the product at the same time. As a sample, here is Godfrey on Lipton's Soup Mix, which, believe it or not, comes in an envelope.

"Lipton's is a happy soup. You see when soup comes in cans it's repressed. It can't move around or anything interesting. Lipton's soup mix is different. CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their kindness and helpfulness during the illness and following the death of Mrs. Lula B. Swauger. We also want to thank all those who sent flowers, donated the use of their automobiles and assisted in any way at the funeral.

WILLIAM E. SWAUGER & FAMILY, Jennings, Md.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Katherine Umstot, Westernport, who passed away three years ago today, May 7, 1945.

Till memory fades and life departs
You'll live forever in our hearts
Time takes away the edge of Grief but memory turns back every leaf.

MRS. DOROTHY HARMON,
MRS. VIRGINIA SMALL,
MRS. IRMA WHITE.

In loving memory of our daughter, Mary Louise Schanning, who passed away 12 years ago today, May 7, 1936.

We don't need a special day
To bring you to our minds.
The day that we don't think of you
Is pretty hard to find.

If this whole world belonged to us,
We'd give it, yes, and more,
To see your face just once again
Come smiling thru the door.

MOTHER & DADDY.

In loving memory of our Mother, Mrs. Rosa Fuller, who departed this life two years ago today, May 7, 1946.

We never shall forget you Mother,
While in this world we stay,
We hope that we shall meet again
When God calls us away.

Sadly missed by her CHILDREN.

In loving memory of our dear Father, Reuben E. Baker, who passed away ten years ago, May 7, 1938.

Today is a day of remembrance,
A day of sad regrets,
A day we will always remember
When the rest of the world forgets.

Sadly missed by the CHILDREN.

Stocks Stage Recovery As Truman Acts To Avert Railroad Walkout

NEW YORK, May 6—(AP)—Stocks generally negotiated a brisk recovery in today's market as the White House moved to avert the nationwide railway strike threatened for next week.

Dealings slowed now and then but active bidding intervals put the day's volume at 1,310,000 shares compared with 1,240,000 Wednesday. It was the 33rd day since March 18 with the total above the million level.

Peaks for 1948 were touched by Northern Pacific, which finished up 1⅛ at 24¾; Baltimore and Ohio three quarters at 14½, seaboard Oil two at 58½, Union Carbide 2¼ at 118 and Brooklyn Union Gas 1⅛ at 19¼ (on another rate boost).

Chrysler was off one eighth at 58 although directors, after the close, voted the usual quarterly payment on the stock.

Small declines were shown for Packard, Firestone Tire, Deere, American Can, DuPont, American Tobacco and Pacific Western Oil.

Railroad bonds pushed ahead and carried other groups along with them as a White House conference was called in an attempt to head off a rail strike.

United States governments were up slightly in over-the-counter dealings. The foreign dollar list was less active that the domestic but Brazilian bonds went ahead as much as three points and Chileans advanced as much as 1⅛.

The volume was $4,150,000 compared with $4,630,000 yesterday. The Associated Press index of utilities advanced .1 of a point to 100.7, a new 1948 high.

Stocks Stage Recovery As Truman Acts To Avert Railroad Walkout

NEW YORK, May 6—(AP)—Stocks generally negotiated a brisk recovery in today's market as the White House moved to avert the nationwide railway strike threatened for next week.

Dealings slowed now and then but active bidding intervals put the day's volume at 1,310,000 shares compared with 1,240,000 Wednesday. It was the 33rd day since March 18 with the total above the million level.

Peaks for 1948 were touched by Northern Pacific, which finished up 1⅛ at 24¾; Baltimore and Ohio three quarters at 14½, seaboard Oil two at 58½, Union Carbide 2¼ at 118 and Brooklyn Union Gas 1⅛ at 19¼ (on another rate boost).

Chrysler was off one eighth at 58 although directors, after the close, voted the usual quarterly payment on the stock.

Small declines were shown for Packard, Firestone Tire, Deere, American Can, DuPont, American Tobacco and Pacific Western Oil.

Railroad bonds pushed ahead and carried other groups along with them as a White House conference was called in an attempt to head off a rail strike.

United States governments were up slightly in over-the-counter dealings. The foreign dollar list was less active that the domestic but Brazilian bonds went ahead as much as three points and Chileans advanced as much as 1⅛.

The volume was $4,150,000 compared with $4,630,000 yesterday. The Associated Press index of utilities advanced .1 of a point to 100.7, a new 1948 high.

Petition Signers Agreed To Vote For Wallace

Boone Says Names Can't Be Removed

Signers of the petitions for national and congressional "Third Party" candidates in Maryland did more than merely sign petitions to place the names of these men on ballots, but also agreed that they "intend to vote for said persons nominated hereby," according to J. P. Brock, administrative assistant to the secretary of state, the Associated Press reported.

At the same time Secretary of State Bertram Boone, II, stated, Marylanders who signed nominating petitions for Wallace for president and for Third Party congressional candidates signed for good and their names cannot be removed.

Secretary Boone released an opinion of the State Law Department which held that names cannot be withdrawn from petitions after they have been filed. His office reported that about 25 persons have asked to have their names erased.

The Progressive Party of Maryland last month turned in petitions backing Henry A. Wallace for president and Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho for vice president. Spokesmen claimed more than 8,000 signatures, plus well over the required 1,500 for each of three congressional candidates.

More than 2,000 names were claimed on petitions for Socialist party electors for president and vice president.

The law department cited an old Court of Appeals decision in its ruling. Based on an 1896 act, it held "there was no authority for the Board of Supervisors of Elections, at the request of anyone, to erase names from such a certificate."

In the meantime, local signers of the petitions, whose names were published in the NEWS May 3, are still requesting that they be removed. To date a total of 30 of the 232 published signers have made the request of the NEWS.

Among those contacting the News yesterday regarding their names on the petitions, was one young man who claimed he did not sign the petition and wants no part of the Communist Party or anything connected with it. His letter and statement follow:

BLAIR THOMPSON, 449 Pine Avenue, Cumberland. "My name appeared in the Cumberland News as a signer of a petition to have Henry Wallace's name put on the election ballot in November. To the best of my knowledge I did not sign any such petition. The only paper I remember signing was presented to me by two women over a month ago. They said the paper they asked me to sign had something to do with fixing the street I live on. I didn't pay much attention to it but I know that I was not told it had anything to do with Wallace. As I remember, I was given a blank piece of paper to sign. I am a registered Republican and want no parts of the Communist party or anyone connected with it. I want my name withdrawn from the petition. I am employed as a janitor at the W. W. Roberts apartments, 419 Washington Street."

FRANK ORBELLO, North Mechanic Street, Cumberland. "I should like to state and request that my name be withdrawn from the Wallace petition. I am a lifelong Republican and intend to continue to

Playground Assn. To Submit List Of Needed Material

Plans were made at last night's meeting of the Cumberland Playground Associations at City Hall to draw up a list of needed playground improvements at the next session May 20 and submit them to the Park Board for approval.

Member playground groups will be notified to prepare their individual requirement lists before the meeting so that the requests can be voted upon by the overall association on a priority basis.

Members will also be asked to submit copies of their individual playground rules at the May 20 meeting, according to Mrs. Vivian Turley, president.

Mrs. Edward Diehl of the North End Playground Association was elected secretary-treasurer without opposition. W. Edward Eichner was named to that post in absentia at the annual election in April, but he later notified the association he would be unable to serve.

Revisions in the bylaws, which were unanimously approved, are as follows:

1. From March through August, meetings will be held twice monthly on the first and third Thursdays. During the remaining six months, however, meetings will be held only on the first Thursday of each month. The original bylaws called for meetings twice monthly throughout the year.

2. Appointive officers shall be named by the president at the next regular meeting after the annual election. Previously such appointments were made at the election meeting.

3. A nominating committee shall be appointed at the February meeting. This is a new provision in the bylaws.

4. Each representative and alternate shall be appointed for one year, beginning with the November

The Weather

If you are looking for good weather today, the weatherman has some disappointing information for you, because he is again saying it will be mostly cloudy and mild, with showers ending in the afternoon or early evening. Cool weather is being forecast, so be prepared with a light coat and an umbrella. Each day this week, the mercury has come up one point, with Thursday's high recorded at 65 degrees. A low of 46 degrees was noticed during the night and at 10 o'clock, the mercury had slipped 11 degrees down to 54 and prospects were that it would slip still farther.

Health Officials Ask $36,481 In 1948-49 Budget

$30,116 Listed For Department Salaries

Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday he has received the 1948-49 budget request of the Health Department, which estimates that $36,481.66 will be needed for the 15-month fiscal year.

Although the 1947-48 Health Department appropriation was $25,800, Mayor Post pointed out that an additional city health nurse has been added to the staff and that allowance must be made for a 15-month fiscal period instead of the usual 12 months.

Of the total budget request, $30,116.66 is listed for salaries. Provision is made for $5,175 as compensation for a full-time assistant health officer. Dr. William F. McFarland is serving in that capacity on a part-time basis at present.

Other salaries are itemized as follows:

Clerk, $2,745; dairy inspector, $2,940; sanitary inspector, $2,940; assistant sanitary inspector $2,460; each of the four public health nurses paid by the city, $2,745; venereal disease clinic nurse, $375; janitor, $1,260; laboratory technician, $1,166.66 (share paid by the city); and clerk in the co-operative laboratory, $75.

The budget request estimates total expenses at $6,365, listing them as follows:

Auto travel and operation, $2,050; renovating Health Department quarters, $1,500; new car (trade-in basis) $1,200; Cumberland head clinic, $625; printing, stationery, $375; sanitation expense, $275; miscellaneous, $250; and telephone and telegraph, $90.

In addition, $2,150 is requested for mosquito control, which is a separate appropriation from that of the Health Department. Mayor Post said $1,750 was appropriated for that purpose last year, with a balance of $77 remaining at the close of the fiscal year March 31. Higher cost of chemicals and the longer fiscal year were indicated as reasons for the increased request this year.

Mayor Post said the only other budget request he has received to date is that of the Police Department. Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn has requested $214,555 for his department.

Salvaging Of B-17 Causes Small Fire

Ridgeley firemen were summoned to the Cumberland Municipal Airport in Wiley Ford yesterday morning about 11 o'clock when a small fire broke out in a self-sealing rubber gas tank of the partially demolished B-17 Flying Fortress.

John M. DelaGrange of Mountain Air Service, which is operating the airport on a lease from the city, said the flame from an acetylene torch set fire to the rubber tank, which had been blasted open in the process of destroying the airplane for salvage metal.

The flames were extinguished within a few minutes, he said, pointing out that the plane had been towed to the eastern end of the field, away from buildings and other ships, when the junking process started several weeks ago.

DelaGrange estimated only one more truck load of scrap remains to be salvaged from the plane, which was purchased by Abe Feldstein from the city for that purpose.

The B-17 was on display at the field for about two years as a war memorial.

State Police Probe Two Store Thefts

The theft of $44 from two stores in the outlying districts of Cumberland sometime between Wednesday night and yesterday morning was being investigated by Maryland State Police last night.

Entrance was gained to the Will's Creek tavern, Homewood Addition, after a window was broken, according to Trooper William Baker, investigating officer, who said $19 in bills was taken and $10 in change.

The second theft occurred at Bennett's Store, LaVale, according to Trooper Baker, where entrance was gained by the same bethods. Money totaling $15 was taken from the cash register, he said.

Both thefts were reported to State Police yesterday.

Local Negro Held For Questioning In Alleged Arson

Dishon Willis To Be Quizzed Today

Arrested for questioning in an alleged arson case on Greene Street late Wednesday night a man identified as Dishon Willis, negro, 343 Frederick Street, was being held in jail last night for further questioning, according to city police.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said Willis was picked up by Lt. James E. Van and Detective Ernest Powell at 3:25 a. m. after Mrs. Carrie Washington, 528 Greene Street, reported returning home and finding a fire started in an upstairs bedroom.

According to a report filed with the Detective Bureau, Mrs. Washington said she and a son were away from the house on a brief visit and when she returned she saw a light burning in the upstairs room.

Upon investigation, Mrs. Washington said, she found a fur coat, her husband's top coat and a chair cushion burning in the upstairs. She said she and her son extinguished the blaze which reportedly caused $60 damage.

Police said they were later informed that Willis was seen entering the Greene Street home by a rear door shortly before Mrs. Washington returned.

He was later reported seen running up Greene Street after emerging from the house. Unable to locate the suspect immediately, a pickup was issued for his arrest.

Detective Powell and Lt. Van arrested Willis at his home. He was booked at headquarters as "held for investigation." Authorities said he will be taken to the office of the State's Attorney for further questioning, probably today.

Authorities quoted Mrs. Washington as saying Willis has been "bothering" her for sometime since her husband is away from home.

Building Workers Continue Holiday

A conference held here yesterday between one of this city's largest general contractors and building trades union officials did nothing toward the resumption of major construction work which ground to a halt Monday after workers "went fishing."

One union official said there were "no results" from a meeting held by several Building Trades officials with the Vandegrift Construction Company yesterday afternoon.

A general agreement was reached last week on building trade wage increases of 25 cents with the exception of laborers who were offered a 15 cent increase.

An official of Local 616, Laborers Union, said last night that construction laborers want the same 25 cent boost granted to the other crafts.

The chief dispute apparently is on the date the new rate shall become effective on work already under way. In past years, rates became uniform on all work in about two months and one of the two largest contractors involved in the dispute said he had tentatively offered the new rates on all work by July 1.

Agreements on the rate and effective date have been reached with the majority of the local contractors, union sources said, adding that work on those jobs has not been interrupted.

Operations Normal At Picketed Plant

Although AFL unions representing workers at the Cement Products Company began to picket the establishment yesterday an official of the firm reported last night that yesterday's operations were normal.

The firm said 14 of the 20 workers who struck Monday were back at work and that six new men will be secured by Saturday to bring the working force up to 100 per cent.

The workers, represented by Local 453, Teamsters Union, and Local 616, Laborers Union, are demanding a 25 cent boost, and have refused a 10 cent increase offered and being paid by the firm.

All American Aviation, Inc., Tells Of Proposed Air Service Locally

All American Aviation, Inc., the air service authorized to operate in this area by the Civil Aeronautics Board, has outlined several conditions that were necessary before the company was granted permission to operate.

One of the stipulations was that the company prove its adequacy of airports at a majority of the points named and that some disposition of the present air pick-up routes be made to prevent duplicating the air mail services.

The company plans to provide short-haul passenger, mail and express air service to Cumberland. All American is operated under CAA Air Carrier Regulations of the type available to TWA, American and other scheduled airlines, since 1940.

The background of the company reveals that it has 180 employes at Pittsburgh and Wilmington and an additional 98 station operators are employed on a contract basis.

When the schedules are drawn up, and everything is definite, the company expects to construct waiting rooms and a ticket office on the local Air Field. It will be equipped with VHF radio transmitter and receiver for communication with base operations and aircraft.

The actual starting date is now a matter of further action on the part of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Conciliator Will Attempt To End Emery Bus Strike

C. S. Clevenger To Arrive Today

A federal conciliator is expected to arrive here this morning for an attempt to break the deadlock which halted operations of the Emery Motor Coach Lines in this area early Wednesday morning.

James Gormley, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America, AFL, who arrived here yesterday to assist the union in the settlement of the dispute, said Conciliation Commissioner C. S. Clevenger, Philadelphia, will arrive here this morning and will attend a union meeting scheduled at 11 a. m. in Allegany Trades Council Hall.

Union officials, he added, will meet at 10 a. m. at the same place and at that time will discuss the possibility of picketing. So far, he added, the union has not considered such action necessary.

Neither the company nor the union has made any attempts to arrange a meeting and it was understood that such arrangements will be left to Commissioner Clevenger.

The Emery unit of Cumberland Local 1110, Bus Drivers Union, met yesterday with Gormley to discuss the issues which led to the strike.

No attempt has been made by the firm to resume operations here and Willis Sams, chairman of the Emery unit, said Lawrence A. Roderick, Keyser, company division superintendent, informed the union the line will not run any buses out of Cumberland nor any through buses to this area out of Martinsburg. The union did report, however, that the firm yesterday drove three buses from the local garage to Martinsburg.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble yesterday announced that he had received a telegram from Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., urging him to meet with the Governor in Annapolis Monday. Text of the telegram follows:

"Meet with me at the executive office on Monday, May 10, at 11 a. m. to discuss holding of special session of the Legislature."

Kimble said the special session will concern legislation concerning the state's finances, as the next fiscal year begins in July. Kimble, who is minority floor leader of the Senate, said, "It's my guess," that the session may be called in the latter part of this month.

Pa. Police Will Probe Death Of Man In City

Roy Kennell Believed Victim Of Accident

An investigation into the death of Roy Kennell, 56, RFD 1, Hyndman, Pa., who died in Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon at 1:35 p. m., will be continued today, according to Pennsylvania State Police.

Kennell, a lumberman in Somerset County, Pa., was admitted to the hospital yesterday at 11:20 a. m. after Pennsylvania State Police said he was apparently run over by a truck at 12:05 a. m. Wednesday.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, who ordered an autopsy, said Kennell died of a cerebral contusion and shock and listed other injuries as fractures of the pubic bone, the left hip, a left rib, the left knee and a two-inch scalp wound.

Got Out Of Truck

Kennell, according to Pennsylvania authorities, was injured on a township road five miles east of Wellersburg, Pa., after he got out of a truck operated by his cousin, Jesse Kennell, same address.

Dr. Deming said from reports he has received, Kennell was killed in a mountain district and trouble was encountered in bringing the body to a physician in Hyndman.

Pfc. Peter Marenna, Ptnnsylvania State Police, questioned Jesse Kennell for a short time yesterday, according to officials at the Somerset headquarters, but was unable to learn details of the events that led to Kennell's injuries.

Pfc. Marenna said the dead man is believed to have gotten out of his cousin's truck in front of his home shortly after midnight, but was not discovered until 2 a. m. when his wife went to check moans she heard coming from the road.

Police said Jesse Kennell told them he was unaware of his cousin's injuries until he failed to report for work yesterday morning at a sawmill near their home.

Kennell, a native of Wellersburg and son of the late William and Effie Lepley Kennell, is survived by his widow, the former Naomi Emerick, 11 children, Idella, Washington; Mrs. Madiline Dom, Wellersburg; Mrs. Emma Bittner, Hyndman; Mrs. Marybelle White, Hyndman; Mrs. Ruth Imler, Ellerslie; Mrs. Alvene Bittner, Hyndman; Cpl. John Kennell, with the Army on Okinawa, and Marian, Gerald, Frances and Stanley, all at home; four sisters, Mrs. Pearl Emerick and Mrs. Clara Kennell, both of Hyndman, and Mrs. Jennie Weimer and Mrs. Viola Getz, both of Wellersburg, and six brothers, Albert, Wellersburg, and Guy, Robert, John, James and Clinton, all of Hyndman.

He was a member of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

A funeral service will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at Comps. Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Cumberland, will officiate and interment will be in Comps. The body is at the Zeigler Funeral Home, Hyndman.

County Cancer Drive Spurts

With the Allegany County Cancer Drive extended to May 15, it is hoped that the goal of $12,000 will be reached, according to a spokesman for the campaign.

At the present, $3,286 has been contributed toward the goal, an increase of over $1,000 since the drive was scheduled to end.

In the opening of the campaign, 1,800 personal letters were sent out to prospective contributors, but only 300 have responded thus far, the spokesman continued. Of this group, lawyers and school teachers have been the most prompt in contributing to the cause. The women outnumber the men about two to one as contributors.

In stressing the importance of making a good showing in the campaign, it is revealed that in 1944, cancer killed 89,005 women, a number equivalent to the entire population of Allegany County.

Sunday is Mother's Day and it is hoped that there will be an extra spurt in giving, in honor of thousands of American Mothers who have suffered and perished from this dread disease.

SPEAKER—Ralph Dusic, Romney, W. Va., president of the West Virginia State Moose Association, will be guest speaker at the class initiation of Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose here, Sunday at 7 p. m. The class is being instituted in honor of Mothers' Day, and includes 25 candidates. The annual Mother's Day program of the local lodge will be held at the Moose Home at 3 p. m. Sunday afternoon, with the public invited.

Threatened Strike Will Cause Shutdown

The Baltimore and Ohio will operate only emergency trains, and 50,000 of the company's 65,000 employes on the system will be furloughed if the threatened strike of enginemen and switchmen goes on as scheduled next Tuesday.

H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, said last night he has been notified by Roy B. White, road president, that furlough notices are to be posted immediately, with the furlough to become effective at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday.

This will mean, Wyatt explained, that men in the back shops, round house, bolt and forge plant and practically all office personnel and other employes in this area will be laid off. The shops, and bolt and forge will be closed completely, with only watchmen firemen and a few key men remaining on duty. The furlough will extend to practically all but supervisory employes, it was stated.

White Sends Order

President White sent an order to department heads throughout the 11-state system to furlough all but a few emergency employes. His order said, "with the strike of enginemen and switchmen called for 6 a. m. Tuesday, May 11, stopping all traffic and revenue, it will be necessary to furlough all employes in all departments effective at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday, May 12, retaining on duty only department heads to stand by for further orders and such forces as considered necessary under the circumstances."

White earlier sent a letter "to all employes" advising that many of them might be laid off if the strike took effect.

In it he said:

"If the threatened strike takes place, the small net earnings of our company during the first three months of this year will be wiped out.

"The actions of the representatives of the firemen and engineers constitutes an inexcusable disregard of the orderly handling of such matters and an absolute disregard of the mutual interests of their fellow employes and their company. They cannot justify their position in demanding more than 90 per cent of all railroad employes already have accepted and received."

The railroad furloughed 17,000 workers when the recent coal field work stoppage curtailed traffic. About 8,500 of these have been called back to work but the others are still idle.

The local division has recalled about half of the more than 1,000 men furloughed during the coal mine dispute.

Total Furlough Undetermined

Wyatt said last night he does not yet know the total number to be furloughed on the Cumberland Division, and has a meeting today with department heads to work out details. He said very few will remain at work if the strike materializes, and the number to be furloughed

Petition Signers Agreed To Vote For Wallace

Boone Says Names Can't Be Removed

Signers of the petitions for national and congressional "Third Party" candidates in Maryland did more than merely sign petitions to place the names of these men on ballots, but also agreed that they "intend to vote for said persons nominated hereby," according to J. P. Brock, administrative assistant to the secretary of state, the Associated Press reported.

At the same time Secretary of State Bertram Boone, II, stated, Marylanders who signed nominating petitions for Wallace for president and for Third Party congressional candidates signed for good and their names cannot be removed.

Secretary Boone released an opinion of the State Law Department which held that names cannot be withdrawn from petitions after they have been filed. His office reported that about 25 persons have asked to have their names erased.

The Progressive Party of Maryland last month turned in petitions backing Henry A. Wallace for president and Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho for vice president. Spokesmen claimed more than 8,000 signatures, plus well over the required 1,500 for each of three congressional candidates.

More than 2,000 names were claimed on petitions for Socialist party electors for president and vice president.

The law department cited an old Court of Appeals decision in its ruling. Based on an 1896 act, it held "there was no authority for the Board of Supervisors of Elections, at the request of anyone, to erase names from such a certificate."

In the meantime, local signers of the petitions, whose names were published in the NEWS May 3, are still requesting that they be removed. To date a total of 30 of the 232 published signers have made the request of the NEWS.

Among those contacting the News yesterday regarding their names on the petitions, was one young man who claimed he did not sign the petition and wants no part of the Communist Party or anything connected with it. His letter and statement follow:

BLAIR THOMPSON, 449 Pine Avenue, Cumberland. "My name appeared in the Cumberland News as a signer of a petition to have Henry Wallace's name put on the election ballot in November. To the best of my knowledge I did not sign any such petition. The only paper I remember signing was presented to me by two women over a month ago. They said the paper they asked me to sign had something to do with fixing the street I live on. I didn't pay much attention to it but I know that I was not told it had anything to do with Wallace. As I remember, I was given a blank piece of paper to sign. I am a registered Republican and want no parts of the Communist party or anyone connected with it. I want my name withdrawn from the petition. I am employed as a janitor at the W. W. Roberts apartments, 419 Washington Street."

FRANK ORBELLO, North Mechanic Street, Cumberland. "I should like to state and request that my name be withdrawn from the Wallace petition. I am a lifelong Republican and intend to continue to

Health Officials Ask $36,481 In 1948-49 Budget

$30,116 Listed For Department Salaries

Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday he has received the 1948-49 budget request of the Health Department, which estimates that $36,481.66 will be needed for the 15-month fiscal year.

Although the 1947-48 Health Department appropriation was $25,800, Mayor Post pointed out that an additional city health nurse has been added to the staff and that allowance must be made for a 15-month fiscal period instead of the usual 12 months.

Of the total budget request, $30,116.66 is listed for salaries. Provision is made for $5,175 as compensation for a full-time assistant health officer. Dr. William F. McFarland is serving in that capacity on a part-time basis at present.

Other salaries are itemized as follows:

Clerk, $2,745; dairy inspector, $2,940; sanitary inspector, $2,940; assistant sanitary inspector $2,460; each of the four public health nurses paid by the city, $2,745; venereal disease clinic nurse, $375; janitor, $1,260; laboratory technician, $1,166.66 (share paid by the city); and clerk in the co-operative laboratory, $75.

The budget request estimates total expenses at $6,365, listing them as follows:

Auto travel and operation, $2,050; renovating Health Department quarters, $1,500; new car (trade-in basis) $1,200; Cumberland head clinic, $625; printing, stationery, $375; sanitation expense, $275; miscellaneous, $250; and telephone and telegraph, $90.

In addition, $2,150 is requested for mosquito control, which is a separate appropriation from that of the Health Department. Mayor Post said $1,750 was appropriated for that purpose last year, with a balance of $77 remaining at the close of the fiscal year March 31. Higher cost of chemicals and the longer fiscal year were indicated as reasons for the increased request this year.

Mayor Post said the only other budget request he has received to date is that of the Police Department. Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn has requested $214,555 for his department.

The flames were extinguished within a few minutes, he said, pointing out that the plane had been towed to the eastern end of the field, away from buildings and other ships, when the junking process started several weeks ago.

The B-17 was on display at the field for about two years as a war memorial.

State Police Probe Two Store Thefts

The theft of $44 from two stores in the outlying districts of Cumberland sometime between Wednesday night and yesterday morning was being investigated by Maryland State Police last night.

Entrance was gained to the Will's Creek tavern, Homewood Addition, after a window was broken, according to Trooper William Baker, investigating officer, who said $19 in bills was taken and $10 in change.

The second theft occurred at Bennett's Store, LaVale, according to Trooper Baker, where entrance was gained by the same bethods. Money totaling $15 was taken from the cash register, he said.

Both thefts were reported to State Police yesterday.

Playground Assn. To Submit List Of Needed Material

Plans were made at last night's meeting of the Cumberland Playground Associations at City Hall to draw up a list of needed playground improvements at the next session May 20 and submit them to the Park Board for approval.

Member playground groups will be notified to prepare their individual requirement lists before the meeting so that the requests can be voted upon by the overall association on a priority basis.

Members will also be asked to submit copies of their individual playground rules at the May 20 meeting, according to Mrs. Vivian Turley, president.

Mrs. Edward Diehl of the North End Playground Association was elected secretary-treasurer without opposition. W. Edward Eichner was named to that post in absentia at the annual election in April, but he later notified the association he would be unable to serve.

Revisions in the bylaws, which were unanimously approved, are as follows:

1. From March through August, meetings will be held twice monthly on the first and third Thursdays. During the remaining six months, however, meetings will be held only on the first Thursday of each month. The original bylaws called for meetings twice monthly throughout the year.

2. Appointive officers shall be named by the president at the next regular meeting after the annual election. Previously such appointments were made at the election meeting.

3. A nominating committee shall be appointed at the February meeting. This is a new provision in the bylaws.

4. Each representative and alternate shall be appointed for one year, beginning with the November

The Weather

If you are looking for good weather today, the weatherman has some disappointing information for you, because he is again saying it will be mostly cloudy and mild, with showers ending in the afternoon or early evening. Cool weather is being forecast, so be prepared with a light coat and an umbrella. Each day this week, the mercury has come up one point, with Thursday's high recorded at 65 degrees. A low of 46 degrees was noticed during the night and at 10 o'clock, the mercury had slipped 11 degrees down to 54 and prospects were that it would slip still farther.

Local Negro Held For Questioning In Alleged Arson

Dishon Willis To Be Quizzed Today

Arrested for questioning in an alleged arson case on Greene Street late Wednesday night a man identified as Dishon Willis, negro, 343 Frederick Street, was being held in jail last night for further questioning, according to city police.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said Willis was picked up by Lt. James E. Van and Detective Ernest Powell at 3:25 a. m. after Mrs. Carrie Washington, 528 Greene Street, reported returning home and finding a fire started in an upstairs bedroom.

According to a report filed with the Detective Bureau, Mrs. Washington said she and a son were away from the house on a brief visit and when she returned she saw a light burning in the upstairs room.

Upon investigation, Mrs. Washington said, she found a fur coat, her husband's top coat and a chair cushion burning in the upstairs. She said she and her son extinguished the blaze which reportedly caused $60 damage.

Police said they were later informed that Willis was seen entering the Greene Street home by a rear door shortly before Mrs. Washington returned.

He was later reported seen running up Greene Street after emerging from the house. Unable to locate the suspect immediately, a pickup was issued for his arrest.

Detective Powell and Lt. Van arrested Willis at his home. He was booked at headquarters as "held for investigation." Authorities said he will be taken to the office of the State's Attorney for further questioning, probably today.

Authorities quoted Mrs. Washington as saying Willis has been "bothering" her for sometime since her husband is away from home.

Building Workers Continue Holiday

A conference held here yesterday between one of this city's largest general contractors and building trades union officials did nothing toward the resumption of major construction work which ground to a halt Monday after workers "went fishing."

One union official said there were "no results" from a meeting held by several Building Trades officials with the Vandegrift Construction Company yesterday afternoon.

A general agreement was reached last week on building trade wage increases of 25 cents with the exception of laborers who were offered a 15 cent increase.

An official of Local 616, Laborers Union, said last night that construction laborers want the same 25 cent boost granted to the other crafts.

The chief dispute apparently is on the date the new rate shall become effective on work already under way. In past years, rates became uniform on all work in about two months and one of the two largest contractors involved in the dispute said he had tentatively offered the new rates on all work by July 1.

Agreements on the rate and effective date have been reached with the majority of the local contractors, union sources said, adding that work on those jobs has not been interrupted.

Operations Normal At Picketed Plant

Although AFL unions representing workers at the Cement Products Company began to picket the establishment yesterday an official of the firm reported last night that yesterday's operations were normal.

The firm said 14 of the 20 workers who struck Monday were back at work and that six new men will be secured by Saturday to bring the working force up to 100 per cent.

The workers, represented by Local 453, Teamsters Union, and Local 616, Laborers Union, are demanding a 25 cent boost, and have refused a 10 cent increase offered and being paid by the firm.

All American Aviation, Inc., Tells Of Proposed Air Service Locally

All American Aviation, Inc., the air service authorized to operate in this area by the Civil Aeronautics Board, has outlined several conditions that were necessary before the company was granted permission to operate.

One of the stipulations was that the company prove its adequacy of airports at a majority of the points named and that some disposition of the present air pick-up routes be made to prevent duplicating the air mail services.

The company plans to provide short-haul passenger, mail and express air service to Cumberland. All American is operated under CAA Air Carrier Regulations of the type available to TWA, American and other scheduled airlines, since 1940.

The background of the company reveals that it has 180 employes at Pittsburgh and Wilmington and an additional 98 station operators are employed on a contract basis.

When the schedules are drawn up, and everything is definite, the company expects to construct waiting rooms and a ticket office on the local Air Field. It will be equipped with VHF radio transmitter and receiver for communication with base operations and aircraft.

The actual starting date is now a matter of further action on the part of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Conciliator Will Attempt To End Emery Bus Strike

C. S. Clevenger To Arrive Today

A federal conciliator is expected to arrive here this morning for an attempt to break the deadlock which halted operations of the Emery Motor Coach Lines in this area early Wednesday morning.

James Gormley, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America, AFL, who arrived here yesterday to assist the union in the settlement of the dispute, said Conciliation Commissioner C. S. Clevenger, Philadelphia, will arrive here this morning and will attend a union meeting scheduled at 11 a. m. in Allegany Trades Council Hall.

Union officials, he added, will meet at 10 a. m. at the same place and at that time will discuss the possibility of picketing. So far, he added, the union has not considered such action necessary.

Neither the company nor the union has made any attempts to arrange a meeting and it was understood that such arrangements will be left to Commissioner Clevenger.

The Emery unit of Cumberland Local 1110, Bus Drivers Union, met yesterday with Gormley to discuss the issues which led to the strike.

No attempt has been made by the firm to resume operations here and Willis Sams, chairman of the Emery unit, said Lawrence A. Roderick, Keyser, company division superintendent, informed the union the line will not run any buses out of Cumberland nor any through buses to this area out of Martinsburg. The union did report, however, that the firm yesterday drove three buses from the local garage to Martinsburg.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble yesterday announced that he had received a telegram from Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., urging him to meet with the Governor in Annapolis Monday. Text of the telegram follows:

"Meet with me at the executive office on Monday, May 10, at 11 a. m. to discuss holding of special session of the Legislature."

Kimble said the special session will concern legislation concerning the state's finances, as the next fiscal year begins in July. Kimble, who is minority floor leader of the Senate, said, "It's my guess," that the session may be called in the latter part of this month.

Record Furlough Looms On Entire B & O System

Threatened Strike Will Cause Shutdown

The Baltimore and Ohio will operate only emergency trains, and 50,000 of the company's 65,000 employes on the system will be furloughed if the threatened strike of enginemen and switchmen goes on as scheduled next Tuesday.

H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, said last night he has been notified by Roy B. White, road president, that furlough notices are to be posted immediately, with the furlough to become effective at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday.

This will mean, Wyatt explained, that men in the back shops, round house, bolt and forge plant and practically all office personnel and other employes in this area will be laid off. The shops, and bolt and forge will be closed completely, with only watchmen firemen and a few key men remaining on duty. The furlough will extend to practically all but supervisory employes, it was stated.

White Sends Order

President White sent an order to department heads throughout the 11-state system to furlough all but a few emergency employes. His order said, "with the strike of enginemen and switchmen called for 6 a. m. Tuesday, May 11, stopping all traffic and revenue, it will be necessary to furlough all employes in all departments effective at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday, May 12, retaining on duty only department heads to stand by for further orders and such forces as considered necessary under the circumstances."

White earlier sent a letter "to all employes" advising that many of them might be laid off if the strike took effect.

In it he said:

"If the threatened strike takes place, the small net earnings of our company during the first three months of this year will be wiped out.

"The actions of the representatives of the firemen and engineers constitutes an inexcusable disregard of the orderly handling of such matters and an absolute disregard of the mutual interests of their fellow employes and their company. They cannot justify their position in demanding more than 90 per cent of all railroad employes already have accepted and received."

The railroad furloughed 17,000 workers when the recent coal field work stoppage curtailed traffic. About 8,500 of these have been called back to work but the others are still idle.

The local division has recalled about half of the more than 1,000 men furloughed during the coal mine dispute.

Total Furlough Undetermined

Wyatt said last night he does not yet know the total number to be furloughed on the Cumberland Division, and has a meeting today with department heads to work out details. He said very few will remain at work if the strike materializes, and the number to be furloughed

Pa. Police Will Probe Death Of Man In City

Roy Kennell Believed Victim Of Accident

An investigation into the death of Roy Kennell, 56, RFD 1, Hyndman, Pa., who died in Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon at 1:35 p. m., will be continued today, according to Pennsylvania State Police.

Kennell, a lumberman in Somerset County, Pa., was admitted to the hospital yesterday at 11:20 a. m. after Pennsylvania State Police said he was apparently run over by a truck at 12:05 a. m. Wednesday.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, who ordered an autopsy, said Kennell died of a cerebral contusion and shock and listed other injuries as fractures of the pubic bone, the left hip, a left rib, the left knee and a two-inch scalp wound.

Got Out Of Truck

Kennell, according to Pennsylvania authorities, was injured on a township road five miles east of Wellersburg, Pa., after he got out of a truck operated by his cousin, Jesse Kennell, same address.

Dr. Deming said from reports he has received, Kennell was killed in a mountain district and trouble was encountered in bringing the body to a physician in Hyndman.

Pfc. Peter Marenna, Ptnnsylvania State Police, questioned Jesse Kennell for a short time yesterday, according to officials at the Somerset headquarters, but was unable to learn details of the events that led to Kennell's injuries.

Pfc. Marenna said the dead man is believed to have gotten out of his cousin's truck in front of his home shortly after midnight, but was not discovered until 2 a. m. when his wife went to check moans she heard coming from the road.

Police said Jesse Kennell told them he was unaware of his cousin's injuries until he failed to report for work yesterday morning at a sawmill near their home.

Kennell, a native of Wellersburg and son of the late William and Effie Lepley Kennell, is survived by his widow, the former Naomi Emerick, 11 children, Idella, Washington; Mrs. Madiline Dom, Wellersburg; Mrs. Emma Bittner, Hyndman; Mrs. Marybelle White, Hyndman; Mrs. Ruth Imler, Ellerslie; Mrs. Alvene Bittner, Hyndman; Cpl. John Kennell, with the Army on Okinawa, and Marian, Gerald, Frances and Stanley, all at home; four sisters, Mrs. Pearl Emerick and Mrs. Clara Kennell, both of Hyndman, and Mrs. Jennie Weimer and Mrs. Viola Getz, both of Wellersburg, and six brothers, Albert, Wellersburg, and Guy, Robert, John, James and Clinton, all of Hyndman.

He was a member of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

A funeral service will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at Comps. Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Cumberland, will officiate and interment will be in Comps. The body is at the Zeigler Funeral Home, Hyndman.

County Cancer Drive Spurts

With the Allegany County Cancer Drive extended to May 15, it is hoped that the goal of $12,000 will be reached, according to a spokesman for the campaign.

At the present, $3,286 has been contributed toward the goal, an increase of over $1,000 since the drive was scheduled to end.

In the opening of the campaign, 1,800 personal letters were sent out to prospective contributors, but only 300 have responded thus far, the spokesman continued. Of this group, lawyers and school teachers have been the most prompt in contributing to the cause. The women outnumber the men about two to one as contributors.

In stressing the importance of making a good showing in the campaign, it is revealed that in 1944, cancer killed 89,005 women, a number equivalent to the entire population of Allegany County.
